EDITORIAL.

○NCE more this Year Book brings with it our message of good cheer to all our Members. We write, it is true, in less optimistic vein than has usually been the case. Last year we were able to boast that we had reached our high water mark of membership, and that no less than 609 subscriptions had been paid; this year we look with some dismay on a poor total of 256. The cause of this decline is not far to seek; it is the result of thoughtlessness alone. Even the most conscientious of income-tax payers is loth to part with money at the first time of asking, and we have so spoiled our members that they regularly wait for a second request before they think of paying their subscriptions. No urgent second demand was sent out this year—and the result is before us.

* * * *

It is surely sufficiently evident that no society such as ours can exist on ideals alone; we must pay our way or cease to be. We believe that almost all Old Boys look forward with keen pleasure to the coming of "The Stocktonian." Now our finances are in such an unsatisfactory condition that it will actually be a matter of some difficulty to pay for its production this year. The moral is surely obvious. The subscription is purposely kept very low in order that no Old Boy may have any excuse for not becoming a member of the Association. Let every member see that his subscription is paid forthwith to the Treasurer at the School, and further let him register a vow that he will amend and pay more promptly in the future.

* * * *

It is with unusual pleasure that we welcome Dr. E. Mackenzie-Taylor, D.Sc., Ph.D., M.B.E., as President of the Old Stocktonians for the coming year. Dr. Mackenzie-Taylor was for some years head of an agricultural college in Egypt, where valuable research work was done in connection with the conditions of growth of the cotton plant. He is now lecturer in Agricultural Chemistry at the University of Cambridge. The choice of Dr. Mackenzie-Taylor marks a new departure in the policy of the Association. Hitherto it has been the custom to choose an Old Boy President who was resident in the district. Our new President will be with us at certain of our most important functions: for other occasions he has able deputies who will represent him.

* * * *

Our Old Boys honour us by their successes in after life, and in our turn we delight to honour them. We trust that it will not be considered invidious if we select three from among the successes of the past year for special mention. Mr. Aynsley Crawford, who had already taken his degree of Master of Science, has now become a Doctor of Philosophy of the University of Durham. Dr. Crawford holds an appointment as Research Chemist at H.M. Fuel Research Station, Greenwich. Mr. T. Hagyard, has recently graduated B.Sc. of the University of London with First Class Honours in Chemistry. Mr. Hagyard, who was formerly employed by Messrs. Ashmore, Benson, Pease & Co., is now engaged in the research department of Messrs. Brunner Mond & Co. Mr. F. Hawley has taken his degree of B.A. with First Class Honours in French in the University of Liverpool, and was also awarded a research scholarship and, in addition, a studentship for research in Asiatic Studies tenable at the University of Berlin. Mr. Hawley is at present vigorously engaged in philological studies in various abstruse languages.

Thus, as our School advances from childhood to youth, from nonage to maturity, its sons gain distinction in an ever-widening range of activities. In addition to outstanding achievements in the realm of science our members are found occupying posts of responsibility and weight among the teaching profession and among the clergy, as solicitors and as doctors, in important commercial and technical enterprises. Especially have we been struck lately by the large number of Old Stocktonians who are to be sought on the high seas or in our colonies or foreign lands. Long and remarkable are the journeys which some copies of the "Stocktonian" will be called upon to make.

* * * *

A well-tryed friend, who is not an Old Boy, demands special mention here. From its earliest days the Old Stocktonians have had no more cordial friend than Robert Roger, Esq., J.P. His services have always been at our disposal—not seldom at some inconvenience to himself—and his kindly courtesy and unfailling tact have been a valued asset to the Association. In reproducing his portrait we give some slight indication of the high esteem in which we hold him, and of the gratitude which we feel for his constant helpfulness.

* * * *

We will not anticipate the pages which follow. Old Stocktonian and School activities will be found described and discussed in due order and in sufficient detail. This only would we add. The Senior School have been introduced recently to the Rugby Code, and many boys have found to their surprise that, instead of being the somewhat aimless rough and tumble which they had previously thought it, Rugby is a jolly good game. We look forward with interest to the near future when we embark upon a match programme.

* * * *

The snow lies on the ground outside as we write, high noon is but a pale reflex of summer twilight, the shops already display their piles of currants, raisins and spice, so that thoughts are carried forward—with something of alarm at the hurried flight of time—to the season of goodwill, to the toast of "absent friends." The "Stocktonian" travels to all such as an earnest of our kindly remembrance of them. To all friends, abroad and at home, young or old, rich and—not so rich—we send our united good wishes for the Christmas season, for health and prosperity in the coming year, for welfare and success at all times.

The 17th Annual Athletic Sports.

Friday, July 1st, 1927, inspired high hopes which were not destined to be fulfilled. Each year we have endeavoured to do a little better than the year before in some detail or other, and we had hoped that our guests would have had a thoroughly enjoyable field day on the Cricket Field. These dreams were washed away in the downpours which followed hard upon each other's heels on the chosen day, so that there remained nothing but to make what salvage was possible. It says much for the confidence which friends have in our ability to present an interesting programme that on the Victoria Football Ground, in unattractive weather and at such short notice, so large a crowd gathered for evening sports on Monday, July 4th.

Shorn as they were of their anticipated glories the events were at least interesting. No records were made—wind, occasional slight showers, and a poor ground were against any such. The cricket ball—a throw of 81½ yards against a strong wind—compared not unfavourably with Tot Olver's 1920 record of $86\frac{1}{2}$ yards. The Senior 100 Yards was disappointing in the number of entries, in the number of those who actually turned out and in the time recorded, and much the same might be said of the hurdles. Seniors in general do not show nearly such excited striving for their championship as do the juniors. Still this is not to say that Carr—school champion for the third time—was not a worthy representative; considering the conditions his times were very creditable. He won the mile race for the fifth time in succession—a record which should resist future attempts on it for a considerable time to come. In the Mile Race rather more competitors than usual grew tired and fell by the wayside; but this was not the case with young A. W. Walton, who, though only in his first year in the school, ran nobly and finished eighth. Perhaps he will have a try at that record of Carr's! F. J. Glover was a plucky—if somewhat timid—Junior Champion.

The Tug-of-War was infinitely less thrilling than usual, the Brown House being pulled all over the place in two straight pulls.

Mrs. G. Hall kindly and gracefully presented the Cups, Medals and Certificates, and after she had received a hearty cheer of gratitude the crowd melted away, and by about 9 o'clock peace had fallen on a much tried district.

School Swimming Sports.

The 16th Annual Swimming Sports were held in the Corporation Baths on Monday, October 17th, 1927. The sun shone brightly through the glass roof, and for once made the rather dowdy place look quite cheerful. A good number of friends breathed a rather purer atmosphere than usual and witnessed some very good swimming.

Unfortunately there was not much room for House excitement. Quite early in the proceedings the Brown House secured a substantial lead, which the Blue House were unable to reduce, though they too gathered a not contemptible number of genuine points. The Green House and the Red House also did some swimming, but had to be content with a point here and there, picked up for the most part in Learners' Breadths, Balloon Races, and such like minor events.

Once more O'Grady carried all before him. Of the six championship events he came in a pretty easy first in all except the Swimming Under Water. Many earnest young swimmers are looking forward more hopefully to next year's sports! Although heavily overweighted and overshadowed R. A. Walton, with four seconds in championship events, swam remarkably pluckily, and R. M. Aitken put up more than one good fight.

The Sports showed that a small faithful band in the School are loyal and earnest swimmers and are handing on worthily the torch of past times; but one cannot help feeling that the number might be larger. Too many in field and in water sports are content with shouting. And too many whose names appear on the programme do not bother to turn out.

At the end of the swimming Mr. T. W. Thubron presented the medals and certificates, and also the certificates gained for proficiency during the year to the successful competitors.

C.—Championship Event.

School Football and Cricket, 1926-27.

The School Football XI of 1926-27 enjoyed a most successful season, 12 matches being won and only 2 lost out of a total of 16 played. The Grammar Schools from Stockton and Gisborough, respectively, were each defeated twice, a similar fate also attending the efforts against us of Middlesbrough Junior Technical School and Hugh Bell School. A severe setback against St. Mary's College (away) was somewhat atoned for by a draw against the same team at home. All the games against the Hartlepool Schools were well contested, and mention should be made of a victory against the Old Boys' Second Eleven which was strengthened for the occasion by the inclusion of two or three first team representatives.

Of the players who did so well, we are told that Herrell in goal was, at times, slow to overcome an unfortunate nervousness during the first minutes of the game (we had not expected this from so eminent a public character); that Blair and Thompson, by reason of their lusty kicking and accurate tackling, constituted the most effective section of the team; that Watson, Carr and Briggs, by their untiring efforts, completed a sound defence; and that Millar, Brown, Suthern, Walton and Lowther played best when individual attempts were forsaken in favour of combined movements. Mention is made, too, of the fact that Lowther and Millar were speedy wingers, and that Suthern took the liberty of placing the ball in the net on 24 occasions. As far as our own judgment goes, we were particularly impressed by the play of Lowther, who was both artistic and effective.

When the disabilities under which we labour as regards a ground are considered, a creditable amount of success also attended the efforts of the Cricket XI, four matches being won out of the seven played. Gisborough were defeated twice, and single victories were also obtained against Great Ayton and Hartlepool. Our chronicler asserts that in the match against Great Ayton, the whole team played magnificently, bowling, batting and fielding being alike faultless. Later, however, speaking as a bowler, he admits that, on the season, the fielding left something to be desired. From the point of view of averages, Jackson, who played in only two matches, was top in batting with G. A. Thompson and Lowther a close second and third respectively. Suthern took the bowling honours, G. A. Thompson and A. Walton being only a fraction behind. The younger Thompson, who officiated as wicket keeper at some risk to his valuable person, also earned a meed of praise.

In concluding our report, we wish to bid "Good Bye" and "Good Luck" to two stalwarts who have for some years figured on School Cricket or Football groups. We refer to J. Carr and G. A. Thompson. Carr, of course, is better known by his successes on the running track, while Thompson specialised more on Cricket and Football. But each in his way was a fine athlete, and a fine sportsman, and the School will miss them much.

The Junior Forms League.

The Junior Forms' Trophy was won in the Autumn Term by Form IIIA. Sc., largely owing to the efforts of Jones, who took over the captaincy in the middle of the term from a captain who sometimes fell from grace so far as to fail to turn out himself. The experiment was tried of holding evening matches on Newtown Recreation Ground and Saturday matches on the new school "field." Junior Leaguers wish to extend their condolences to the Old Boys who, they understand, also use the upper pitch. The present writer has seen ever-enthusiastic goalkeepers scraped from head to foot, and knows of one member of IIIA Sc. team whose parents forcibly objected to the state of his raiment on two successive Saturdays; yet a fortnight later he was there among others.

In the Spring Term, IIIM under Captain Bullock won the competition. It is a great loss to school football that Bullock should have left the town. He appeared in House Matches at the end of term with credit to himself and to his House.

From many points of view, the most satisfactory feature of the year was, that in the Summer Term, the Cricket Shield was won by IIIB Sc. (Captain G Sharp). They had done far from badly in the football season, and it was satisfactory to notice that their efforts were at last crowned with success.

The thanks of the League are due to those seniors who so kindly turned out to referee matches; without their services the League could not be carried on.

House Matches 1927.

Local experts decided that the Red House—who could count on no less than eight of their 1926 team—would carry off the House Cup in 1927, and so it proved—but only just. Never before have the Houses been so closely matched. A little greater steadiness, a little more accurate marksmanship and any result might have been altered. The table of results will show that there is very little difference between the number of goals scored for and against each House. An abiding memory of this series of matches is of mud and water, of a heavy sticky ball and of well-besattered players.

Mention may be made of the exciting deciding match. Browns and Reds had each 3 points to their credit and lo! the wind was blowing very strongly, so that it was very much to their advantage when Red House won the toss. Nor were they slow to profit by their good luck, for, a quarter of an hour later, they were three goals to the good. It says much for the courage and good sportsmanship of the Brown House that they kept out their opponents for the remainder of the first half and in the second half scored two goals with the wind behind them. The finish was all excitement, but the Red House managed to hold off their opponents and won the match and the cup.

House patriotism is not so strong as we should like to see it. Boys should certainly be present to cheer on those who are representing their own House. A good chorus of encouragement has, ere now, given the spur to action which has resulted in victory.

School Tennis Tournament, 1927.

The Tournament this year attracted a gratifyingly large number of entries—37—as against 26 last year. The junior element was very noticeable, a fact which augurs well for future years. As a result a preliminary round was held, that these pocket Tildens might battle for the right to play against those “most grave and reverend signors” the seniors.

Among the juniors a word of commendation must be given to Glover, of the Third Form, who reached the third round of the tournament proper before succumbing to Gibson. He shows distinct promise and has plenty of time to improve.

The competition this year was very protracted on account of the astonishing summer weather of 1927. The problem which the atrocious weather presented to us was increased in difficulty when some of the competitors displayed a regrettable tendency to delay their matches for minor causes, perhaps thinking that their standard of play might meanwhile improve. Such an attitude is, to say the least, unsporting, and it is hoped that there will be an improvement in this respect next year.

The earlier rounds do not call for detailed comment. O'Grady, a first year player, caused somewhat of a sensation by reaching the third round; perhaps he was helped by the "inferiority complex" which his general athletic reputation induced in the minds of others. However, this "fair flower, untimely nipped i' the bud" perished at the hands—or racket—of Lowther. Watson and Gibson won their usual victories and entered the semi-final. Watson must feel that he is for ever "pursuing the unconquerable hope, still clutching the inviolable shade," for this is the third successive year in which he has reached the semi-final. Gibson is the holder of the cup.

It is surely a reflection on the athletic abilities of Stockton that only one of the semi-finalists lives at Stockton! Gibson hails from somewhere near Ferryhill, Watson from Dinsdale, and Lowther from Eaglescliffe. We understood that the fourth—Brown—was of more noble clay than ourselves. Brown comes from Grimsby, where his school motto was, significantly enough, "Res non verba." But we do not think that Grimsby has much to teach us in the matter of tennis.

The draw for the semi-final resulted as follows :—

Brown v. Gibson.
Lowther v. Watson.

In the first semi-final, played somewhere in the wilds of Ferryhill, Gibson was successful, winning 6—2, 6—3. No detailed report of this game has reached us.

The second semi-final was farcical in the actual play. Holidays had come and prevented the players from meeting, with the result that it was not until September 20th that the game was played. Both of the contestants obviously suffered from lack of practice, but stuck to their task in praiseworthy fashion. Throughout the game it rained heavily, and the writer, sheltered by a tree, felt happier than the contestants. Skilful play could not be expected in the circumstances, but there were occasional good rallies. Watson deserved his victory of 6—3, 6—3.

And here, alas! the story ends. Not once nor twice have attempts been made to play off this final, but no final has been played and now C. Watson has sought fresh fields of fair activity. Stoutly has he fought for years, and no injustice was done when it was decided that for 1927 C. Watson and J. T. Gibson should jointly hold the tennis cup.

Literary and Historical Society.

The Literary and Historical Society held another successful session. Mr. Rhys lectured on "North Wales," and L. S. Cunningham B. Sc., on "Protective Colouring." A new feature was introduced, for a prize of free admission to the Society was offered to the members who made the best speech on the Novelty Night. This prize was won by Stainsby by a speech on "A Late Lamented Friend." On two occasions Mr. Munday assisted in debates; on one of these he was opposed by Mr. Major, on the other by Mr. Armstrong. The latter

Mr. F. Hawley
Mr. R. W. Wears

Mr. N. E. Green

occasion will be remembered by members of the society on account of a bull committed by one of the opposition when he talked about "people poring over books with their heads in the air."

Among the members prominent as speakers throughout the session were Aitken, Stainsby, Knott, Shields, Harker, Hollis and O'Grady. It was good also to find that Metcalfe could now and again spare a night from the labours of Higher Certificate to devote to the Society. The usual party was held at Christmas and was, as usual, a success.

Chess Tournament.

Despite the fact that special efforts were made to induce boys to enter the competition, even if it were only to acquire match practice, there were but four names forthcoming. The first round was marked by wild play. On two occasions a queen was offered free gratis, and on one occasion the gift was not accepted.

Aitken beat A. P. Walker	2	0.
O'Grady beat Byles	2½	½

In the final O'Grady, last year's runner-up, won the first and third games, and he, therefore, takes possession of the "A. W. Welch" Shield for the coming year. Aitken, however, deserves a word of praise for his imperturbability and sound play. If the three and a half hours' sitting immediately after the school day caused any strain he showed no signs of it. Nor did his younger brother, the only one to remain of a vast crowd of juniors who assembled to see the final, but who dispersed upon Dr. Crockett's assurance that play was not likely to be exciting until after 6 o'clock when it approached the later stages.

O'Grady beat Aitken 2—1.

The School Speech Day, 1926.

The School Speech Day for 1925-26 was held in the Jubilee Hall, on 21st December, 1926, with the Vice-Chairman of the School Governors presiding, and many members of that body present on the platform. An evident change in comparison with preceding Speech Days was the restoration of prizes and certificates as tangible rewards to those who by their assiduity throughout the year had deserved well of the School. It is, of course, not to be lost sight of that the best reward of effort is not the memento carried away but its effect upon habits and character.

Dr. Crockett presented his report, which dealt with the various activities of the school in the session completed. He dwelt with pardonable satisfaction on the School's very striking success in the Higher School Certificate Examination and on the high proportion of University Scholarships which had been obtained as a direct result of that success. The annual value of these awards, he mentioned, was no less than £510. The Headmaster further referred to the achievements of Old Boys, remarking that they were prosecuting their studies at Universities so far apart as Durham and Paris, while those whose pursuits were not so academic were scattered throughout the habitable earth and sailed the seven seas.

The central figure of the evening was Professor F. J. Teago, D.Sc., M.I.E.E., who is believed to be the first Old Boy of the School to have presented the prizes on the occasion of a Speech Day. Professor Teago, who occupies the Chair of Electrical Machinery at the University of Liverpool, and was accompanied by his wife and son, took a keen pleasure in meeting once more some of the masters, happily still active and well, who had charge of him when a scholar of the School, and in his speech he recalled those days and, with the experience which had come to him since, was able to offer sage advice to the boys of the present generation, urging them to take full advantage of the opportunities at their disposal and to put their best energies into the tasks that lay to their hands. Professor Teago's kindness in travelling to Stockton was very highly appreciated by the Staff and Headmaster, and his counsel to the School, coming as it did from one who had been through the same mill, made a deep impression on the boys.

The School Choir sang twice, and the last item on a long programme was the presentation of the Falstaff scenes from Henry IV (Part I). The native ability of the actors, the careful coaching of Mr. King and Mr. Brooke, the provision of properties by Mr. Upton, and last, but not least, the kindness of the parents of the participants in preparing the necessary costumes, all contributed to a conspicuous success, while a fresh note was struck by the original and topical verse prologue contributed by Mr. J. W. Eden. Mr. Eden's ingenuity in rhyming and the modest stature of the reciter created just that atmosphere of happy anticipation which a dramatic company must ardently desire in its audience.

OLD BOYS' REPORTS.

Annual Lecture.

The Annual Lecture, delivered in the Jubilee Hall on February 25th, by Mr. Stafford Webber, on the "Humour of Punch," would scarcely claim to be the success of its predecessors, if one were to judge entirely by the size of the audience. We have grown so accustomed to having a crowded hall for this venture, that it proved a keen disappointment to see so many vacant chairs. Perhaps a graver disappointment was the sad realisation of the fact that had the Lecture Committee relied entirely on the help of members of the Association in the matter of sale of tickets, the Lecture would have proved a disastrous undertaking from a financial point of view.

The Lecture itself, like its predecessors, gave great delight to the vast majority of those present, if we are to judge from views expressed. It was exceedingly well delivered and abundantly and aptly illustrated; it touched adequately all sides of the development of "Punch" and was tinged from beginning to end with good spirits and jolly humour.

The Committee is anxious to bring to Stockton some of the greatest in the ranks of lecturers. In so doing, they realise the gravity of their undertaking, but trust that the necessary solid support will not be to seek.

Poor Kiddies' Treat.

Have you ever really encountered a genuine human boy who was really, genuinely and humanly "full," and who being "full" was prepared to acknowledge his happy state and protest against any sugared attempts whereby he might be made fuller? And do you really imagine that you could succeed within even liberal limits in estimating exactly the amount of Xmas fare in the shape of sandwiches, mince pies, cakes, and other toothsome dainties, and the number of gallons of tea necessary to enforce such a confession? The only authorities who have ever conducted serious enquiry in these matters are ourselves, and, after a series of experiments carried out over several years, while having learnt that we can extort, at one and the same time, a confession such as that stated above from 200 youthful inhabitants of Stockton, we confess that the ability to answer the second question is a secret locked in the heads and hearts of those Old Boys who assume the onerous, but happy, task of supplying the bulk of the good fare consumed. Last year, 200 poor children, as against 100 in the previous year, were entertained, or rather we should say, entertained us, in the School Gymnasium—converted by some mysterious agency into a glorious fairyland. As usual, there was a tremendous hurricane of boisterous mirth and cheerful noise, the latter intended for, and enjoyed as, music and dancing. We had, too, a Choral Competition, or, should we say, a festival of the Two Choirs which would have chilled the blood of Sir Henry Coward and roused the envy of Jack Hylton. The Association's own wizard was once more called on to mystify and amuse our happy guests, while Father Xmas, too, dropped in, as is his wont, looking a trifle taller and perhaps a little less plump than on the occasion of his last visit. Altogether, two very happy and entertaining evenings were spent—evenings that will live long in the memories of all those who were privileged to take part in them. We confess that we look on these occasions as the greatest events in the year, no less from the evident appreciation of our small guests as from the willingness to assist us which we encounter from every Old Boy. The two Old Stocktonians who first made the treat possible were, last year, reinforced by another great heart whose desire for anonymity we feel bound to respect; a supply of sweets came from the same generous source as before; and an appeal for a giant Xmas Tree (to meet a shortage at Bishopton) met with a ready response from an Old Boy at Longnewton, with whom we resumed auld acquaintance one fine Sunday morning. We are sometimes told that the Old Stocktonians' Association has not been worth while. We smile to ourselves as our thoughts turn to the School Gymnasium at Xmas time, ringing with the laughter of a hundred poor, but happy, youngsters.

Annual Dinner.

The Tenth Annual Dinner of the Association was held on the 30th December, in the Queen's Hotel. There was an attendance of forty-four, as against last year's fifty, but of these only thirty were Old Boys as distinct from members of the Staff and guests of the Association. Since the Dinner involved the Association in a loss of £5 it can scarcely be regarded as having been financially a success, though from the social point of view it left nothing to be desired.

The speeches were all of a very delightful quality. Mr. R. E. B. Williams, with his customary wit, spiced with a somewhat wilful inaccuracy as to facts, told us several intimate stories relating to certain honoured officials of the Association. To his toast of the Old School, the Headmaster responded in very happy vein. The toast of the Association, proposed with light touch and genial humour by Councillor Newton, was ably replied to by the President, Mr. N. Winn. The musical diversion was of the usual high quality.

It is our earnest wish that the numbers of the Old Boys attending the Eleventh Annual Dinner at the Queen's Hotel, on Thursday, 22nd December, will be considerably increased, so that the event may be regarded as a success from every point of view.

Old Stocktonians' Benevolent Fund.

At the date of the Association's Annual General Meeting last year, the balance in hand was £35 10s. 3d. Contributions, which included £10 10s. 0d. from the Association, £4 13s. 4d. balance in hand from the Children's Treat, and £3 15s. 0d. in repayments, totalled for the year £18 19s. 10d., so that the Charge side of the accounts shows a total of £54 10s. 1d. On the Discharge side, two grants were made amounting to £22. One of these grants members may recall as having been discussed at the Annual Meeting in 1926, though financially it comes under the past session's operation of the Fund. The balance in hand at the commencement of the present session was therefore £32 10s. 1d., a decrease, as compared with the corresponding period a year earlier, of £3 0s. 2d. It is pleasing to note, however, that this decrease was more apparent than real, because a sum of £9 3s. 5d. was due to the Trustees from the Honorary Treasurer to the Association, balance from the Children's Treat of 1926. This he had withheld pending the settlement at the meeting for 1927 of a matter outstanding. Actually, then, the balance from last year's operations is £41 13s. 6d., although the books for the period must show one of £32 10s. 1d.

The Trustees hope that their fellow-members will put forth every effort to make this year's concert a complete success and so strengthen the Fund at their disposal, and they take this opportunity of reminding the friends of the Fund that suggestions as well as contributions are welcome.

Football Club.

From a playing as well as from a financial point of view, the Old Stocktonians' Football Club of 1926-7 experienced a disastrous season. In order to keep down the individual expenses of members the entrance fee was fixed at 5s. This was not sufficient to meet the ordinary running expenses of the Club, and it was, therefore, necessary "to raise the wind" by other means. A dance, from which much was hoped, was arranged, but though this as a social function was enjoyable enough, yet it left our finances more unstable than before, and was remarkable for the absence of those sportsmen whom primarily it was designed to benefit. At the end of the season, too, several subscriptions remained unpaid, this being an oversight to which many Old Boys seem singularly addicted.

The first eleven played 22 matches, mostly under the auspices of the Stockton and District League, of which 2 were won, 15 were lost, and 5 were drawn, 39 goals being obtained against 65. While this record makes somewhat unpleasant reading, there were contributory causes to it, some of which were beyond our control. Illness robbed us of the services of L. Plummer and R. Idle, more or less severe accidents to C. Osborne, P. Bell, and F. Peers (captain) deprived us of three of our greatest stalwarts, and minor casualties were so common that it was seldom we finished a match with an intact eleven. Want of training was always painfully evident; in every match that the writer witnessed the Old Stocktonians were leading at half time, only to peter out to absolute nothingness in the second half. Changes of personnel were common with consequent lack of cohesion. Then again the state of the field was simply appalling. In many of our games our chief supporters were large flocks of seagulls, who shared the swimming facilities equally with the players.

Our best matches were against the very strong Bede College team. In the away game we got the first goal, then Osborne was carried off, and the end arrived with us defeated by 11 goals to 1. At home we scored the first three goals, only to be beaten by the odd goal in seven. Our two cup essays were short and inglorious, the ball on each occasion finding a resting place in our net 8 times. As individuals, the team did well. Harris was easily the best goalkeeper in the League, and week after week performed prodigies of valour. Lowery, A Bowey, Hopper, Howie, Nasby, and Olver were all good, and S. Llewellyn, Stonehouse, Barker, Lewis, Iley, J. Bowey, Lofthouse, and Clark were at times not wanting in distinction.

Still the fact remains that the team did not play as a team, but rather as eleven distinct units.

The second eleven did rather better, winning five out of fifteen matches played. Here again, however, there was the same lack of cohesion, and (dare we say it?) not always that sense of loyalty which an Old Boys' Association has every right to expect of its members. Of the players, L. Wood, Wedgwood, Reed, Noddings, Chapman, Moyes, Cowell, Redhead, Scott, Spink, Nicholson, Myers and Bragg made more or less regular appearances.

We have left till the last mention of R. L. Rice, who as Secretary performed an immense amount of work, played in all positions in both teams (and never badly) at the least possible notice, and generally set an example of grit and enthusiasm in the face of most discouraging circumstances.

Miscellaneous Items.

A beautiful simplicity and dignity always mark our observance of the "two minutes' silence" on November 11th. At a few minutes before eleven o'clock the boys are assembled in the Gymnasium facing the War Memorial. A hymn, a short address by the Headmaster, the laying of two evergreen wreaths by an Old Boy and by the Captain of the School, a reverent bowing of heads in the solemn silence, another hymn, the Lord's Prayer—and then a chastened school steals back to the class rooms.

* * * *

In the early part of the year, an Association Dance was held in the Maison de Danse. The arrangements were carried out by a Committee, over which Mr. R. Richardson presided. This gentleman is to be congratulated on providing what proved to be a very enjoyable function.

* * * *

The same Committee was also responsible for a Social Evening held in the School. So far as numbers permitted, this was also a success.

An exciting experience has recently befallen Teddie Harland, one of our seafaring members. Mr. Harland was on his way to Curaçoa, in the Dutch West Indies, when his vessel struck a rock. Only after four days did a kindly Dutch steamer put an end to a most unpleasant and dangerous situation.

It is with the greatest regret that we have to record the deaths of two Old Boys, under particularly sad circumstances.

SIDNEY GOODCHILD, of 14 Mitre Street, aged 27, was returning home from Wolverhampton on a motor cycle, when a car in front of him pulled up very suddenly. To avoid a collision, he was compelled to turn to the wrong side of the road, and while there he was run into by another cyclist. Both cyclists succumbed to their injuries on the day following the accident.

WILLIAM STEWART, of 13 Newlands Road, Eaglescliffe, aged 19, an apprentice on the S.S. Tynebridge, was in port at Campbellton, New Brunswick, and was sent ashore to make fast an additional steel cable from the ship to the wharf. He caught the line extended to him but somehow tripped and fell into the water. As he was a good swimmer, his shipmates were not immediately alarmed, but a lifebuoy was thrown to him and later a comrade jumped in to his rescue. It was some time, however, before his body could be recovered, and a doctor who was immediately available then pronounced life to be extinct.

We were in close touch with both boys, not only at School but afterwards when they were claimed by the world of work, and to some extent we were privileged to share their hopes and ambitions. Particularly was this the case with Stewart, who never failed to look us up between voyages (it seems only yesterday since he walked into School very proud of his first uniform). Goodchild was, of course, more sober and mature, while "Bill" retained that Peter Pan boyishness which so endeared him to all who knew him; but both were alike in that they promised to make fine men and useful citizens.

On the grief of the sorrowing parents we do not care to intrude. Very gently we assure them that our sympathy is with them, and, that by right of knowing and appreciating their boys, we claim a share in their sorrow.

Rules—Old Stocktonians' Association.

Revised October 30th, 1925.

1. The name of the Association shall be the "Old Stocktonians."

The "Old Stocktonians" aims at continuing friendships and preserving that spirit of comradeship which ought to exist among those who have been educated at the same school. These aims are to be achieved by means of social, recreative, and educational pursuits.

2. The Association shall be open to the Old Boys of the Stockton Secondary School and of the late Higher Grade School. Past and Present Masters are also eligible.

3. The government of the Association shall be vested in three Presidents, six Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, two Secretaries and a Committee of sixteen, together with the Secretary of each Sub-Section.

(a) The present and retired headmasters shall be Presidents ex officio.

The third shall be elected annually.

(b) All the other officials shall be elected annually.

(c) A member holding any office shall be eligible for re-election in the following year, in the same or any capacity.

(d) In Committee seven shall form a quorum.

(e) The Committee shall have power to co-opt any member or members at their discretion for the time being for any particular purpose.

4. The Committee shall have power to refuse membership to any applicant for admission or to ask any member to resign (after investigation by the Committee, and confirmation by a general meeting), whose conduct they consider such as to militate against the welfare of the Association.

5. Each section shall be self-governing and self-supporting. The Committee, however, shall have power to grant financial aid to any Section.

Each Section shall submit its programme to the General Committee for approval.

6. The annual subscription shall be one shilling, payable to any member of the Committee, before January 1st. In lieu of an annual subscription, a Life Subscription of twenty-five shillings may be made.

7. These Rules shall be altered only at the annual general meeting, and then only by a two-thirds majority; all motions of such alterations to be in the hands of the Secretaries four days before the date of such meeting.

8. The annual general meeting shall be held in September or October.

THE OLD SCHOOL.
