To the Old Boys.

I welcome this opportunity of conveying my warm thanks to the O.B.'s. who have had the kindly thought of calling on me and of expressing their good wishes. May I say that I am more than pleased at all times to receive visits from any and every O.B.? I want very much to meet and know all of you, because nothing, I take it, can encourage a headmaster more than to feel he has the interest and the goodwill of O.B.'s. behind him in his desire—tentative, no doubt, but none the less sincere and well meant—to help in the maintenance of a flourishing O.B.'s Association. For I am convinced that such an Association is an absolute necessity: no school worth talking about can or does afford to lose sight of its former pupils; and if the school is worth talking about—as ours surely is!—its former pupils cannot afford to lose sight of it. They realise that not only do they leave behind them friends who watch their careers and who rejoice in their successes, but also that they themselves bear a duty to their old school—a duty of love and of fidelity.

I have read with the greatest interest and sympathy of the various activities of the O.B.'s Association. Its aims and objects are assuredly worthy of the highest praise and the success achieved must indeed be gratifying to all. I shall regard it, therefore, as a real privilege if I may share in these activities, and if I may help, in so far as I possibly can, to foster the close and affectionate relationship so happily existing. There are so many things we might do for the benefit of the school and for its fair name. May I appeal, then, to all of you to help us here in school to that end: to pay us frequent visits and keep in touch with us; to come forward with plans and suggestions and advice; to assist us all to go forward from strength to strength so that indeed "vivat Schola Stocktonensis"?

J.R.K.

Mainly about ourselves.

It is pretty generally admitted that with a social system constituted as is that of to-day money plays a fairly important part in every day life. We, therefore, make no apology for opening our annual review with a reference to the question of subscriptions. As we write, our worthy treasurer is addressing scores of envelopes to dilatory Old Stocktonians who think so little of the humble shilling that they have decided that any time will do for the payment of so insignificant a sum; and, as usual, any time is no time. (Our treasurer is a perfectly well-meaning, unremunerated, hard-working gentleman, but he is not quite sure that he could not employ his time more profitably for the interests of the Association than in sending out second and third demands for the payment of subscriptions.) Now, at the general meeting of 1929, it was decided to raise the annual subscription to two shillings—surely a small enough sum for membership of an Old Boy Association—and those who, with prudential foresight, have paid in advance their subscriptions for 1930 are to be congratulated! But a word to the wise is said to be sufficient and we would repeat—and with increased urgency—our advice of last year that more of our members should avail themselves of the life-membership subscription. The amount of this remains unchanged at twenty-five shillings, and may, therefore, now be regarded as a bargain; dilatory members may indulge their bad memories in perfect confidence, for, having remembered to pay the life subscription once only, they may forget about subscriptions every succeeding year as long as they live (and the over-worked treasurer may go to the theatre, or amuse himself as he pleases, instead of spending his evenings addressing supererogatory envelopes).

And while we are on topics of routine business, may we ask all members who change their addresses to inform the secretary of the new address without delay. The list of addresses must be kept as nearly up to date as we can possibly manage or it loses a great deal of its value.

If Old Stocktonians are sometimes behindhand in the payment of their meagre subscriptions surely no similar body can boast of members who are more prompt, more openhanded and openhearted in their readiness to respond to the call of charity. We would not self-righteously labour this point but would make mention of a two-fold extension of their efforts. The kiddies' Christmas treat this year published an appendix in the form of a summer treat, when over 50 children were given a splendid day at Long Newton. The "big" lecture, the profits of which had formerly gone to the support of the Association funds, became this year a charitable effort, and all the takings without deduction were handed over to the Stockton and Thornaby Hospital. In recognition of the continued help given by the Old Boys, our senior secretary, Mr. E. Baldwin, has been elected a life governor of the Hospital.

Dr. A. Pickworth has kindly consented to continue to fill the office of President of the Association. Eulogy of Dr. Pickworth is superfluous, and we are convinced that the Old Stocktonians could have no more able and worthy Head and Representative. We are indeed glad that he is willing to continue in the office which he has so excellently filled.

* * * *

The successes of Old Stocktonians are recorded elsewhere—and, by the way, we should always be glad to receive early news of the successes of Old Boys, in every walk of life—but we should like to underline the success of Mr. E. L. Robson who, by securing the Travers-Smith Scholarship, has gained a prize which is eagerly sought in the legal world.

The school year, 1928-29, has been memorable for the departure of Dr. T. Crockett and the appointment of Dr. J. R. Kinnes to succeed him in the Headmastership. Dr. Crockett has gone to an important and responsible position as Headmaster of the William Ellis School, Gospel Oak. From the staff he accepted a small photograph of the school, to take with him to London, and consented to the hanging of an enlarged photograph of himself in the school. He asked that the school testimonial should take the form of increased subscription to the County Benevolent Fund. The Old Boys' presentation to him and to Mr. Allan have special record on another page of the Year Book.

Dr. Crockett left us at the end of May, and for the month of June Mr. J. W. Eden ably and smoothly carried on the school during four weeks of interregnum. At the end of the month he was able to congratulate the whole school, unreservedly and wholeheartedly on the way in which they had kept things going during a period which might have had its special difficulties.

Dr. J. R. Kinnes, Ph.D. (Edinburgh University), came to us at the beginning of July and was able to gain some knowledge of us and our ways during four valuable weeks before the long vacation. Dr. Kinnes has recently been senior Modern Language Master at Dumfries Academy (Sir James Barries' old school), but he has also had excellent experience at Edinburgh and Aberdeen. He has, moreover, notable war service to his credit. In addition to his gift of tongues, Dr. Kinnes is an artist not only of high ideal and aims but of striking achievement. We have already seen more than sufficient to be sure that in Dr. Kinnes we have a worthy successor to two outstanding predecessors, and one in whose hands the tradition of the school will be not only maintained but advanced.

We take this opportunity of expressing the pleasure which we feel in seeing Mr. Prest from time to time looking perfectly fit. We hope he may long be spared to watch the progress of the school and Old Boys' Association, which owe so much to his guidance during their earlier years.

* * * *

Mr. Jas. Allan was not one of the dwindling band who assembled in the new school buildings, in 1896, but he came soon afterwards, and now retires from his post as Art Master, after more than thirty years loyal and faithful service. In addition to the Association presentation to him, the school gave him an electric table lamp and the staff memento took the form of a suitably inscribed en tree dish with a box of chocolates for Miss Allan. It seems impossible to believe that Mr. Allan has reached the age for retirement, and we believe, as well as hope and trust, that he will have many years before him which may well be more restful than in the past but which will not be without their usefulness and profit. We hope to see a good deal of Mr. Allan in the future.

* * * *

As successor to Mr. Allan in our Art Department we welcome Mr. K. L. G. Hart. Mr. Hart has studied art at Bournemouth, Exeter, and Bristol, and holds the Oxford Secondary Teachers' Drawing Certificate. He takes the widest view of the cultural value of his subject, and is specially interested in water-colour, etching, figure-drawing, and the history of art. Nor is this all, for we are delighted to learn that he is a keen sportsman; his association with football is highly spoken of, and we are longing to see that turn from the off.

Last year we were able to congratulate ourselves on the fact that our percentage of "first-time" passes in the Oxford University School Certificate Examination compared very favourably with the general run of successes in the Durham County Secondary Schools. This year we call attention to a list of thrilling brilliance. Of 45 candidates only 4 were unsuccessful, a percentage of passes of more than 91% ;—the percentage of passes for the whole country is about 64% this year. Further, the number of places in Honours is exceptionally high—18 places in Honours altogether and 6 first-class Honours. It must also be remembered that we have never made a policy of submitting candidates a second and third time for the examination in order to produce a list of greater apparent brilliance; nor are we so fortunately placed as some schools who have a high proportion of intending teachers, all of whom have a very great incentive to determined effort. Rightly or wrongly, we have never been given to broadcast self-advertisement and we are not quite satisfied that the high standard of our work is appreciated at its true value in our own district. These outstanding results speak for themselves. We offer sincerest congratulations to all successful candidates and to the school, and commend the work and results of this year's fifth forms as an example worthy of imitation by succeeding school certificate forms.

* * * *

The achievement of the Higher Certificate Candidates was also meritorious. Six pupils passed the examination, one gaining distinction in French, while another, not so fortunate in the whole examination, gained a distinction in Geography. Four of these were awarded the much-coveted Durham County Scholarships of £80 per annum. Two happy people have gone into residence at Keble College, Oxford, and others are still with us seeking other worlds to conquer.

* * * *

Every year our Stocktonian outposts are flung farther afield,—only last week two Old Stocktonians sailed for Venezuela and one for Persia—and we feel that to those far away our message will come with especial force. Them we have in mind, particularly when we send to all Stocktonians, old and young, our sincere good wishes for Christmas, for the coming year, and for a bright, happy, and successful future.

* * * *

There was a pleasant little function on the "breaking-up" day of the Easter holidays. The staff entertained the senior school to a small social gathering of a quite informal character. A few songs and light-hearted entertaining led up to a series of ingenious competitions. The tired brains but energetic appetites were next found in the cookery department seeking satisfaction in the consumption of sandwiches, buns and cakes—to say nothing of jellies,—while gallons of tea were imbibed—for thirst is a terrible affliction. There was just enough of voice left to sing, a little huskily, Auld Lang Syne.

The 19th Annual Athletic Sports.

In giving an account of the School Sports it seems impossible to avoid letting loose a few observations on the weather. In 1927, a steady and pitiless downpour of rain practically all day washed us from the Cricket Field, on the Friday afternoon, to a chastened and unfed performance on the Football field on the Monday evening following. In 1928, after a promising morning, a disillusioned and bedraggled crowd of spectators and competitors worked through a disappointing programme in dismal wise. Surely the Nineteenth Annual Sports, on June 7th, 1929, merited kinder treatment at the hands of the meteorological authorities? A downpour for half an hour before the sports began looked ominous, but though the ground was greasy, the sky was gray and lowering, and the wind blew chill, no rain—or very little—fell until the time for the distribution of prizes.

In the circumstances good performances could scarcely be expected, but R. Wynzar did very well in lowering the record for the mile. He started off as if the distance were the hundred yards and we all shook our heads and said he could never last the pace; but last it he did, and ended with a tremendous lead and a record to his credit.

We were glad that we won the Inter-School relay race, though sorry that the last member of the Grammar School team fell on the slippery ground at the moment of taking over; still we are sure that our friends would admit that our lead was already so great that there was little likelihood of our losing the race.

The dog which thought that the wheelbarrow race had been staged for his sole delectation, and which showed his appreciation of the compliment by running in among the competitors, licking the faces of the "wheelbarrows" and shaking such of their garments as were loose enough to shake, caused great amusement to the spectators and even secured favourable notice in the local press.

The Brown House have always made a fine showing in the sports. This year, for a time, it seemed as though the Blue House were going to make a real attempt to repeat their success of last year, but the Brown House gradually drew ahead and were not seriously threatened.

We were very pleased to have Dr. Pickworth, this year's President of the Old Stocktonians, to present the prizes, for we welcome every link which binds together the Old Stocktonians and the school. It is superfluous to say that Dr. Pickworth played his part to perfection.

We must not omit to thank, very sincerely, all those who, by hard and ungrudging labour, helped to make the sports a success.

Our best thanks are also due to the following ladies and gentlemen who gave prizes:—Dr. and Mrs. Crockett, Dr. and Mrs. Hall, the School Staff, Dr. A. Pickworth, and Messrs. C. W. Bond, A. E. Carter, H. Castle, F. W. Dixon, M. Hale, J. Hamson, G. Lawson, R. Lawson, Dr. Livingston, W. Martin, K. Martin, J. Morland, W. B. Noddings, C. J. Osborne, P. V. Pringle, G. F. Rogers, W. Salmon, T. Swimming Sports, Monday, October 14th, 1929.

As far as the Swimming Sports are concerned, this year will go down in natatory history as the year of the Brothers Bradley. In the past it has often happened that one expert swimmer has appeared to dominate the proceedings, so that we remember an O'Grady year, a Ruddock year; but this year the overlordship was really a joint affair, for while Brother Dick collected 9 points and the championship, Brother Jack gathered only one point less.

Otherwise, the sports of 1929 will not be considered by historians to have been particularly thrilling. For example, the three lengths in which we have sometimes seen some magnificent racing, was this year pathetically tame, a dull procession of three competitors. There was rather more excitement in the final of the backstroke, and in one or two of the junior finals we were roused a little—but nobody fainted. It was kind of McKechnie, under the circumstances, to flounder about in a series of diverting porpoise-like postures in a vain effort to secure a brick—which someone else had dropped. This was in the clothes race. Hallam, among those who swam under water, made a good showing, but J. Connors' record of 15 years ago is going to take some beating.

The Mayor, with his usual kindness, stole an hour or two from his numerous and important duties to tell us why he didn't learn swimming in his happy days of childhood, and also used the occasion to distribute grade certificates, medals and the House Cup.

For the rest, not enough boys entered for the swimming sports, and too many who had entered failed to turn out. This tendency to enter under pressure of House and Sports Captains and then not turn out is an unpleasing feature of our sport at present. It shows a lack of House keenness, and of the true sporting spirit. It is the Race that matters and not the Victory. Sportsmen and scholars look to it!

School Football and Cricket, etc.

The fact that practice facilities were non-existent and that all matches were played on foreign grounds makes the cricket report dull reading. Nevertheless, we find satisfaction in the thought that out of ten games played five were won. Holmes (50 v. Gisborough G.S.), Irons (69 v. Stockton G.S.), Lowther (33 v. Middlesbrough H.S.), and Liddle, our statistical expert, works J.G.'s average out at 8.125, are commended for batting, while Lowther (who took no less than 40 wickets), Sharp and Holmes carried off the bowling honours; of the others, McKechnie and Turner showed promise of future greatness.

* * * *

The record of the Soccer XI was not very imposing, only three matches being won out of eleven. In a short report, Captain Lowther (who himself was responsible for half the goals scored), deploras a lack of co-operation between forwards and halves, suggests that one or two of the younger players suffered from a species of mental inertia (we have suspected this for quite a long time), and then singles out Parnaby (a gifted and polished performer), Rutledge (a great stalwart in more ways than one), and Ball (a good worker and hard tackler), as worthy of special mention.

For future reference, we append the detailed results:—

v. Stockton G.S.	away	3—3	Nash, Holmes, Lowther.
v. St. Mary's College	away	3—7	Lowther (3).
v. Middlesbrough H.S.	home	4—4	Nash, Buckle, Davey, Lowther.
v. St. Mary's College	home	1—4	Lowther.
v. Gisborough G.S.	away	2—3	Nash, Lowther.
v. Middlesbrough H.S.	away	4—5	Reed, Lowther (3).
v. West Hartlepool T.S.	home	3—1	Nash (2), Lowther.
v. Gisborough G.S.	home	1—2	Baird.
v. Great Ayton F.S.	away	8—0	Nash, Reed, Rutledge, Holmes. Lowther (4).
v. West Hartlepool T.S.	away	1—4	Lowther.
v. Great Ayton F.S.	home	3—2	Reynolds, Lowther (2).

A Second XI played five matches and shared in 32 goals. As 21 accrued to opponents, we refrain from further comment.

House Matches—Football.

The struggle for the House Championship was exceptionally keen, the honours in the end falling to the Green House, who with the same points had a slightly better goal average than their Red opponents. The final table read as follows:—

	Goals
	P.	W.	L.	D.	For Against		Points
GREEN	...	6	3	2	1	8	6	7
RED	...	6	2	1	3	8	8	7
BROWN	...	6	2	2	2	9	11	6
BLUE	...	6	1	3	2	10	10	4

Culling the various reports, we judge that Rutledge, Morris, Sharp and Ions formed a glittering constellation among the Greens; that Lowther was the particular star among the Browns, with Ball, and Nash shining somewhat less effulgently; that Holmes, Davey, Reynolds, and occasionally Dixon, Read and McKechnie scintillated for the Blues; and that the Red House found its chief illumination in the light shed by Parnaby, Laws, Baird, Beard and Buckle.

* * * *

The Rugger fifteen met with a fair amount of success, this being attributed to the sound advice of Dr. Crockett and Mr. Dumble, and the "tips" given by two extremely hot and perspiring teachers who, on an odd visit to the sports' field, fell under the spell of the oval ball. Mention is made of the prowess of Rutledge (who was picked to play in a trial match for the Durham County Schoolboys), of Wynzar, and of Hallam; while Stirling, Smith and Cooke among the juniors caught our reporter's eye. Lowther, Ball, Christie, Crozier and Ragsdale, too, were prominent members of a not undistinguished team. The results were as follows:—

		Points.
v. Henry Smith's, Hartlepool	home	17—5
v. Synthonia Juniors	away	11—0
v. Henry Smith's, Hartlepool	away	8—2
v. Darlington G.S.	home	0—11
v. Barnard Castle	away	0—8
v. Middlesbrough H.S.	home	0—0
v. St. Mary's College	home	20—8
v. Darlington G.S.	away	3—35
v. Richmond G.S.	home	30—11

The visit to Barnard Castle was, as usual, very enjoyable, and our best thanks are due for the generous welcome and hospitality extended to us.

The previous rounds having been concluded on various courts by mutual arrangement of the contestants, the semi-finals and final of the School Tennis Championship were played off on the courts of the Stockton Cricket Club, by kind permission of the Club Committee.

Lowther (VI) opposed Barnes (VT), and without any great difficulty progressed to the final by the score 6—1, 6—2.

In the other semi-final Wynzar (VI) had a much more difficult task in shaking off Stephenson (VM), and had to produce some good tennis before he won by 8—6, 6—3.

With neither player afraid to hit, the final was a good game to watch. Wynzar was successful and deserved his success, but Lowther did wonderfully well with the very soft racquet he used, and it would be interesting to see what he could do after a little practice with one in good condition. By the score 6—4, 6—2, Wynzar became School Tennis Champion for 1929.

Our tennis report would be incomplete without mention of two matches played on the Edward Robson Sports' Field against the Girls' Secondary School. In the first match, the ladies proved victors by a narrow margin; in the second, the gentlemen took ample revenge, while, in both cases, lemonade and cake proved acceptable to both conquerors and conquered.

During the past year, Badminton has fully earned its place among our school sports. Here Morris (our scribe alleges that it was owing to his superfluity of inches) won the singles' championship, and with Hallam as his partner also proved his superiority in the doubles.

Advantage was taken of the breaking up on the last day of the Easter term to play a match against the Girls' School, and although Morris and Co. were suffering from a surfeit of food and drink, provided at the staff's expense, they did not allow this to distress them unduly, and proved fairly comfortable winners.

Literary and Historical Society.

In the session 1928-9, the Historical Society experienced what was in many ways its most successful and active year. Meetings were on the whole well attended; two members, Laws and Dixon, gave lectures with the help of the epidiascope; the Rev. G. C. Binyon, with the same help, described a journey through Russia, Siberia, Japan and China; Blue House won the shield, and two chara-loads of members and friends, + Messrs. Brooke and Armstrong, visited Durham Cathedral, Castle and Deanery, where they were welcomed by the Dean. In addition to these more spectacular events, eight debates took place. One of the most successful of these was that in which the Fourth Form argued amongst themselves the respective merits of arts and science as a vehicle of education. Messrs. Stephenson, Rigg, and G. F. S. Smith on the one hand, and Messrs. Walton, W.M. Aitken and Green on the other, ably demonstrated to their elders that small fry can put up as good a fight as big fish if the occasion warrants it. Nor were the grave and reverend seniors backward in giving the society their support. Wilson spoke twice and the Sixth also lent their aid. Holmes, Aitken, Wynzar, Lowther, Laws and Ball often spoke, nor was the voice of Harker unheard. Of the Fifth, Proud, Berry and Sowler showed considerable promise, and their efforts presaged well for the future of the Society.

Holmes and R. M. Aitken again were the chief supporters of the winning house; Stainsby, who unfortunately for Red House left in the autumn term, again won the Hat Night competition, while the society was fortunate in being able to obtain, for the second time, the services of R. M. Aitken as secretary. There should be little doubt about the future of this society.

Chess Tournament, 1929.

There were nine aspirants for the chess championship this year, all of whom knew considerably more than the rudiments of the game.

There were no such easy victories as were afforded some of the players last year, most of the games being skilfully and evenly contested. This was probably due to the fact that some of the best players were eliminated in the first round. Had the ties been different

R. Hallam might easily have reached the final. He took one game out of three against R. M. Aitken, in a struggle in which first one and then the other held the advantage.

D. J. Simpson is another player who deserves mention.

The ties in the semi-final were as follows :—

W. M. Lowther v. R. M. Aitken.

W. M. Aitken v. G. B. Harker.

In the first tie Lowther was beaten by two games to nil. The second was the more interesting, the games lasting for two nights before a decision was reached. Eventually W. M. Aitken beat G. B. Harker by $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$.

The final between the two Aitkens was even closer than the semi-final tie of last year. The games in themselves were stolid rather than brilliant and resulted in a win for R. M. Aitken by 2 to 1.

School Speech Day.

The School Speech Day, on Friday, 14th December, 1928, brought an audience to the Jubilee Hall which completely filled it. Mr. Roger occupied the chair, and the medals, prizes and certificates were presented to the successful pupils by Mr. Leonard Ropner, whose presence enabled the School to give emphatic expression to its gratitude to him for the magnificent playing-fields, which he presented to the Grammar School and the Boys' Secondary School. On this occasion the choir was installed in an exalted position which conferred on its members, no doubt, a certain sense of superiority but also contributed markedly to their musical effectiveness.

In his speech Mr. Ropner, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ropner, urged his audience to remember that education was not a process completed in youth, nor dependent, in these days, upon the possession of ample means. Indeed the main desideratum was zealous endeavour on the part of him whose education was in progress, a spirit which should teach us never to despise any opportunity of enlarging our knowledge nor to be other than grateful for the facilities afforded in increasing measure as the years pass.

Dr. Crockett had the pleasure of reporting still another advance in examination successes in the session 1927-28, the aggregate for that year surpassing the previous record by over 20%, and in commenting upon them he let the audience rather guardedly into the secret of how First Classes and other distinctions could be secured by repeated presentations of the same individuals, a practice very common in certain areas but well-nigh unknown in Stockton, where the problem was rather the completion of a pupil's full period at school than his repeated attempts to pass high up the list into a Training College.

Grateful reference was made to the honours brought to the school by Mr. F. Hawley, Mr. Martin and Mr. E. L. Robson, and it was mentioned that no fewer than eighteen Old Boys were studying at some different universities. The perennial topic of the new school buildings (now, at long last, definitely in sight) cropped up once more, and Dr. Crockett enumerated some of the disadvantages under which the school was labouring in Nelson Terrace, through the restriction of available accommodation, and his remarks concluded with some advice to the boys who had recently left school or were on the eve of doing so, when he emphasised the need of practising in the wider life out of school those lessons of large-hearted toleration which had been inculcated both in the class-room and on the playing-field, and the need also of putting into practice the instinct for co-operation and mutual helpfulness which the school had consciously tried to develop. While such a scheme of conduct might mean self-denial in respect of some of the pleasures of life, it would most certainly procure an increase in happiness, and, as Dr. Crockett pointed out in his closing sentence, pleasures, which are outside ourselves, are of less moment than happiness, which is an inward and satisfying condition.

OLD BOYS' REPORTS.

Annual Lecture.

The seventh Annual Lecture, which took place on February 28th, took the form of a humorous recital, and was given by Mr. Wallace Cunningham. As usual, the Jubilee Hall was crowded for the function, and since we were on this occasion excused the wonted tribute of entertainment tax to the excise authorities, we were able to hand over to the Stockton and Thornaby Hospital the handsome sum of £52 17s. 7d. The recital was a delightful one, and fully convinced us that Mr. Cunningham's reputation for humour and versatility was well earned and justly merited. Of the many items which constituted a delightfully varied programme of high quality, good fun, and unflinching interest, the audience enjoyed most a demonstration of the art of ventriloquism as practised in old times by past masters, with a clever imitation of piccolo as second in favour.

To Mr. King fell the task more than ordinarily onerous of accompanying burlesque songs and parodies, and to numerous Old Boys the redoubtable and time honoured labour of disposing of between 700 and 800 tickets. Still, as we have said, the Hospital benefited handsomely, and we all experienced more than a trifle of satisfaction in the thought of a good deed well done.

Poor Kiddies' Treats.

December 28th and 29th, 1928, and July 13th, 1929.

The two December treats proved right worthy successors of those which have gone before. Again we entertained a crowd of needy but winsome little guests, for whom an evening with the Old Boys means a few golden hours in a life that is gray. Their tastes had not been spoiled by too much plenty, and this could well be seen from the obvious and very noisy delight with which they hailed our time-honoured methods of providing a tea and a jolly evening. Those items in our programme which might be hackneyed were never fresher nor greeted with more uproarious mirth, as respected old boys of ordinarily staid demeanour, discharged the parts of comic waiter, buffoon and even Father Christmas, two of them indeed after painful rehearsal. Serious steps had been taken towards the provision of burlesque costumes appropriately in keeping with the pantomime scene, which makes the gymnasium for once a home of light and colour.

In the summer the great adventure of an open-air treat was essayed with success. Scene: the gardens behind a hostelry at Longnewton; time: a very warm one; tea: good and cheap—sufficient to fill pockets as well as tummy; and sports, carefully planned out beforehand but proceeding contrariwise to intention, because the boy mind is ever more inventive than that of middle age. There was no scheduled scheme for a tree climbing competition, but the trees were clomb and autumn's fruitage promised to be precipitated in its codling youthfulness. Longnewton we chose as a safe retreat, for in this charming spot there are no chasms, no rocks, neither rivers nor streams, no ruins, no marshes not yet a morass. But in a garden, what lures to sinful waywardness and naughty mischief! Now we know, but next year we shall know better.

Once again, it is our pleasant task to add that Old Stocktonians vied with one another in their efforts to further the cause of the Poor Children's Christmas Treats. Two Old Boys, as usual, came forward and bore the cost of the first day's tea; another Old Boy made it his business to see that sweets in abundance were provided; the packing of the gift parcels was undertaken by an Old Boy and his sister (reinforced this time by the Old Boy's wife, who thus received an early intimation of what we shall always expect of her); the woodman's axe was vigorously plied in a Longnewton plantation; our scheme of decorations (surely the best we have ever had) owed everything to an honoured member of the staff and his A.R.I.B.A. assistant; our own troupe of comedians was again in evidence; and again Mr. G. F. Atkinson, of Regent Street, came to our assistance in the matter of lighting.

At the Summer treat, too, ready help was forthcoming from Old Boys who kept goal, dispensed ice cream, rendered first aid to wounded warriors, saved unwary chickens from annihilation, and generally attended to the wants of fifty youngsters, who were the wildest specimens we have ever encountered.

To all these mentioned above and to that large number of Old Boys and the parents of Old Boys, who year by year contribute so willingly, so eagerly and so generously, we again tender our grateful thanks.

The Annual Dinner.

It was really the stairs of the Hotel Metropole which, about 7:30 p.m. on the evening of Thursday, December 27th, 1928, betokened that something of moment was about to take place. At least most of the important people were on the stairs, though a small party, few but very select,—having discovered that there was a pleasant smoke room through the public dining room, had comfortably ensconced themselves there and discussed the weather, the art of Scriabin, and the beauty of the Stockton Town Hall; but then, since they were summoned late to the festive board and found only a few scattered places remaining vacant, it was perhaps the stair decorations who laughed best after all.

There were some slight expressions of disappointment at the absence of the accustomed dainty menu cards, but it was understood that, since these were a relatively heavy item of expense considering the small number required, the committee had decided to dispense with them for this year. Nevertheless, those who have treasured their menus, well covered with valuable autographs, will hope that the cards may reappear some day in the future.

The food was no less appetising, however, on account of this omission; nay, there was, as each course appeared, something of the element of surprise until one's neighbours were supplied and the mystery was thus divulged.

But this is not a treatise on food and drink, so we will allow the next hour or so of time to pass over in a silence which was conspicuously absent during that actual hour on December 28th.

Let us then imagine that the loyal toast has been drunk and that Dr. Hall is receiving the close attention of an amiably replete auditory. The Doctor told us how he had been inveigled into speaking and told what to say by our secretary, whom he described as a curious agglomeration of skilful organiser and pessimist, as was instanced especially on one occasion when the secretary, with gloomy countenance, had uttered grave forebodings as to the possible failure of a lecture at which the doctor had found a packed hall, and had been called on to give attention to some who had trampled upon each other in a vain effort to secure admission. In reminiscent mood, Dr. Hall told of his first arrival at Thornaby, when the bracing salubrity of the Cleveland hills had been somewhat tempered by the unaromatic effusions of the Cleveland (bone) Mills! Becoming still more confidential, Dr. Hall then told us that the list of Old Stocktonians was of more significance to him than to most of us: that he could not entirely deny indirect responsibility for the presence of some of the names in the list; and how, as the moving finger passed down the list, it stayed for a moment at this Old Boy who took fits, and that one who swallowed a halfpenny, at a third whose spots took so long to disappear, and so on. The doctor concluded a very charming little speech by confessing, with delicate blush, that it was in the Girls' Secondary School that he had sought and found his charming bride and constant helpmeet.

The task of replying to the toast of the Association fell naturally to Dr. Pickworth, our President. He paid well-merited tribute to Dr. Hall, to whom the Old Stocktonians owe so large a debt of gratitude for his constant interest and help, particularly in that sphere which he has made peculiarly his own—that of entertaining our visiting lecturers. The President then referred to the work of the Association and named some of the workers who most deserve the gratitude of their fellow members. Among the most noteworthy achievements of the Old Stocktonians he instanced the institution of the Kiddies' Treats, the erection of the School War Memorial and the gifts to various charities of more than £309 since 1913.

Dr. Pickworth drew our attention to the fact that our list of Old Boys was one of which any school might be proud. In advocating the claims of the Benevolent Fund, he told us of a Cambridge graduate who sold pies on the public street—(no mean achievement, one would imagine, for a Cambridge graduate!)—and whose friends expressed sympathy for a lot in life which they considered insufficiently distinguished; the moral appeared to be that sympathy was of small value compared with the purchase of a pie. The President did not tell us whether this was the origin of the modern attitude towards charitable works which seek a substantial material benefit here, coupled with the comfortable feeling associated with "treasure in Heaven." Dr. Pickworth could not deny that he, too, had found a very charming and loyal wife among the girls of the Secondary School.

Most Old Boys, in proposing the toast of the Old School, wax reminiscent. Mr. H. Swinburne went further; he waxed elegiac—and penitent withal. If, as he cast his eyes back on the receding landscape, he found that a number of the outstanding features assumed the form of cubes, he freely admitted that the fault was his. Had he only his time over again (and his eyes became dimmed with tears), his ever-patient masters would scarcely recognise the so-changed "Hughie," moving gently and thoughtfully about wearing, with ever so slight self-consciousness, his mildly glowing halo!

Mr. Swinburne told a little story (for which he vouched) of a fellow pupil who had not read his "Treasure Island," and who, on being asked to give an account of the opening of the captain's chest, plunged boldly and described a surgical operation!

After strongly urging all Old Boys to feel that it was their duty to help on the work and activities of the School to the utmost of their power in every way which offered, Mr. Swinburne coyly confessed that he, too, had gained a loving and beloved wife in the Girls' Secondary School—thus completing, as it were, a sort of matrimonial hat-trick.

Dr. Crockett's speech was, frankly, a disappointment. How anyone replying on behalf of the School could stand up and admit—albeit shamefacedly—that he had sought and found a wife elsewhere than among the girls of the Secondary School passes belief. Quite useless to instance the many and admitted excellences of Mrs. Crockett! She had never passed the portals of the Secondary School as a pupil, and there was simply no more to be said. Apart from this fact, Dr. Crockett had a number of interesting things to tell us in his review of the year's work. In particular, he referred to the excellence of the Examination results, to our recently adopted new school song, and to the new school field—the munificent gift of Mr. Leonard Ropner. Apropos of something which this deponent remembereth not, he told a singular tale of a lady who, for a wedding hymn, chose the curiously inappropriate “Days and moments”—embarrassingly inappropriate in the latter part of its first verse.

The intervals in the speech-making were enlivened by musical items of unusual excellence, kindly provided by Messrs. Bertram, Rogers, Sherwood and Stainsby, and by a rousing demonstration of a community singing, which included “Carmen Scholæ Stocktonensis,” “Forty Years On,” “The ode to Tobacco,” and sundry old favourites, so that everyone seemed to pass an enjoyable evening—unless it were the unfortunate accompanist of the choral singing who, urged on to ever greater pace and vivacity by Mr. Martin, and reproved, more in sorrow than in anger, by Mr. Waller, for the excessive speed of his performance, sought in vain for some new and apposite rendering of the old tag experto crede.

Old Boys' Dances.

Two very successful Dances were held in the early part of the year, the first under the presiding genius of Mr. K. Martin, and the second in the very capable hands of Mr. James Graham. Both were well attended, with the result that a flood of glittering coinage poured into the coffers of the Benevolent Fund and the Association Funds respectively.

To relieve the somewhat barn-like aspect of the “Jazz,” a scheme of decoration was indulged in on each occasion, and, though this did not embody the traditional dark green and pale blue, yet it was sufficiently tasteful to delight our aesthetic eye.

Through the generosity of two of our friends, we were at each dance presented with a magnificent box of chocolate, to be raffled for in aid of the Poor Children's Summer Treat.

The disposal of one of these resulted in a regrettable incident, which involved amongst others the most famous of all Old Boys. The tickets were issued in batches reading 1—100, each batch having a distinctive colour, but the unfortunate gentleman whose duty it was to secure the beautecus maid, assist her to draw the winning number, and then announce the result was not informed of this. Result—he announces ticket No. 68, an opportunist presents a blue No. 68, seizes the chocolates and away.

The announcer gazes at the yellow No. 68 taken from the hat, is seized by grave doubts, and then freezes with horror as the situation dawns upon him. Meanwhile, the aforementioned Old Boy, with a yellow No. 68 in his pocket, ponders sadly over the buffetings of fate.

The introduction of admission by ticket only, proved a great success and enabled the organisers to judge of the result of their efforts a few days beforehand, and act accordingly. In addition, the elimination of undesirables was made legitimately possible, a matter of extreme difficulty under the old rules. A little friction occurred, but not sufficient to demand the full employment of the heavy brigade, who were stationed unobtrusively but expectantly near the Secretary's table.

Excellent music was provided by a suitably subsidised band, and everything went as merrily as the proverbial marriage bell.

An exceedingly pleasing feature of both dances (of the first probably more than of the second) was the number of Old Stocktonians who were present. And equally pleasing was the presence of the pretty girls, whose lovely dresses and graceful movements added much to the success of two very successful functions.

Old Stocktonians' Benevolent Fund.

During the year, three calls were made upon the above fund. In each case, the most careful and judicious investigation was made, and in each case, the Trustees found that the calls were genuine, with the result that loans were granted amounting in the aggregate to £43 15s. 0d.

At the moment a fatherly eye is being kept on another Old Boy, who has been assured that in the difficult years ahead he will not appeal to the Benevolent Fund in vain.

When we hint that the loans mentioned above—small as they are—may easily mean the difference between a career and no career at all, Old Boys will realise the good work which, in a quiet way, the Benevolent Fund is doing. At the same time, there is no doubt that the operations of the Trustees are restricted, greatly by the comparatively small amount of cash which they have at their disposal, and thus we venture to appeal to Old Stocktonians to show their gratitude to the School by making at least one contribution a year to the fund, which up to now has had to rely for its income mainly on the proceeds of one annual function and the balance of the Poor Children's Treat.

Our credit at the bank now stands at £103 2s. 7d., which however, includes a sum of £20, kindly lent to the fund free of interest, and for an indefinite number of years, by a very generous Old Stocktonian comrade.

Presentations to Mr. Allan and Dr. Crockett.

On the evening of July 30th, we bade our official farewell to Mr. Allen and Dr. Crockett. Mr. Allen retires after 31 years' service at the School; Dr. Crockett leaves us to take up a new appointment in the possibly more salubrious air of Hampstead.

Mr. Stainsby, who presented a gold watch, suitably inscribed, to Mr. Allan, spoke eloquently of Mr. Allan's lessons as his haven of refuge during schooldays of trouble and strife. Mr Sanderson, while presenting a silver coffee service to Dr. Crockett, seized the occasion to air some melancholy reflections on school restrictions upon his youthful dalliance with the fair sex; he recovered, however, in time to assure us that he bore no malice for this, and had found in Dr. Crockett an inspiring teacher.

Mr. R. E. B. Williams, who followed, entertained us to anecdotes which revealed our revered teachers as pleasantly fallible human beings, though not detracting from our admiration for them. Mr. Williams' speech, though short, was admirably witty.

When Dr. Crockett and Mr. Allan replied, it was with obvious sincerity that they promised to keep a warm corner in their hearts for the School and the Old Stocktonians. It is occasions such as these which emphasise the cordiality and affection which prevail between the staff of the School and Stocktonians old and young.

Other features of the evening which we recall with pleasure were the reading of letters and telegrams conveying the good wishes of Old Boys scattered far and wide, the presentation of bouquets to Mrs. Crockett and Miss Allan by a youthful present member of the school, and the singing of Miss E. Watson and Mr. Sherwood. Nor must we omit to mention Dr. Pickworth, who, in the office of chairman, performed a somewhat onerous duty with complete success.

Probably no Old Boy has felt more delight in being able to call himself an Old Stocktonian than Mr. JACK WARNOCK, who passed beyond on October 26th, after a very brief illness.

His interest in the School dates from the very earliest days, and that interest was maintained right up to the day of his death.

No project of the Old Stocktonians ever had anything but his strongest support; he was a frequent visitor at our Annual Dinner, he was one of the greatest stalwarts of the Poor Children's Treat, he it was who gave the Tug of War Cake, which has been such an attraction at the last two School Sports. Ever he did good by stealth—we asked, and two or three days afterwards what we wanted arrived without any indication whence it came.

Throughout the war, he served as an N.C.O. in the 18th Durham Pals; he was a director of the Stockton Football Club; and every good cause—especially if it concerned those weaker and poorer than himself—had his ready sympathy and his unfailing adherence.

He was a simple, loyal, and kindly soul, but it is simple souls like Jack Warnock, who by their generous and unselfish outlook on life do much to make this old world of ours a better and more kindly place to live in.

In his memory, we were privileged to send a wreath marked with the Old Stocktonian colours, and inscribed with the words "He never did an unkind action."

There is not one of us but would feel proud to have earned such an epitaph.

OUR PHOTOGRAPHS.

Mr. C. W. Allison is, we believe, the only Old Stocktonian who has become a Town Councillor. A Governor of our own School, he is a stalwart of the Labour party, a movement which he adorns not only by his great ability but by his genuine human sympathy and unselfish efforts on behalf of others,

Mr. J. F. Guile: A Solicitor sufficiently distinguished to secure a photograph of his marriage group in the "North Eastern Daily Gazette." Clerk to the Hucknall Urban District Council.

Mr. C. W. Cussons: Football player, Norton Cricketer, and Durham County Hockey representative. Inside the circle, he is the deadliest shot in all the Northern Counties.

Mr. C. W. Bond, L.D.S., R.C.S. (Ed.): A fine dentist and in all respects a jolly good fellow. To use a cricket phrase "There is always a tale (tail) when Charles is at the stumps."

Coun. C. W. Allison.

Miscellaneous Items.

We were pleased to have a visit the other day from Mr. "Vicky" Harris, back—according to his own account—from pursuing recalcitrant insects across the plains in the neighbourhood of Tanganyika. He complained bitterly of an altogether unexpected and unauthorised visit of locusts. When questioned as to the healthiness of the Tanganyika district, he drew attention to his own refulgent personality. There was no gainsaying the evidence.

The summer saw the introduction of an official blazer which, black in colour, edged with white cording and with the school crest in silver on the breast pocket, will add an air of distinction to any Old Stocktonian who wears it. The cost of the blazer, which can be obtained only at the Bros. Martin, Tailors, High Street, Stockton, is £2 5s. od. We believe that the first order was given by Mr. C. Waller, who is now creating a sensation among the belles of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The cricket season at Stockton was remarkable for the success of four Old Stocktonians, Messrs. T. D. Olver, R. Gooding, A. Bowey, and J. Branson, who finished at the head of the batting averages in the order named.

* * * *

An exciting experience recently befell Mr. J. G. Wilson, who after being wrecked in the "S.S. Shonga" was also wrecked in the "S.S. Celtic."

* * * *

In the summer, a very welcome visitor to Stockton was Mr. R. W. Dickinson, who regaled us with his stories of life in the U.S.A. Earlier in the year, Dr. J. Macgregor (home on leave), was just as interesting in his discourse on Nigeria.

Our post bag has included letters from Mr. J. T. Purvis (now government cattle expert in Tanganyika); from Mr. W. Cardno (designing lift bridges for the Canadian Bridge Co.); from Mr. B. Prest (British India Steamship Co.); from Mr. R. L. Prest (government fruit adviser, Queensland); from the Rev. J. H. Pratt (missionary in Southern China); from Mr. S. R. James (South African Railways and Harbours); and from Mr. T. Barratt (Messrs. General Motors, India, Ltd.).

RULES.

Old Stocktonians' Association,

Revised October 30th, 1925.

1.—The name of the Association shall be the "Old Stocktonians."

The "Old Stocktonians" aims at continuing friendships and preserving that spirit of comradeship which ought to exist among those who have been educated at the same school. These aims are to be achieved by means of social, recreative, and educational pursuits.

2. The Association shall be open to the Old Boys of the Stockton Secondary School and of the late Higher Grade School. Past and Present Masters are also eligible.

3. The government of the Association shall be vested in three Presidents, six Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, two Secretaries and a Committee of sixteen, together with the Secretary of each sub-section.

(a) The present and retired headmasters shall be Presidents ex officio.
The third shall be elected annually.

(b) All the other officials shall be elected annually.

(c) A member holding any office shall be eligible for re-election in the following year, in the same or any capacity.

(d) In Committee seven shall form a quorum.

(e) The Committee shall have power to co-opt any member or members at their discretion for the time being for any particular purpose.

4. The Committee shall have power to refuse membership to any applicant for admission or to ask any member to resign (after investigation by the Committee and confirmation by a general meeting), whose conduct they consider such as to militate against the welfare of the Association.

5. Each Section shall be self-governing and self-supporting. The Committee, however, shall have power to grant financial aid to any Section.

Each Section shall submit its programme to the General Committee for approval

6. The Annual Subscription shall be one shilling, payable to any member of the Committee, before January 1st. In lieu of an Annual Subscription, a Life Subscription of twenty-five shillings may be made.

7. These Rules shall be altered only at the annual general meeting, and then only by a two-thirds majority; all motions of such alterations to be in the hands of the Secretaries four days before the date of such meeting.

8. The Annual General Meeting shall be held in September or October.
