A MESSAGE FROM THE OLD BOY PRESIDENT, MR. G. D. LITTLE

In this my second year of office as your President, I send greetings to all Old Stocktonians, wherever they may be. From those with whom I have come into contact, it is evident that this year book is much appreciated. The difficulty in assuring its appearance as an annual issue in these difficult days is the matter of finance. Most members who paid subscriptions in 1948-49 have been contacted by committee members for their modest "two bobs," but the total of man hours required to achieve this is enormous. Despite rising costs, we have kept the subscription at its pre-1914 level, and if you who pay annually would send off any outstanding subscriptions together with that for 1951, it would be a considerable help. Better still, become a Life Member at a cost of 25/-.

Your Committee have made several efforts to raise funds, and if any Old Boy not on the committee would care to organise an effort of his own and forward the profits to the Treasurer, his effort would be greatly appreciated. Remember, only by getting your regular subscriptions can we carry on.

OURSELVES ONCE MORE

WARM greetings once again to all Old Stocktonians. A year ago we had to convey the depressing news that Mr. John Wilkinson, after twelve years' devoted service to the Association, had been compelled, by increasing pressure of professional duties, to seek relief from the office of Old Boy President. His departure we all regretted very deeply, realising how much the survival of the Association had depended during those anxious years on the devotion of Mr. Wilkinson and some others. We are glad to be able to say that Mr. Wilkinson retains an official connection with the Association, as a Vice-President, and that we remain assured of his generous enthusiasm and interest.

A worthy successor was found in one of those referred to above, Mr. G. D. Little, an Old Boy with over a quarter of a century's faithful and ungrudging service to the Association to his credit. It is difficult to recall a committee during these years of which he has not been a member, and a hard working member too, especially at times when the inspiration of an enthusiast has been the power to bring success out of failure. Mr. Little finished his school days in 1919 and since 1922 has been engaged in various capacities at the I.C.I., where he is now in the Commercial Purchasing Department. For seven years he was Secretary of the Synthonia Cricket Club, and for twelve years sports and social secretary in various sections. While resident at Billingham he was sidesman and churchwarden of St. Cuthbert's Church; and at present he is a sidesman and member of the Church Council of St. Peter's Church, Stockton-on-Tees.

The above formidable array of interests and activities has been insufficient to exhaust his boundless energy and enthusiasm. In 1948 he was elected District Organiser of the B.P. Guild of Old Scouts for Stockton and Thornaby, an office in which he continues at the present time. We have only one criticism to make of Mr. Little: he was born at Lincoln. Even so, if it is possible for an alien to acquire the right to call himself a Stocktonian as well as an Old Stocktonian, Mr. Little has done so and exercised it, too. His son and heir is one of our present pupils, a fact which surely promises well for the future.

During the past year the committee has cautiously refrained from organising a series of functions for the purpose of losing money. Our experience over the period 1947-49 was such that we dare not repeat the experiments that pointed the road to ruin. Hence we have no record of dances—for six people, or bus jaunts with half-filled buses—to make on this occasion.

A Bridge Drive organised by the President, Mr. G. D. Little, was held in Laing's Café on Wednesday, 12th April. This proved to be a striking success. A tidy sum was handed to the Hon. Treasurer and this, together with the profits from a similar venture of a more modest nature organised earlier in the year by the same glutton for work, has helped to make it possible for us to venture on the production of this year's Stocktonian. The Association is very much indebted to the services of its Old Boy President.

In view of expense much school news is held back until we have more in the kitty. A full list of names and addresses of members is similarly deferred. Members desirous of ascertaining the address of any Old Boy should meanwhile apply to the Treasurer.

CRICKET — OLD BOYS v. THE SCHOOL

July 11th, 1950

This year the match was revived again. It would seem that the last of the old stalwarts have now gone. Of pre-war sides none was available, though M. Sutherland is only a temporary lapse due to holidays. Our oldest veterans were T. Dumble and F. O. Seddon, of the 1943-4 teams. J. Kent is also of 1944 vintage. J. R. Thomas, now a bowler's heartbreak at No. 3 for Synthonia, made an excellent captain in difficult circumstances, for all his team had reckoned themselves bowlers when at school. A. Thompson, still hard-hitting and devastatingly hard-working as a bowler, C. L. Riley, D. T. Brown, J. Brunt, M. Welsh, J. Pybus, J. O. Tarren and W. McCorkell all belong to the memories of many present pupils.

The opening over of Tiffen was something of a shock to the Old Boys, for he captured two wickets, by means of excellent catches on the part of O'Neill and Jeffrey. From 4 runs for 2 wickets, however, A. Thompson (46) and T. Dumble (34) pulled things so far round that the School bowling seemed very tame; the latter demonstrated how easily six may be scored, once you know the way. After their departure J. Pybus, F. O. Seddon and J. O. Tarren did not spare the bowling with 23 (not out), 19 and 13 respectively.

In the School's innings Jeffrey, by stout driving of his own particular brand, reached 20, and then allowed himself to be bowled by a completely misjudged ball when we were all expecting at least 50. Dee held the bowling for a long time, to score 10, and P. O'Neill gave a stylish display without, however, scoring many runs.

It was a pleasant, though cloudy afternoon, clearing to a fine evening. There were few Old Boys present to enjoy it, but perhaps the day was not suitable for suspending their share of the "world's work."

RUGBY FOOTBALL — OLD BOYS v. THE SCHOOL.

December 26th, 1949

This match was held in the best weather conditions we have had so far. Quite as large a crowd as attends most club matches was present and the play provided them with much enjoyment. It is still far from the function it might become, and perhaps the day after Christmas is not the best day for energetic football, but the occasion was very pleasant for all that.

In the beginning the School held the Old Boys, though the latter generally held the advantage of territory, but the superior weight of the scrum, combined with the dexterity of handling and greater penetration of their central back division, was in the end sufficient to give the Old Boys a victory by what has become a usual margin: 19—0. K. D. Boothman, the veteran of all Old Boys' games and their only captain, gave us some excellent examples of strong running and skilful dummying, as well as showing how and when to feed a wing-man.

It must not be thought that the School was faint of heart. Hawes, at full-back, made two tackles, against individual breaks for the line, which were very sure. Both he and Gardner made several good defensive kicks. Tackling throughout was hard, though much of it was so high that smaller and more nippy players would have shown it up badly. The most notable lack from the School's point of view was a full team. Eric and Colin Tingle had to supply them with left three-quarters. Something surely must be wrong with the younger generation when they suffer more casualties at Xmas than their elders.

Old Boys: J. G. Smith, D. T. Brown, M. Smith, K. D. Boothman, D. Sizer, J. Brunt, T. J. Wigham, L. Horner, R. Hosie, L. Thornton, H. Walker, S. Watson, F. R. Billsborrow, M. Sizer.

ANNUAL DINNER, THURSDAY, 15th DECEMBER

The dinner proved a worthy successor to the many similar functions of years gone by. Much of its success was due to the generosity of our Old Stocktonian friend Alderman John Spark, J.P., who provided for us yet once again on a lavish scale at a price ridiculously small for these austere days. The guest of the evening was Mr. Arthur Chilton, a gentleman of some distinction in local industry, whose presence the Association has every reason to regard as a signal honour. Mr. Chilton proved a breezy and witty after dinner speaker and the delight he afforded us reminded us of some of the outstanding evenings of years gone by, those especially associated with names such as those of Dr. Dickie, Mr. Reuben Cohen and the late Dr. Hall. Mr. Chilton congratulated the Association on its distinguished membership and its ripening age; reminded us that it was to the interest of a school such as ours that its Old Boys' Association should flourish and that the bonds binding the two depended on mutual goodwill and sense of obligation. Less seriously he dealt with his recent visit to the United States and vigorously reeled off a series of wisecracks and humorous anecdotes mildly quizzical of our American friends but fundamentally expressive of our gratitude for the interest they find in John Bull and his island.

Our new Old Boy President, Mr. G. D. Little, presided in mood fluent, friendly and firm, and contributed a large share, albeit without fuss, to the success of the evening. He was supported by the two "other" presidents, Dr. Kinnes and Mr. Evan Baldwin.

An early start made it possible to allow an "intermission" of half an hour in the proceedings, during which Old Boys were able to get round and talk to each other, an idea we have often wished to translate into reality, always to be frustrated by lack of time. Later came the fun and games, into which the younger Old Boys infused considerable gusto with obvious delight. We sang in a community sense and taxed the resources of Mr. Derek Henderson, whose business it was to direct our efforts and impart the requisite touch of artistry and taste. Old Boy Ivor Howden, who was in tip-top form, contributed tenor solos in fine style and at carefully calculated intervals, much to the delight of all. We must mention also something in the nature of a "turn" presented by another Old Boy, who ought to be old enough to know better. There was music—of a kind—and words, too, we understand. This effort was brought to a conclusion because the performer's memory petered out in a gurgle—much to the relief of the assembly. Some sense of order having been restored, we realised that there was time only for the customary rites and ceremonies whereby such functions are brought to an end. Mr. Howden we thank very heartily for his splendid help—and request that next time he brings four times as many songs as he gave us this time.

The company as usual was distinguished by the presence of Old Boys from far afield. How far? Well, what about Shanghai (C. R. Lister)? and Durban, Natal, S.A. (E. Hodgson)? That's something to be going on with, quite apart from many others no longer resident on Tees-side who made the trip, notably the Rev. E. H. Britton (Eighton Banks) and Dr. Donald Williams (Liverpool).

OLD FRIENDS

Mr. Baldwin still keeps a watchful eye over us and, indeed, has been overheard deploring the fact that retirement makes it impossible for him to brighten the day with a tussle with the young of homo sapiens. Did he but know that the "modern" schoolboy is a different creature from the delightful people whose feet he set on the straight and narrow in those happy years gone by—more trying, just as idle if not idler, untidy, slipshod, etc., etc.—but like Mr. Baldwin, perhaps, very much the same. The Cricket Club still claims his avid energy. To him we are indebted too for an essential touch which makes the annual Old Boys' fixture against the School something more than a mere fixture. Long may he flourish.

Mr. Baker has left Stockton for Norbury, S.W., and to all accounts life in the busy city has added to the youthfulness which seemed to grow out of bowls on the greens of Hartburn.

It was good to see Mr. Manners at the annual dinner and to realise that in his case, too, retirement had brought an evergreen vigour.

Mr. Watson's visits from Bedford seem to grow more frequent and apparently no visit to Stockton can be regarded as complete without turning in at the old place in Nelson Terrace.

As usual Mr. Nicholson continues with us as vigorously as ever as Hon. Treasurer and keeper of the sacred list of names, though unfortunately he finds the task of keeping addresses up to date unduly trying and difficult. Will Old Boys please see that he is kept wise. He still resides at "Aberlady," 44, Osborne Road, and has one or two lieutenants on the present staff (in Nelson Terrace, by the way) to whom the information can be sent should Mr. Nicholson himself be too tremendous a personality to approach.

Mr. Allen, Mr. Ball and Mr. Bremner we also hear from on occasion, very much alive to events in the old school and delighted to hear news of those whose early delinquency they had to correct.

WAR MEMORIAL

The fund at the present time amounts to £43. Enquiries are being pursued as to cost of a suitable memorial. The idea of a garden of memory in the grounds of the new school has proved impracticable. Meanwhile the fund remains open and suggestions can still be received. Contributions are urgently needed. We should like the memorial to be completed within the year of our entry into the new school. At least another £80 is required for a worthy memorial. If each of our 800 paying members yielded a modest 2s. that sum would be assured.

G. G. ARMSTRONG MEMORIAL

The fund will remain open till the end of the year. The committee will be pleased to receive further suggestions.

OLD BOYS HERE AND THERE

To Dr. K. STEWARTSON has fallen the unique and much coveted distinction of having the account of his researches published by the Royal Society, the highest tribute possible to scientific work.

W. STANFORD, a mild source of anxiety to us at Nelson Terrace about the years 1931 to 1935 on account of an original and irresponsible sense of humour, appears to have been finding scope for the development of his talents in the somewhat unpromising field of the West Riding of Yorkshire. The natives seem to have yielded it to the Stockton lad, and now an expert on wool and its manufacture, he is returning to his native county at Paton and Baldwins, Darlington.

It is twenty-six years since FRANK HAWLEY left the School after securing a very distinguished Higher School Certificate, a Durham County Junior Exhibition, a Liverpool University Open Scholarship in Modern Languages and a Sir Frank Brown Exhibition. At Liverpool University he swept the board of all the distinctions open to a student of languages, and in search of fresh worlds to conquer proceeded from Liverpool to Cambridge, where further academical triumphs directed him to research in the languages of the Orient. He proceeded to the Far East, settling ultimately in Tokyo as Director of the British Institute of Culture under the auspices of the British Council. The entry of Japan into the second Great War involved Hawley in considerable hardship and danger. He was arrested by the Japanese on the 8th December, 1941, and from a fellow unfortunate, J. Morris, who, like Hawley, was also suspected of espionage, the outside world was able to learn a little of the sufferings of our old scholar. We now hear of him again as Far East correspondent of the Times newspaper. Readers of the Economist, the New Statesman and Public Opinion during the past few anxious weeks will be well aware of the stir at Lake Success and in the United States occasioned by his highly informed dispatches from the Far East.

WILFRED A. HUME, a terror in Middleton St. George in 1927, has in the years between got himself translated to Darlington, his sphere of influence being the area controlled by the Darlington Rural District Council. The wheeled vehicle he favoured years ago has naturally been succeeded by one more in keeping with mature importance. We suspect that he has contacts with J. R. URWIN, whose business it is to see that the Darlingtonians are adequately fed. The official presence of a third Old Boy in the Haughton-le-Skerne area, H. A. WAISTELL, makes it clear how much Darlington owes to Stockton.

W. H. COATES is distinguishing himself in the realms of Chemical Engineering. His elevation from Haverton to Grimsby has proved only a passing achievement on the road that leads upwards. We learn that he is now Technical Manager to British Titan Products, York. Early this year he joined the select company of experts who are called upon to read learned papers to learned societies; in this case the Chemical Engineering Group of the Society of Chemical Industry, under the chairmanship of Mr. Norman C. Fraser. So Burlington House has for once at least echoed to the voice of an Old Stocktonian. The subject of Mr. Coates' paper, since published, was "The Manufacture of Titanium Pigments."

L. J. THORNTON (University College, Hull) has been playing in the College 1st XV. in the competition for the Yorkshire Shield.

J. THORMAN holds the Junior Championship of the Northern Counties in Weight Lifting.

K. WESTWATER is emigrating to Australia; we wish him every success and hope soon to hear good news from him.

PETER ROBINSON, roaming the high seas, we last heard of as visiting Freemantle, West Australia.

J. HIND (Newcastle College of Medicine) is dealing adequately with the preliminary scientific studies inevitable to medical training and finds the gentle pursuit of "jazz" something of a palliative after the asperities of botany and bacteriology—which lack rhythm.

E. B. HOPKINSON, concerning whom see previous year books, has extended his sphere of activities and invaded Stockton-on-Tees, where a brighter and better Yarm Lane bears witness to his energy and enterprise.

We hear of DENNIS YOUNG being in South Africa, but no details.

GEORGE PIPE seems to be a considerable factor in the amenities of life at Stillington. He is Councillor for that region and as a big noise in Scurr's Motor Services guarantees its contacts with the feverish world outside.

D. W. TOWNSEND, likewise of Stillington, would like to see an Old Boys' cricket team in regular being as in years gone by. Are there any other persons also interested?

JOHN F. ELLIS (Sedgefield) is engaged at the University of Durham in research on organic fluorides.

G. R. ROBSON, under the auspices of the same university, is pursuing a vein of geological enquiry in Northern Ireland.

GUY WARWICK we hear of as settled in Mansfield, a big shot in Lucas' garage and son-in-law of the great Reg. Lucas himself.

K. L. BATES, after two years at the I.C.I., has proceeded to Hatfield College, Durham, to specialise in Physics.

Major PETER WING has been serving in the past five years with the army in Pakistan.

J. W. CHAPMAN, now in Bridlington, feels drawn to make comparison of the O.S.A. with the Old Bridlingtonian Association, somewhat to the advantage of our innocent selves. At any rate, it is illuminating to read of an annual subscription of one guinea and a life subscription of three as compared with our modest florin and twenty-five shillings. Chapman, by the way, still does homework—his son and heir being a pupil at the famous Grammar School—but finds that he has to be more careful about it than in days gone by in Stockton.

C. LAMBTON is that very desirable type of Old Boy who sends us three years' subscriptions in advance before leaving for the R.A.F. A few more like him and the financial success of the Association would be secured for good and all.

H. DOUTHWAITE is finishing up in the workhouse. What did we tell him in the years gone by? The institution in question now goes euphemistically under the name of Watermoor Hospital—further details in appointments column will relieve genuine sympathisers of undue anxiety.

HAROLD RUTLEDGE, now on the staff of Edinburgh University, puts in his leisure moments in the R.E. (T.A.) in which he holds the rank of Captain.

M. E. HARRISON, serving in the R.A.M.C. at Accra, West Africa, retains pleasant memories of days at S.S.S. and rouses, unconsciously, pleasant memories of himself.
