How to make the most of the hard work you've done at school.

There's ample scope in the Navy for young people who want to make the most of themselves.

For Boys. If you're bright at Maths, and Science or English, you can apply for an engineering apprenticeship that will make you a top technician earning over £2,450 p.a. after training.

If you're good with your hands, we can train you to be a skilled mechanic with a trade for life.

Or you might prefer to be concerned with seamanship. Or communications. Or a more administrative job, like stores accountancy or office management. While, if you're interested in medicine, we can give you a three-year specialist training as a radiographer, physiotherapist, or S.R.N.

In fact, whether your bent is academic or practical, you can go a long way in the Navy. Or with the Navy's sea soldiers, the Royal Marines.

For example, with five 'O' levels (or two 'A' levels) you can try for a commission as a Naval Officer.

And of course, you can now join us for a much shorter period, if you wish.

For Girls. If you're a girl, there's a happy, active life waiting for you in the Wrens (the Women's Royal Naval Service). Here you work with officers and men of the Royal Navy. There's a choice of many interesting jobs. You also have the same opportunities to try for a commission. And you may well see something of the world.

For someone keen on nursing, the Queen Alexandra's Royal Naval Nursing Service is a career that offers excellent training, travel, variety and an active social life.

For full details of any of these careers, talk to your Careers Master or Mistress. Or write to the address below giving your name, age and any examinations you have passed, or hope to pass.

It's after you start work at Barclays that you choose your career.

Barclays is a vast, complex banking organisation. In one way or another, it's involved with every sort of business: with supermarkets, stores and shops; with farms, food companies and breweries; with airlines, oil companies and car manufacturers; with national and international trade.

Our job is to help our customers invest, expand and make profits. Eventually, this will be your job. You'll have to know their business, as well as be a specialist in your own. (You'll certainly be given all the training you need). How fast you progress is very much up to you—our new graded salaries structure means you're paid and promoted according to your ability, not your age.

To start with, you need at least four 'O' levels. But preferably, two or more academic 'A' levels, which apart from anything else will put you ahead on starting pay.

For more information either see your Careers Teacher or local Barclays Manager.

A FAREWELL EDITORIAL

This Year Book is the last of a series dating back fifty years in approximately its present format.

It therefore contains not only the usual accounts of the life of Grange-field Grammar School for Boys in 1972-73, the final year of its existence, but also a number of brief articles and personal reminiscences of the School, 1896-1973.

It is arranged in four sections:

First, Old Stocktonians' Announcements and News.

Second, Items dealing with the School's History from 1896-1973.

Third, News of the School, 1972-73.

Fourth, A list of Members of the Old Stocktonians' Association.

The continuous development from the Higher Grade School of 1896 to the Stockton Secondary School of 1906 to the Stockton Secondary Grammar School of 1944 to the Grangefield Grammar School of 1951-73 has now given way to a more radical change. The 'Old School' has been closed down, and the Staff dispersed. The boys who would have been in Grangefield Sixth Form in September 1973 have joined the new Sixth Form College. The boys of Forms 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the year 1972-73 are now members, with their contemporaries from the Girls' School, of the new Grange School. The new First Formers in this school are drawn from the Grange School 'catchment area', covering about one sixth of Stockton. Future boys and girls of the Grange School will all come from this area of Stockton.

These Year Books have been a combined effort of the School and the Old Stocktonians' Association. As the School has been changed radically, so the Association must change. Elsewhere in this Year Book, the changes proposed by the Committee of the Association are outlined. It is felt that the Association, which has been of value to Old Boys and to School in the past, can by adapting itself to the new situation also be of value in the future. This the Committee's proposals seek to enable the Association to do.

The Sixth Form College, like the Secondary Schools and Grammar Schools in the past, is to be an institution drawing its members from all Stockton. Like them it will help those Stocktonians who wish to pursue their education beyond the minimum prescribed for all to do so in company with others of like mind.

The Committee think the future of the Old Stocktonians should be linked with this new College. This proposal will be put to the Annual General Meeting in November.

How this may turn out remains to be seen. We can at least express the hope that there will be a useful role for the Association to play.

The world does NOT end, either with a bang or a whimper. It goes on, and we go on with it.

Looking back over the past seventy-seven years of a school which with many considerable changes remained essentially itself, we also look ahead to the different forms of organisation through which similar aims will be achieved in the future.

Reversing the usual order, we end with:

Farewell and Hail.

47th ANNUAL DINNER

The Annual Dinner was again held at the Queen's Hotel on Thursday 4th January 1973. The Old Boy President was in the chair, and our guest speakers were Mr. Peter King of the I.C.I., and the Mayor of Teesside, Councillor Maurice Sutherland (1926-33). The Headmaster, Mr. Bradshaw, replied to the toast to the school. Reorganisation and the future of the Association were, as was to be expected, prominent subjects, but we also reminisced and joked and laughed and enjoyed ourselves.

The following attended: A. W. Henderson (1896-97), F. L. Scaife, J. H. Sharp, S. H. Curry, G. D. Little, T. A. Crawford, J. F. Guile, G. Goldston, W. N. Little, H. Bell, J. V. Mothersdale, H. Wilkinson, W. A. Stainsby, F. K. Hutchinson, F. W. Baker, J. W. Farr, R. M. Pearson, T. F. Sowler, H. G. Farrington, M. Sutherland, F. F. Snowdon, J. B. Hewitt, R. Wynzar, D. W. Henderson, H. Ray, H. D. Race, D. H. Lee, N. Brown, R. Marriner, G. J. Riddle, L. Lloyd, P. G. Dec, A. J. Walker, B. P. Brand, C. Bell, G. H. Thompson, F. G. Hunter, R. E. Forward, A. M. McFarthing, D. J. Nash, G. R. ## ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING, 1972

The Annual General Meeting was held in the Library of Grange-field Grammar School for Boys on Tuesday 28th November 1972 at 7.30 p.m. The Old Boy President, Mr. G. J. Riddle, took the chair.

The membership figures were reported as: Life Members 840, a decrease of 6, and Ordinary members as 144, an increase of 30. There was good recruitment of the 1972 leavers, all as ordinary members.

The Treasurer's report showed: £660.32 in the Life Members Fund, a decrease of £65.41; £10.06 in the General Fund, a decrease of £30.08; £129.19 in the King/Armstrong Fund, an increase of £2.09; £252.73 in the Baldwin/King/Allison Fund, an increase of £3.85.

In the absence of Mr. Sowler, the convenor of the trustees of the Benevolent Fund, the Hon. Sec. reported a balance of £516.56 on 31st December, 1971.

Officers were elected as follows—Old Boy President: Mr. G. J. Riddle re-elected; Vice-Presidents: all re-elected; Hon. Sec.: Mr. B. P. Brand; Asst. Hon. Sec.: Mr. G. S. Rayner; Hon. Treas.: Mr. T. P. Bellis re-elected; Hon. Auditor: Mr. H. G. Farrington re-elected; Advt. Manager: Mr. H. Ray re-elected; Committee: Messrs. L. Lloyd, D. W. Henderson, J. H. Sharp, C. Bell, T. H. Bulmer, P. Graham, R. Wynzar, J. B. Hewitt, J. E. Hempsey, J. Ingham, re-elected; Messrs. J. G. Rattenbury and J. A. Green elected; Trustees of Benevolent Fund: Messrs. N. Winn, W. H. Munday, R. E. Bradshaw and T. F. Sowler re-elected.

Under 'Any Other Business' a wide ranging discussion of the future of the Association took place. It was felt that no firm decisions could be taken yet, as there was still no Principal appointed for the Sixth Form College and there had not yet been an opportunity to discuss possibilities with the newly appointed Headmaster of the Grange Comprehensive School.

It was widely accepted that the Committee should meet in February or March, in June and in September and be prepared at the September meeting, if not earlier, to make definite recommendations to be circulated to all members in the Year Book. This would give them the opportunity to register their opinions by post if they could not attend the A.G.M. in Autumn 1973, at which definite proposals in the form of amendments to the Association's rules would have to be put forward and voted upon.

REORGANISATION AND THE O.S.A.

The reports over the last years have crystallised to the intention of continuing the O.S.A.

Proposals will be made at the Annual General Meeting to join the Stockton Sixth Form College and open the door for the opposite sex, (to make pun of the situation) as well as Former Pupils of Stockton Grammar School.

The last A.G.M. asked the committee to meet in February or March, in June and in September and to be prepared by September to submit definite recommendations. (See notes on A.G.M. 1972).

The following extracts are taken from the committee minutes of those meetings.

15th February 1973

The matter was again discussed. Principals have now been appointed at both Grangefield Comprehensive School and the Stockton Sixth Form College. These Heads are busy organising and have not been approached concerning Old Boys' Associations.

Our problems remain—funds, prizes etc. Mrs. Armstrong, for instance, had asked that the cup commemorating her husband should remain at Grangefield School.

Opinion favoured a link with the Sixth Form College, but Messrs. Munday, Hempsey and Bellis expressed concern that only two years would be spent at the College and this did not cement a relationship like the five years pupils would spend at Grangefield.

Further discussion concerning the Association's funds ensued, airing possible ways of using or disposing of them.

An approach to Mr. Carr, Principal of the Sixth Form College by Mr. Bradshaw was proposed by Mr. Sowler and seconded by Mr. Wynzar. The proposal was carried with one vote against.

The Sec. was asked to write to the secretaries of the two other Old Pupils' Associations in Stockton concerning their aims/intentions after re-organisation.

24th May 1973

G.G.S. Old Girls' Association

In a letter their Secretary made the following points:

- (i) They would prefer to hold their meetings in Grange School.
- (ii) Membership would be open to former pupils G.G.S. (girls), and to girls of Grange school, unless Grange girls form an association for themselves.
- (iii) A decision concerning the award of the Public Speaking prize to be taken after consulting the heads of Grange school and the VI form college.
- (iv) They suggest that the old record books and the key from the first opening of the Nelson Terrace school may be of interest to the local museum service.

Their Secretary has been asked to invite the Headmaster or his representative to their A.G.M. on Friday 14th September. I was asked to pass on the committee's comments so that she can report to her A.G.M.

Stockton G.S. Former Pupils' Association

I telephoned the Head of Stockton Grammar School (Mr. Caine) to enquire about their former pupils' association.

He informed me that the association had ceased to function—certainly over the last 8 years or so.

At his suggestion I contracted two former members of their committee, Mr. D. Green and Mr. C. Sparrow.

Mr. Green confirmed that their Old Boys' Association had not met for many years. He was thinking of circulating former pupils—at least to inform them of re-organisation. He would enquire if there were still funds which were dormant—though he felt that all monies were used when the Grammar School moved to new premises.

Mr. Sparrow had no contacts with the Old Boys for many years. He, like Mr. Green, would make enquiries about their association.

Both Mr. Green and Mr. Sparrow felt that there could be no objections to us inviting former pupils of the VI Form College to become members of the Old Stocktonians.

**Mr. Bradshaw

Mr. Bradshaw had contacted the Principal of the VI Form College Mr. Carr. Mr. Sowler had also met Mr. Carr whilst performing his (T.S's) duties as School governor and had invited Mr. Carr to give his views personally to the committee.

Broadly speaking Mr. Carr was enthusiastic. He would welcome our Association to the College provided we open our doors to all former pupils of the College. (i.e. a mixed Association).

**We did in fact take this part of re-organisation first so that Mr. Carr could give his views. He then withdrew so that we could have a frank discussion.

Discussion followed: Do we allow girls to join? Do we really want to join the VI Form College? What about the girls of Grange School who had joined the former pupils association there then moved to the college? What about the boys of Grange School who would form a selected intake for the next 4 years? (the present years 1 to 4 at G.G.S.). Can we produce a magazine without a school base?

We returned to basic discussion—where does the Association go? Two or three still felt that Grange School was the home; we could remain Old Boys because the girls would have their own association.

Mr. Ray and Mr. Hempsey followed with talk of a dying association, with a news-sheet sent out to 'old comrades'. This would keep the basic organisation but would ignore the future. We could hold committee meetings, send out the news-sheet, hold the annual dinner, administer the benevolent fund—but for how long? Would run things as paid-up members disappeared or were disinterested?

It was decided unanimously that we should sent out definite proposals for the A.G.M. to alter the constitution. Proposed by the President and seconded by the secretary.

Mr. Sowler proposed, Mr. Bradshaw seconded, that an additionn be made to our rules to admit former pupils of the VI Form College and also former pupils of G.G.S. remaining at Grange School.

This was carried 10 for, 2 against, 1 abstention.

The President and Secretary would draft the change before the next meeting.

The 'Old Stocktonians' would remain as a suitable name.

It was hoped that: the war memorials could remain in their present position, the desk and Presicents' boards could be moved to the VI Form College. It was felt that all prizes administered by the O.B.s should not remain at Grange School. Mr. Rattenbury proposed that the Armstrong and King prizes be used in Grange School and the cricket prize in the VI Form College. This was carried 11 for, 1 against.

13th September 1973

This is not officially minuted but the proposals for the A.G.M. were discussed by 14 of the committee and two co-opted members, Mr. Bradshaw (who retired as headmaster in July) and Mr. Carr, the Principal of the Stockton Sixth Form College. Six members of the committee, who could not attend, sent written comments on the proposals, for consideration.

The necessary amendments to the rules are set out below for consideration by the A.G.M. and written comment is invited which will help that meeting.

Please refer to rules in rear cover of Year Book.

OLD STOCKTONIANS' BENEVOLENT FUND

The credit balance at the bank of £516.56 on Jan 1st 1972 was augmented by interest from the bank of £31.74, and by donations from Messrs. R. Thwaites and S. Gathergood. There were no requests for loans, but a grant was made to enable a boy at the School to buy clothing.

In addition the Trustees are happy to report that one young man helped by this Fund has been successful in his chosen career and has justified their faith in him by repaying his loan and at the same time enclosing a very handsome, but of necessity, anonymous, donation. Others in the future, I am sure, will be grateful for his generous gesture.

The credit balance at the bank on December 31st 1972 amounted to £692.80.

If the proposed 'Changes to Rule' of the Old Stocktonians' Association are adopted by the A.G.M., then the Trustees wish to emphasise that the Fund will then be available to assist Old Pupils and Present Pupils of the 'School(s)' as defined in those new rules.

Appeals to the Benevolent Fund for assistance are dealt with in the strictest confidence, and should be made, at least for the time being, to the Convenor of Trustees at No. 2 Highfield Crescent, Hartburn (Telephone STN 580690). More general arrangements will be made after the A.G.M.

The Trustees welcome donations which should be sent to the Secretary of the Old Stocktonians' Association, or to the Convenor of the Fund.

RETIREMENT OF Mr. R. E. BRADSHAW AND Mr. J. G. RATTENBURY

July, 1973, has seen not only the end of the School as we have known it, but also the retirement of both the Headmaster and his Deputy.

Mr. Bradshaw succeeded Mr. Hall at Grangefield in 1957 and to his keen sense of vocation and high standards of scholarship and conduct with the ability to commend these to staff and pupils the continuing success of the School must be largely due. His Presidency of the Association is, of course, ex officio, but regular attendance at Committee meetings and active interest in the Year Book and the general well-being of the Old Boys have made it no sinecure.

Mr. Rattenbury first came to Nelson Terrace in 1931, succeeded Mr. Manners as Senior French Master, and since 1961 has been Deputy Headmaster. Old Boys will not need reminding of his services to the School not only in the classroom but in a dozen other ways as well, particularly on the stage. As for the Association, suffice it to say that he has been its mainstay as Assistant or Hon. Secretary and Editor of the Year Book for the last eleven years.

Many Old Stocktonians will wish to join in marking these retirements with suitable presentations. Subscriptions may be handed to any member of the Committee or sent to Brian Brand. (See printed slip enclosed).

THE 1973 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

of the Association will be held in the Stockton Club, 44 Yarm Road, Stockton on Thursday 29th November at 7.30 p.m. The official notice and agenda of this meeting is enclosed with this Year Book, and all members are urged to attend what will be an historic occasion.

The Stockton Club is near the corner of Yarm Road/Spring Street.

48th ANNUAL DINNER

This will be held in the Queens Hotel, Bishopton Lane, Stockton on Thursday 3rd January at 7.00 p.m. (meal at 7.30 p.m.).

Tickets price £2 may be obtained from the Hon. Sec. B. P. Brand at 24 Ainderby Grove, Hartburn, or from Committee Members. Final numbers by December 30th please.

Each year we have the problem of increasing costs, VAT is the only addition this time but we have run into the problem of menu. The Queens have altered their menus—in particular they have removed choice of main course. We are committed for this year, to patronise them—but I would welcome comment, and constructive suggestions for future years.

A departure from custom this year. The dinner is 'open'. Members may bring guests (including wives!). I hope this does not mean a boycott by many of you who feel it is the one night you are free! You may 'book' a table for your own party if you make the request when ordering tickets. (Tables are usually 6 to 12 places).

Our guests this year are Lt.-Col. N. L. Cohen and Mr. R. E. Bradshaw. Col. Cohen began his education in Stockton at the 'Blue-coats' Grammar School before going to Clifton College. He served in the Judge Advocate's department in Malaya and Cyprus and has a long association with the Territorial Army (5th Durhams as it was). Incidentally he played rugby for Stockton R.U.F.C. about 40 years ago—at the same time as Tom Sowler and Gordon Rattenbury!

Mr. Bradshaw needs no introduction! He has missed only one Old Stocktonians Dinner since he became Headmaster in 1957. We thought it appropriate on his retirement to ask him to the Dinner as our Guest, and to ask him to make a speech not as Headmaster responding for the School, but as an Old Stocktonian.

OLD STOCKTONIANS' TIES

The Secretary has a stock at his home address price 60p—postage Extra. Ties will be on sale at the dinner.

Incidentally there is still a stock of rayon ties at 25p—post free!

ARMISTICE DAY SERVICE

It is hoped to hold a Memorial Service in what used to be Grangefield Boys' Grammar School Hall, and what is now one of the Grange School's Halls, probably on Friday 9th November at 9 a.m. The Old Stocktonians' Association will be represented. If you wish to attend, please confirm date and time beforehand by telephoning the School or Brian Brand (583025) or Gordon Rattenbury (582146).

The War Memorials for 1914-18 and 1939-45 are to remain in their present position, in the keeping of the Grange School.

OLD BOYS HERE AND THERE

Those who read the 1969-70 notes on 'Old Boys Here and There' may remember the unfinished story of ALAN BARKER (1955-62). He and his wife were both students at Salford University and both got 'First's'; his was in Chemistry, hers in Physics. Then they both started post-graduate research.

We are now in a position to continue the story: The three-years research is completed and they have both got their Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry. Alan has now got a teaching post at a new Sixth Form College at Eccles, and his wife Marjorie has also got a teaching post, at a Grammar School at Urmston.

Congratulations to them both!

CLIVE BELL (1947-54) returned to join the Staff of his old school four years after leaving it as a boy. But not for life! In 1962 when Bede Hall opened as the 'Grammar Hall' on the Billingham Campus, he went there as Head of the Geography Department. He moved on from there to Eggescliffe Comprehensive School in 1969, and now he has had further promotion, becoming Deputy Head of Thornaby Grange School in 1973. Quite a promising lad!

* * *

A. E. (BERT) BISHOP (1915-19), wrote to us from Canada in December 1971 generously enclosing a donation to the Association's funds—a fact which we neglected to record in the last Year Book. May we belatedly publish our thanks. He remarks that an Old Boy, John Salmon, had been reported in the Year Book to be manager of Barclay's Bank Stockton Branch on which his (Bert's) cheque was drawn. He remembers two other Salmons who lived in Stockton years ago and wonders whether John is related to them. One was Thomas who was Registrar of Births and Deaths in 1903 (and for very many years after—Ed.) and whose signature is on Bert Bishop's Birth Certificate. The other used to play cricket for Norton in the days when Percy Barrowcliff played for Stockton, and when Evan Baldwin was active in cricket. Over (somewhat belatedly) to you!

* * *

MERVYN J. BLADES (1961-68) was married in 1971, and at the same time began research on a project in the Department of Mining Engineering at Nottingham University, which should lead, for him, to a Ph.D. Whether he has now completed this, and if so what his next step has been, we do not know but would be interested to hear.

* * *

JOHN L. BOWRON (1935-43) went from school to become a pilot in the wartime R.A.F. After demobilisation he went to King's College, London, whence he returned with L.I.B. after his name. He was then articled to Messrs. Newby Robson & Cadle in Stockton till he passed his Solicitors' Final Examination in 1950.

Thus equipped he joined the firm of Messrs. Malcolm Wilson & Cobby in Worthing, as an Assistant Solicitor. He is now Senior Partner of this large firm of eight partners and seventy staff.

Next year he will be leaving his firm for London to take up the very important post of Secretary-General of the Law Society. He has already been President and Hon. Secretary of the Worthing Law Society and was elected to the National Council of the Law Society in 1969.

In the legal profession it is apparently unusual for the Secretary-General of the Law Society to be appointed direct from private practice. With over 20 years of very varied experience immediately behind him, Mr. Bowron is excellently equipped to deal with the many difficult problems which will face him. We wish him all success.

BRIAN BRAND (1947-54) our new Hon. Secretary went from Grange-field in 1969 to the new Comprehensive School at Eggescliffe as Senior Science master. Now he has moved on, as 'Co-ordinator of Senior Studies' to Eastbourne School in Darlington, a Comprehensive 11-16 School. The title of his appointment will mystify those who are not up to date in educational jargon and many of those who are, but let us be plain about it, Brian is on the up!

J. M. BROWN (1961-68) recently graduated B.Sc. in Applied Science (Electrical and Electronic Engineering) at Newcastle University. With this qualification under his belt he proceeded to a job as Assistant Engineer with the N.E.E.B.

BRIAN CALLENDER (1958-66) went from school to Birmingham University, and graduated in French and Economics in 1969. He is now working at Birmingham Airport as an immigration officer.

* * *

DAVID CHESSEY (1965-72), Captain of the School in 1971-72 wrote from Nottingham University where he found enough Old Boys to make a Nottingham branch of the O.S.A.—Robert Bailey, Ian Carter, Ian Wilkinson, Geoff Cruickshank and Richard Dean. David was at that time struggling with the unfamiliar worlds of Modern Maths and Economics, which we hope are now open books to him. David was captain both of Rugby Football and Tennis at school. When he wrote it was early in the season and he had not yet won a place in the University 1st XV, for which the competition was very warm.

* * *

B. L. COLLIN (1962-69) graduated in 1972 at Nottingham and then went to London to work with International Computers Ltd. towards the end of September. He found that the chief difference between being a University Student and a Trainee Programmer was that he now had less money in his pocket. He had had, up to November, two very intensive training courses, and was hoping to start 'productive' work at the end of March, so by now, Autumn 1973, his pockets are no doubt embarrassingly full! He was very interested to learn of the founding of a Computer Club at school and the installation of an ICL 1904E computer.

Brian makes reference to frequent weekend visits to Nottingham where his fiancée was doing her final year, so perhaps we had better withdraw the reference to the fullness of his pockets.

* * *

TOM COWLEY (1958-65) is teaching Drama at the Furness Comprehensive School on Billingham Campus. In 1971 he was picked to join the Great Britain Handball Squad, and in March 1972 he represented Great Britain at Handball in Spain at the Olympic Eliminator Tournament for Munich. He is still a regular member of the Squad and has played 9 times at full and tournament international levels for Great Britain. He was looking forward to a full programme of international matches in 1973, including visits to Iceland, Italy and Germany.

Tom married a Stockton girl, Marjorie Highfield, in 1969, and they have a 2 year old son, Paul.

A final achievement: Tom had just completed his Open University Foundation Course in the Arts.

* * *

MARTIN IVOR DAVIES is doing a Sandwich Course for H.N.D. at the North London Polytechnic. At the time of writing, in May 73, he was working for J. Lyons Central Buying Group as Trainee O and M. We confess our ignorance as to what a Trainee O and M is—we thought O and M stood for Organisation and Method—but we believe that if you are doing a Sandwich Course there must be worse places to go to than Lyons.

GILBERT PATRICK DEE remembers the arrival at Nelson Terrace of Sid Dumble as a 'new young master'. It is still evident that he liked what he saw and thought his new games master to be a man of good sense!

Gilbert himself has now been retired several years, and looks younger every day. He visited Poland on holiday this year for the third time, and greatly enjoys these and other excursions to Eastern Europe.

His son PETER (1946-49) is a lecturer at Stockton-Billingham Technical College, while his younger son PAUL (1947-54) is a doctor, practising in Newcastle.

W. J. DOWNES (1959-66), having graduated in Architecture at the University of Aston in Birmingham, has now been appointed to the Staff of the County Architect's Department of North Yorkshire, at Northallerton.

* * *

KEN DUTTON, who went to Newcastle University in 1969 was accepted by Sheffield City College for the post-graduate Certificate in Education course starting in October 1973.

* * *

J. R. ENGLAND (1960-65) is still working for the Planning Department of Teesside County Borough. As this Borough is closing shop in six months time he will presumably be actively seeking a new employer. Meanwhile he has (again) changed his address. The new one is given in the list of Life Members at the end of this Year Book.

JOHN FARRINGTON, B.Sc. (1956-1963) qualified as a Chartered Engineer and became a full Member of the Institution of Civil Engineers in 1971. He has spent fourteen months in Southern India on a project for Davy Powergas Ltd. and is now in California working on a design for a copper plant being built by a joint venture of D.P.G.'s American branch and Western Knapp Eng. for a mine called Twin Buttes, south of Tucson, Arizona.

While in India, John took the opportunity to visit the Taj Mahal, which he says fully justifies all the superlatives used about it, many ancient temples and cities, and out West has admired the wonderful scenery of the Yosemite National Park in Nevada and the forests of huge Redwoods up to the Oregon border.

ERNEST FIEKE (1924-28) was Old Boy President of the Association in the 1950s, but more recently we have seen less of him, as what he describes as the 'industrial rat-race' took him to Glasgow. Now he has given up that particular race, retired early, and taken up residence at a frontier post half a mile south of the Border, where he presumably shelters the Sassenach Cattle-thieves skulking back from a raid over the border.

Seriously, we hope that his retirement has proved to be a complete cure for the ill-health which caused it—which he typically describes as 'nothing very serious, but rather more than dandruff.'

Certainly his surroundings sound idyllic, not only his wife (nee Dorothy Bell) and his daughter Susan, but also local farmers, some sheep of his own, deer, red squirrels, weasels and stoats. Not to mention views of Scotland, the Solway and the Lake District.

Directions to their old friends: travel north from Carlisle for 16 miles, turn right at the Bush Hotel in Longtown. Address: Lowfield Cottage, Penton. Phone no. Nicholforest 309.

IAN GRAY (1958-65) took his degree in Mathematics at Manchester and then worked for I.C.I. on Teesside for nearly five years, during which he married—a Mathematician! But we understand that his job with I.C.I. did not really satisfy him because it did not offer him sufficient Mathematics! So he has moved to a post in Johannesburg which gives him work which interests him more. There he is in contact with his cousin MICHAEL WATSON (1949-56) who is working for a Construction firm in the Transvaal, and whose father RICHARD WATSON (1916-20) is now living in retirement at Greay Ayton.

At the Annual Dinner in January, 1973, the most distant member to attend was Mr. JOHN F. GUILLE. Mr. Guile was for a long time Town Clerk of Grantham, and is now living in retirement in that pleasant town. We are indebted to him in this Year Book for the information regarding JOHN L. BOWRON which he culled for us from the Law Society's Gazette.

* * *

C. E. HALL (1962-69) has recently taken a job with Scott, Brownrigg and Turner, a large firm of Consultant Architects and Town Planners in Guildford. He and his wife are living in a flat in the village of Tilford, near Farnham and about 11 miles from Guildford. His wife is working for Beechams, so between them the Hall family should be doing reasonably on the financial side. But the question remains for them as for so many others in 1973, when will they be able to consider affording a mortgage in a locality where house prices start around £10,000? Our best wishes to them.

MERVYN HANSFORD (1964-68), who transferred to Sale County Grammar School at the end of his 4th year at Grangefield, went in 1972 to the University of Wales, Institute of Science and Technology, to study Ophthalmic Optics.

H. DENIS HARDIE (1934-39) is still with Vickers Shipbuilding Group at Barrow in Furness with a responsibility at Board level, amongst a variety of duties, for training and development for 14,000 staff and hourly paid employees; management and technical services; overseas technical aid involving naval contracts in India and Argentina. In the latter field, we have built and launched a guided missile destroyer for the Argentine Navy and are currently assisting their own naval and dockyard personnel to build a second vessel at a selected shipyard in Buenos Aires. We provide all training, advice, 'know-how' and technical aid for their personnel as well as a 'building kit' so that they can carry out the construction themselves under our guidance. Recent business travels have taken me to Norway, Sweden, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Pakistan and Argentina.

Currently Captain of Windermere Golf Club—just managing to retain a handicap of 16 in spite of recurring cartilage trouble. Which means that I spend more time on 'administrative duties' than on the course! And a fair share of this is at the 19th!

Wife (Audrey) and self celebrated our Silver Wedding in July of this year and eldest daughter (Jane) had her 21st birthday. She is a bacterologist at Glaxo Laboratories Ltd., Kendal. Next in line is Gillian (aged 18) now at Hereford Teacher Training College. Our twin daughters (aged 9) still keep us all active and young at heart. Favourite pastime is swimming but will insist on dad participating too, who in spite of being a speedy freestyler in his school days, now blows and puffs several yards behind them!!

In a voluntary capacity I am also concerned with many national committees and working parties associated with Ministry of Defence Quality Assurance, City & Guilds of London Institute, Royal Institution of Naval Architects, Shipbuilding Industry Training Board and Shipbuilding and Repairers National Association.

Past Chairman of the Furness and Cumberland Branch of the Institution of Works Managers, member of the National Membership Committee and North Regional Board.

Recently elected to the Board of Governors of the Central College of Education at Barrow. Industrial adviser to Lancaster University. Chairman of the local branch of The Sailors' Childrens' Society((charitable organisation for orphaned children of merchant seamen).

... A busy life—but most rewarding and enjoyable!

ALAN HARLE (1962-67) is working for Ashmore's and also doing a degree by sandwich course at the Teesside Polytechnic. We understand that he has now started on his final year, so it should be in order to wish him luck!

* * *

J. G. HINDMARSH, M.A. (Lond.) is reported to be teaching at Bedford, but also in the same report, to be 'soon moving'. Message received but not completely understood.

* * *

JOHN KNOTT left school in 1972 and went to employment by Hargreaves (Ready-Mixed Concrete Division) in Darlington. His job was Quality Control, and he spent three weeks at Slough on a course at the Cement and Concrete Association Conference and Training Centre.

It sounds a hard life!

D. H. LEE (1930-34), whom we were pleased to meet again at the Annual Dinner, is Head of the W. J. Sanderson Orthopaedic Hospital School in Gosforth. He is also Chairman of the North-Eastern Association for Spina Bifida and Hydrocephalus, whose national President is our old friend Lord Maybray-King.

* * *

MICHAEL LIDDLE (1967-70), who has recently achieved his B.Ed., has been appointed by the Inner London Education Authority to teach Geography at a Comprehensive School 'opposite the Houses of Parliament'. We trust that, if he has any time to spare, he will pop in occasionally to instil a little order and good sense into the occupants of the establishment across the way.

Alderman GORDON McINTYRE of Durham City has many distinctions. To go back a good many years to start with, he is a Bachelor of Commerce of the University of Durham. He is also F.R.Econ.S., and A.I.A.C.

Immediately after the War he entered local politics and was elected a Councillor for Durham City in 1945. He was Mayor of Durham in 1952/1953, and was elected an Alderman in 1958. He continued his public work and in 1971 was awarded a very distinctive honour when he was granted the Freedom of the City. Finally in May 1973 he was again elected Mayor of Durham. This time he is to be the last Mayor of the City, for the re-organisation of Local Government in 1974 involves the ending at least of the present line of Mayors. Alderman McIntyre is in fact the 351st Mayor of Durham City—which, if you combine your knowledge of Arithmetic with your knowledge of History, takes you back to the reign of King James the Sixth of Scotland and First of England!

DONALD McINTYRE (1918-1924), brother of GORDON, retired three or four years ago to the Isle of Man. He too had spent his life in Durham, but in his case as an Architect. For 36 years he held the appointment of Architect to Durham Cathedral, a post which the average amateur of our glorious ancient cathedrals would place very high among all the jobs in the land. We suspect it must have involved a great deal of unexciting routine and hard work. In any case, the University of Durham evidently appreciated Mr. McIntyre's efforts, as they conferred on him a few years ago the honorary degree of Master of Arts. We understand that, although nominally retired, Mr. McIntyre is doing quite a lot of architectural work in the Isle of Man.

While idly glancing at the goggle-box one Sunday evening early in October we suddenly realised that we recognised one of the faces thereon. Consulting the Radio Times we confirmed that it was indeed ALASTAIR PIRRIE and that the programme was called 'See you Sunday'. Alastair is by now quite an experienced broadcaster on Radio Teesside, and whilst still at school took a part in the professional production of the musical 'Pickwick' at the Billingham Forum. We look forward with interest to future developments in his career in the media.

Although DAVE NASH (1951-54) is still in the Army, he has bought himself a house near York, as he reckons houses will be too expensive to buy by the time he retires from the Army.

This provides him with a huge garden to dig. This keeps him fit for the latest sport he has taken up, fencing.

He is still working for exams, has passed the finals of the Institute of Cost and Management Accountants, and is now trying to study for the Finals of the Institute of Taxation. "However, I never seem to get past the Income Tax stage, as I always discover another item I haven't claimed for myself!"

In the recent and present re-organisations of Local Government, officials of local authorities go through some harrowing times, wondering what is going to happen to their careers. For instance, HARRY RAY (1932-37) was until 1968 Housing Manager for the Borough of Stockton-on-Tees. That year, that Borough was 'abolished' and Harry became Deputy Housing Manager for the County Borough of Teesside. Next year, to be more precise on 31st March 1974, that County Borough will be 'abolished', and we are pleased to see that Mr. Ray has been appointed Housing Manager for the new District of Stockton-on-Tees (NOT the same as the old Borough, as it includes also Billingham, Thornaby, Yarm, Eaglescliffe and much of Stockton Rural District).

A photograph in the Evening Gazette on Wednesday 18th July showed a group of retiring Headteachers who had had a farewell 'party' from the Teesside Education Committee. Among them of course was our own Headmaster, Mr. Bradshaw, but also two who were boys at Nelson Terrace. These were HARRY RIGG, Headmaster of Tilery Junior School; and ERNIE CLARK (1927-34), Headmaster of Frederick Nattrass Junior School. We understand that Harry is not moving from Stockton, but that Ernie has already moved to Skeeby, near Richmond. We wish them both long and happy retirement.

DAVID ROBSON was until recently continuing his career as an Architect in Switzerland. He has now returned to his native Northerly climes, as an Architect with the Washington New Town Corporation.

His younger brother JOHN, on the other hand, has just made a move in the opposite direction. He is a Geologist and has been working with Cleveland Potash. He has now taken a post at the British Library, the new name given to the Science Reference Library attached to the British Museum—in effect a complete change of job.

We were very pleased to have a letter from a distinguished Old Stocktonian, A. E. (Teddy) SHIELDS. He went from School in the thirties to Cambridge and then to the Indian Civil Service. This career ended with the granting of Independence to India and Pakistan in 1947, and Mr. Shields then went to South Africa where he was on the Administrative Staff of the University of Grahamstown for a number of years. When the University of Sussex, one of the first of the 'New Universities' opened its doors in 1960, he was its first Registrar, that is of course, its Chief Administrative Officer. As such he has helped Sussex grow from nothing at all to a University of nearly 4000 students.

Not content with these achievements, Mr. Shields has now gone to Australia, and is Registrar at the University of Adelaide. This is very unlike his first experience at Brighton, as Adelaide is already 99 years old, and has 8000 students. As it is in the centre of a large city, he expects to have new problems to deal with, as well as old problems in a new context.

Nelson Terrace, India, South Africa, Sussex, Australia—a varied and interesting career we would say.

J. A. SMITH (1946-51) is a Chartered Electrical Engineer, in which capacity he has deserted the N.E. for the S.W. and works for S.W.E.B. near Bridgwater in Somerset. His first introduction to the S.W. was on a cycling tour which he undertook with Paddy O'Neill and Ian Grant from Bristol to Land's End and back. He remembers too Mr. Wright's walking parties on the Moors and Dales and in the Lakes, and the 1950 School trip to Paris. His wife, née Pat Law from 'The Girls' School', and he live with their three children in the small town of North Petherton, but visit Teesside fairly frequently. 'J.A.' describes himself as a 'struggler' at golf, but he must 'struggle' to some effect as he won the local Round Table cup this summer!

Friday, 1st December 1972, saw a notable gathering in Stockton's Old Town Hall. It was billed as a 'Special Occasion to mark the Publication of the History of Stockton by Tom Sowler'. Three of the four principals were Old Stocktonians, first TOM SOWLER himself, then the Chairman of Teesside Arts & Entertainment Committee, Councillor KEN BATES and thirdly the Mayor of Teesside, Councillor MAURICE SUTHERLAND. They were supported in the throng who watched and listened and applauded by several other O.S. members, of whom we should perhaps give special mention to PETER SOWLER, and HERBERT FARRINGTON.

This was known as the Launching of the Book. Wine was served, but so far as we could observe a bottle was not broken over the prow of the volume.

By the way, it's a good book. Have you read it?

We heard, in a brief and business-like letter, that N. C. SPENCE (1960-68) has taken up a teaching post with the Cheshire authority.

* * *

KEN TAYLOR (1958-65) graduated at Nottingham in Civil Engineering in 1968. He has since been working on site in Nottingham and in the Gloucestershire-South Wales area. Now he has moved to London where he is on the staff of the professional publication, the New Civil Engineer.

* * *

C. R. THOMPSON (1960-65) obtained his H.N.D. in Civil Engineering by attending night classes and finally by a sandwich course at Teesside Polytechnic from 1969-71. His aim now is a University Degree and he is hoping that British Rail will sponsor him for this. Meanwhile he has been working for B.R., first at Darlington, then Thornaby, then Colchester. There his responsibility has been most of the technical and surveying work between Shenfield, Harwich, Clacton-on-Sea and Manningtree, which involves a lot of site work on the 90 to 100 mph routes. We hope to hear more of Mr. Thompson's progress in the future.

* * *

We were very interested to receive a letter from G. W. WILKINSON, who first went to the old school in Nelson Terrace in 1910. He took his London degree in 1920 and then wrote to the Stockton Education Office in Dovecot Street, offering his services as a teacher. To this offer he never received any reply—possibly because he did not enclose a stamped addressed envelope! However, what Stockton lost Leeds gained, and after spells of teaching there and at Whitby Mr. Wilkinson went to Sheffield where he remained for 28 years, ending as Headmaster of a large Boys' Grammar School. He retired in 1961 and is now living at Whitby. He is kind enough to express appreciation of the Stocktonian Year Books, and we in our turn send him our best wishes for many more years of happy retirement.

* * *

D. G. WILLMER has moved to yet another London College. We record elsewhere that he took his M.Sc. at King's, after a B.Sc. at University College. Now he has gone to Queen Elizabeth College where he is, as he puts it, "researching for a Ph.D."

We believe there are dozens more Colleges in London—

In Memorium

SYDNEY DUMBLE died on 2nd November 1972. He was the longest-serving member of the Staff in the history of the School. He joined the Staff in January 1911, and retired in August 1953. His appointment was listed as for 'Drill and Games', previous appointments having been for 'Drill'. Drill evolved into P.T. and then into P.E. under him. Games were taught by him to generations of Stocktonians, always with the handicap of the school field's remoteness from the school. When the school moved to Grangefield, a younger full-time P.E. master was appointed and Mr. Dumble, who was already Senior Master, devoted all his time to this and to teaching Geography.

In retirement he maintained his interest in the boys of the school and in Stockton Rugby Club. Perhaps his greatest interest was found at the West End Bowling Club, where one Old Boy President in particular used to meet him. A quiet, unassuming man, he inspired great affection. We send our greetings to Mrs. Dumble, and to his three children.

FRANCIS RAYMOND ADDISON died on 16th February 1972 at the age of 72. He worked for a firm of solicitors in Stockton for 53 years until his retirement in 1967. His main hobby was Church bell ringing—he was a bell-ringer for 59 years. A record of faithfulness both in work and leisure which few could equal.

* * *

HERBERT WALKER (1915-17) died at Redcar on 3rd April, 1972. He had worked for much of his life at Coventry and his retirement to Teesside was quite recent.

* * *

We regret to report that Mr. R. B. WEARS died at Norwich on 8th August, 1973.

'Bert' Wears was at the Higher Grade School in the first years of the century.

He was one of the band of Old Stocktonians who in 1913 founded the O.S.A., and was with them very active in it in the early years. He spent much of his life in the Merchant Navy, in which he rose to be a Chief Engineer. Subsequently he returned to Stockton and was on the Staff of the Technical Institute, which has now become the Stockton-Billingham Technical College.

He is remembered as a most conscientious and thorough worker and a good friend.

We send our regrets to Mrs. Wears, who is still living in Norwich.

GOODBYE FROM Mr. BRADSHAW

A retiring Headmaster might say his farewells, with suitable moralising, to the school that goes on without him, but, when the school has, so to speak, retired at the same time, it is rather like two ghosts speaking, and moralising loses its target.

I came to Grangefield in May, 1957, but, as Headmaster at Stockton Grammar School, I had known it and its two previous Heads for nearly five years. The Church Grammar School being housed at that time in appalling little buildings in Norton Road, the new Grangefield buildings seemed to us to be gold-plated. They were not, I found, all they seemed. The shell of the school dated from the 1930s and lay half-finished throughout the War, and long after. The walls were (and are) immensely strong, but the heart of the creature (its heating system) has always been a feeble thing. Those that have suffered from its vagaries in the oil and gas ages will not realise how much worse (and dirtier) things were in the 1950s when coal had to be shovelled into the hoppers; when a caretaker in poor health, with no assistant, had to look after the two schools, and some Sixth-Formers and myself on one occasion did the stoking.

I like to think of Grangefield as a fine school, but am not sure what I mean by this. The bread-and-butter work of a grammar school is reflected in examination results, and these were well above average, especially in its last ten years; but it shows some meanness of spirit to make this the main standard of judgment. And it is childish, I know, to be as pleased as I always was, by athletic successes—and few things made me happier than the consistently fine performances of the rugby, cricket, and tennis teams. I confess, with a little more dignity, to a delight in watching emerge from the school some fine painting, some excellent poetry, and, in the last few years, a great surge of musical interest and performance. Even beyond this, I have been happy to see, in recent years, a growth in the generosity of the school. First, there was an increase in willingness to volunteer for collecting for charities, especially for the Blind, but the big change came when the boys formed their own Charities Committee, and found a big response from the mass of the school. The three annual 'Walks' have been feasts of fun, which tapped the generosity of friends and relatives on an immense scale.

Small things stay in the mind. A notable rascal, who left school a week or two before the end, said his good-bye with immense friendliness and good-humour. In the Final Service, the School sang 'Guide me, O Thou Great Redeemer' better (and I don't mean just 'louder') than I had ever heard before; and Mr. Horsman's Voluntary, on the theme of 'Vivat Schola Stocktonensis' was well appreciated. 'Vivat' may have seemed a little ironic for a School just taking its final curtain, but there are several ways of 'Living'.

Headmaster, 1957-73

THE SCHOOL, 1896-1973

As you can still read on the wall of what was till recently Stockton's highest and most massive building, the Stockton Higher Grade School was opened in 1896. In those days, the school leaving age was 12, and the Local Education Boards had not yet begun to operate 'Secondary Schools', but there was a national movement towards extending to a greater age and higher standards the compulsory elementary education, consisting basically of the famous three Rs, given hitherto in the public system of education. Higher Grade Schools had this purpose, which was soon afterwards given a statutory basis in the Balfour Education Act of 1902, enabling Local Education Authorities to establish Secondary Schools. And on 1st October 1906 the building in Nelson Terrace was renamed the Stockton Secondary School, a name it was to keep for 37 years.

The purpose of the Secondary School was essentially the same as that of its predecessor the Higher Grade School, and its successors, the Secondary Grammar School (1944-51) and Grangefield Grammar School (1951-73). That is, to provide within the public system of education the opportunity for those willing and considered able to continue their education beyond the School leaving age; and thus to open the path to the Universities or other forms of higher education to those who had the gifts, irrespective of their social origin or parents' income. This function these variously-named schools have continued to perform. Boys have gone to the universities from Stockton by this route since the early years of the century, at first a trickle of two or three a year, reaching a level of over 50 a year in the 1960s. It has been because of this school that boys from Stockton have risen to positions of national importance which in an earlier age would have been difficult or impossible of attainment for those not born to relative wealth.

The very success of this system has led to the great changes in the whole educational system which are coming about at the present time. First the Butler Education Act of 1944 gave expression to the demand for Secondary Education for all. Then the conviction became widespread that different types of Secondary Education mean better for some and worse for others. So now the opportunities first made available through the Higher Grade and Secondary Schools are to be made available to all through making all schools comprehensive up to 16 as they have hitherto been up to 11.

Up to 16 the opportunities are not only available, they are compulsory. There is still the need for further opportunities, for those who wish to continue their education beyond what is compulsory... These opportunities are to be provided in Stockton in the School system by the Sixth Form College. Open to all 16 year olds who wish to continue their education, it partly provides the necessary link between the new secondary schools and Higher Education, partly may be used as an opportunity to prolong education for whatever reason.

"Whom God hath joined, let no man put asunder" used to refer only to Marriage. Now it is taken as referring also to the human family in the mass, and segregation of the sexes is OUT. All the new schools and the Sixth Form College are co-educational.

So in 1973 Secondary Education in Stockton has taken its leap into the future.

THE HEADMASTERS

The School had five Headmasters covering its 77 years. The first, Mr. J. J. Prest, reigned from 1896-1923, and with 27 years in office set a record which was not beaten! In those days a Headmaster's attitude to Staff as well as to Boys was far more authoritarian than it is now. The classrooms at Nelson Terrace were fitted with a kind of 'intercom' by which lessons could be interrupted and a master summoned to the poky little room which was the Headmaster's study.

Mr. Prest's long rule came to an end with his retirement and his successor was Mr. Crockett. Mr. Crockett, who became Dr. Crockett during his time here, was a Scottish rugby international, and it was under him that the handling code was introduced to the school—which was at first frankly unenthusiastic. After six years Dr. Crockett moved on to be Headmaster of the William Ellis School in North London.

He was succeeded by another Scottish Doctor, J. R. Kinnes. Dr. Kinnes was Head for 24 years, 1929-53. He had been gassed and taken prisoner in the First World War, and continually suffered in health. He was quite a practitioner in the Arts—the School still possesses the double bass which he used to play for the Musical Union, and he had painted some creditable watercolours.

Dr. Kinnes saw the school through its exile to Norton in 1940 and its return to Nelson Terrace in 1944. After over 20 years of Hope Deferred he finally took it to Oxbridge Avenue, in 1951, but he was there only two years.

Mr. C. L. Hall, 1953-56, had the shortest period as Headmaster of the five, and like Dr. Crockett went on to another school as Headmaster—indeed to two more, for after three years at Bury he came back to the North East to Darlington. In his brief time he made many changes, adapting the school to its new building, introducing new subjects, Biology, Economics, Geology, starting the expansion of the Sixth Form.

The Deputy Head, Mr. Munday, took charge of the School as Acting Head for the term from Christmas 1956 to Easter 1957, after which he handed it over to Mr. Bradshaw.

Mr. Bradshaw carried on and carried further the modernising work of Mr. Hall. The Sixth Form grew bigger, and was offered a wider choice of subjects—as wide (dare we say it in despite of theories?) as the choice offered at a Sixth Form College. As a Cambridge man he must have been very pleased when some of the cleverer boys started to win scholarships and exhibitions at Oxford and Cambridge with a regularity not known here before. There was always something new happening, and one could not forecast what the next development would be. Early in his reign, operas and plays, the Bird Club and the Gym Club flourished; these faded out and the orchestra and the Chess Club, Basketball and Orienteering boomed. It was the period of Groups, some of which appeared at our own school dances; and of Long Hair, which started in the Sixth and crept down the school till now every First former has a 'page cut' and half the staff have never known a 'short back and sides'; and of Charity Walks, of which a very amusing (and safe) local version has been established. Only 'Demos' seem to have passed by Grangefield!

So to 1973 and the 'Successor Schools'.

The Headmaster of the Grange School is Mr. E. C. Evans, who comes from a similar school in Billericay, where he was Deputy Head.

The Principal of the Sixth Form College is Mr. A. Carr, who comes from the Sixth Form College at Scunthorpe where he was Deputy Principal.

To these two gentlemen we extend a hearty welcome to Stockton.

THE STAFF, 1896-1973

We thought it would be of interest to Old Boys and Young Boys of all ages to include a list of the members of Staff who served from 1896-1973. The Staff Register, which is of course continuous, lists 218 names. This would make a very long list, so we have omitted the names of those who were on the Staff for less than 3 years, which leaves a list of 124 names.

We have shown qualifications, special subjects or duties, and dates at the school; also where the member went from here, if known.

The School was mixed from 1896-1914.

OLD BOYS ON THE STAFF

T. B. Brooke (1922-52) was the only Old Boy to join the Staff of the School at Nelson Terrace. But T. K. Whitfield (1951-73) was one of the new appointments at the opening of Grangefield, and he was followed by a goodly company, consisting of:

R. M. Atkinson (1939-46, 1953-60); J. L. Thornton (1942-49, 1954-63); C. Bell (1947-54, 1958-62); J. J. Davison (1951-58, 1961-67); B. P. Brand (1947-54, 1962-69); C. Sinclair (1952-59, 1963-69); D. M. Allison (1949-56, 1970-73); J. L. H. Allison (1964-66, 1970-73); and G. S. Rayner (1959-66, 1970-73). This select band can be made up to a round dozen by the addition of J. Milner (1947-54) who spent a period of three weeks (no less!) on the Staff in about 1960.

Looking at that list of names we cannot but be proud of the quality of our products!

THE BOOK

In the month of June twenty-one years ago Grangefield Grammar School was fast approaching its first anniversary and as usual during the summer term the elderly greybeards who formed the staff were busy marking examination papers. Silence was punctuated only by the scratch of red pencils and an occasional snort as some new ignorance came to light. Snorted A. "Listen to this. I told the first form that when Dr. Livingstone died, two of his faithful servants embalmed his body and carried it to the coast. Young XYZ now tells me that 'two of his servants covered him with pickles . . .!!'" Guffaws all round. Said the History Master, "That's good enough for a book." Said the Music Master, "Why don't we start one?" And that is how it all began.

Since then the jealously guarded volume has been added to—erratically sometimes but nearly always affectionately—by succeeding generations, in the school sense, of masters and boys. Some of the earlier—involuntary—contributors are now highly qualified scientists, engineers or university teachers. Some of the more recent are still at school. In either case anonymity seems the only course in presenting this small selection.

Few subjects failed to contribute although pride of place must go to History, as any student of '1066 and All That' would expect.

From mediaeval 'history' come the following:

Q. What were the three major monastic orders?

Answer (1970) (i) Not to talk in church only when they were singing. (ii) Only were aloud to eat in the Frater. (iii) . . . ?

Answer (1973) The main monastic orders of a monk were not to talk, not to make a noise and most of all not to smoke and not to drink. The latrine is the place where the younger members of the monastery could go and have a chat because they wouldn't be able to stand not talking.

King Stephen was not a very good king so that's why he wanted to get married. The marriage was 'off-on-off' to Princess Matilda until one day they got married and they both disappeared.

The Tudor period seems to have been a really incredible age. Consider for instance:

1954 Magellan was the sailor who attempted to sail round the world and succeeded although he was killed by natives on the way.

1956 Drake was killed in Nombre Dios bay by being slung between the round shots.

1957 Goosey-goosey gander was a man called Drake who wandered from side to side, and then enjoyed the Queen's favours 'in my Lady's chamber'.

1954 Henry's first wife Catherine was very good to him and they had many babies. He wanted a divorce because she could not give him a son: The Pope was unable to give him one. Henry decided that Thomas Wolsey was the man for the job. When he failed the King took things in his own hands and married Anne Boleyn.

History is pre-eminent but other subjects have their lore. Here are a few selected at random:

Q. What is mean sea level? A. Sea that is higher than land.

1956 Q. Why is a person whose clothes are alight made to lie down and covered with a rug or blanket. A. . . . the rug is worn to stop the burns from getting cold.

1953 Water is a bad conductor of heat because if you heat the water it gradually gets colder.

1953 CO<sub>2</sub> does not rust. It is a gas with an odourless smell. Water is a compound because human beings cannot live in it.

1955 The Australian aborigines live on a diet of grubs and wallabies.

1954 The coefficient of expansion of a liquid is the amount of liquid that looks as if it has expanded less than it really has.

An acid is a solution which burns without a flame.

Diamond and graphite are similar because they are found in the same place—diamond in South Africa and graphite in Cumberland.

1959 Lloyd George took up soliciting when he was 21.

The Orders in Council were issued from the King's Privy.

1964 Much of South Australia is covered by temperamental grasslands. Of all the millions of sheep in Australia 20% are cattle.

1969 Macbeth had a collapsable wife.

1971 Q. What were the major monastic orders? To which did the following monasteries belong (i) Rievaulx, (ii) Mount Grace, (iii) Durham?

A. Chastity, obedience, poverty. Poverty at Rievaulx. Chastity at Mount Grace. Obedience at Durham.

1973 Joan of Arc was born in 1412 and died 19 years later in 1931.

1971 Q. How many hours between  $x$  p.m. on Friday and  $y$  a.m. the following Tuesday? A.  $120 - p + q$ .

Christ was born in a stable in a cradle on 25/12/0 B.C.

Elizabeth I was the daughter of Amber Lynne.

Q. Who was the mother of Elizabeth I. A. Henry VIII.

- 1968 A spiral is a straight line wrapped round an oblong circle.
Art criticism 1969 style—"The eye is led into the picture by the right foot of the waiter in the white apron."
- 1966 An angle which leaves the diameter at the centre and joins it again at the circumference= $90^{\circ}$ .
- 1972 Offa's dyke was built to keep Whales out of England.
- 1952 The 'Rocket' was an engine with a tender behind.
- 1963 Mary I had to declare herself legitimate because she had been made illicit when her father Henry VII had divorced her mother Catherine of Harrogate.
- 1970 An eclipse is caused by the sun passing between the moon and the earth.
Q. Is water acid or alkaline. A. I think water is an alcoholic.
Trade Boards were set up to fix wages for people in the 'sweating industry'.
- 1956 Q. What post is held by Earl Mountbatten. A. King Consort.
When the Venerable Bede died in Jarrow AD 735 the students from Durham stole his body.
- 1954 Louis XIV rendered his nobles impotent at court.
'Nil sine labore' = No signs of work.

Is it surprising that proportionally more schoolteachers suffer from nervous breakdowns than any other profession?

GAMES AND SPORTS

You can read in the memories of E. S. Goodchild how at the time of the First World War the school had to beg the use of various fields for games from Sports clubs in the town. Obviously in 1896, no provision whatever was made for playing fields for the school. Nevertheless, these were the conditions of the time, and high standards were achieved.

After the First War the Ropner Playing Field was taken over. This was really two fields, a relatively flat one belonging to Stockton Grammar School and a relatively mountainous one which was the domain of S.S.S. Both schools used to use both fields, S.S.S. on Tuesdays (juniors) and Thursdays (seniors), S.G.S. at some other time. At one time sheep used to be pastured there too, and the poor creatures have been known to become enmeshed in the goal nets in the days of Soccer.

In the period between the Wars, the School produced its one international at any sport, Harold Lodge, who kept goal for England's Amateur Football Team. (In those days Stockton Football Club was a power in the Amateur Football world.)

Under Dr. Crockett's Headmastership and Mr. Dumble's Sports-mastership, Rugby football was introduced, and after a few years football was 'dropped' from the programme, so that the school has been purely a Rugger School for 40 years. Not at first very successful in the new code, the first high spot in this game was achieved in the period 1937-9, immediately before the War, when the teams had excellent records.

The same period, 1937-9, was a high-water mark in Athletic sports. Interschool competition then in Athletics took the form of an annual six-sided contest in this area, and there must be many who remember Stockton's two famous victories in these sports.

Cross-country running had by this time become well established, and once a year the whole senior school used to brave the wrath of farmers and their livestock as they ran from the School field to Red-marshall and Carlton and back.

Cricket was played on the table land on the top of the mountainous field. This would have helped the scoring—as any decent hit would reach the slope—were it not for the fact that when the sheep were no longer on the field it was because the farmer wanted a good hay crop. So that, beyond a moderate-sized 'square' the outfield grew deeper and deeper in grass. This would be cut in late June, and then the fielders would only have to cope with the cut grass, gradually drying out till it was stacked just before the term ended. The wonder was that any good cricketers emerged, but they certainly did, and the name of Tot Olver was perhaps the best-known of the period.

The sporting life of the school suffered very badly in the Second World War. And the doldrums persisted to a degree through the six year period after the War up to the move to Grangefield.

The first year at Grangefield saw the bull-dozers in possession of the field, and the continued use of the Ropner field. But when the School had its own playing field ready on the spot, the conditions were so greatly improved that one can say truthfully that standards in all games went up considerably and rapidly.

The School Rugby teams soon came to be among the strongest in the area—from Morpeth to Scarborough—covered by their fixtures. They became so under Ted (Black Jack) White and remained so under Peter (Rock) Hudson.

The Gym Club flourished for a time and won numerous 'pots'.

The cricket suffered for a time from a very unpredictable pitch. But this has improved with age and there have been some very good teams and outstanding players.

The tennis team of the late fifties and early sixties won their way to the national final of the Glanville Cup several times and became familiar with Queen's Club. Though they never were national champions there was one year when they beat the champions but lost to the other teams.

Basketball became a very popular sport. Teams played in local leagues and performed extremely well.

The standard in Athletics was improved after a proper cinder track was laid on the School Field. The newer events—javelin, discus, triple jump—were added to the old. Some of the traditionalists rejoiced to see the revival of that old favourite the Tug o'War.

Cross-country continued to be widely practised.

All the juniors forms were taught swimming. At the annual Gala, as ever, the few shone, the vast majority cheered.

Recently Volleyball has become very popular.

Table tennis has usually had its devotees.

The Stockton Sports Centre and more recently the new sports centre which used to be Ashmore's Club have been much used and appreciated by the Senior Boys.

In the past three years a limited number of boys have taken up fencing, others golf. The school has produced a hockey team. There has been at least one official fishing expedition. Boys have been on 'courses' for boating and sailing and fell-walking.

Orienteering, pioneered here by Dave Allison, an Old Boy who rejoined as a Master, has many keen followers.

In short, instead of the one or two games of the older days, boys have been encouraged to seek out their own preference and practise whatever sport they choose.

All this is the 'modern style' in sport. And we trust that equally varied opportunities will be available in the schools of the New System.

MUSIC

Old Boys of the 'Nelson Terrace' years have been frequently heard to speak of the love of music encouraged in them in their schooldays as one of the most valuable features of their school life.

In those days the formal music tuition in the school was restricted to singing lessons in the junior school. Gavin Kay, who attended only one and a half days a week to give these lessons, from 1921-51, was the leading conductor and choir-master on Teesside in those days, and we were fortunate indeed to have his services.

But the names of 'Tibby' Brook and 'Cubby' King are widely remembered for their extra musical activities. They ran a school orchestra, they ran what were really small chamber concerts every Wednesday after school, above all they conveyed a love of music through their Musical Appreciation classes in the Sixth Form.

All this faded away in the War years, but with the move to the new school and increased numbers, full-time music teachers were appointed, first Messrs. Basil White and Derek Downes, shared between girls' and boys' schools, and then Messrs. Derek Shute and Harry Horsman, appointed to the boys' school only.

This led to many new developments—first a joint boy-girl orchestra; then the performance of eight full length operas; the rise and decline of the Friday Choir, consisting of Staff, Parents and Friends of the school as well as senior boys and girls, which in its time gave public performances of Bach's St. Matthew Passion (shortened version) and Christmas Oratorio, Britten's St. Nicholas, Beethoven's Mass in C, Brahms' Requiem, Mendelssohn's Elijah and Fauré's Requiem; then in the last period—and particularly under the Teesside Authority with the provision of peripatetic teachers of most instruments of the orchestra—the development of a full orchestra of boys capable of tackling orchestral works of considerable difficulty, and doing so at regular concerts at which they were outnumbered if not outshone by the large choir of boys only.

Accounts of these concerts have regularly appeared in recent Year Books, and Old Boys of earlier times will be delighted to know that Grangefield has not lagged behind in the national movement for youth orchestras. Indeed we are told that the largest contingent in the Teesside Youth Orchestra has been from this school. And, as reported elsewhere, the School Orchestra won the open competition for orchestras at the Stockton Music Festival in October 1972.

SHOW-BIZ

Conditions for amateur dramatic performances were extremely unfavourable at the old Nelson Terrace building. Nevertheless, some plays were performed—for internal consumption only, chiefly shortened versions of Shakespeare plays.

The new Oxbridge Avenue building was also not well provided for in this respect. The Hall has a platform, not a stage, but over the years staff and boys between them managed to adapt, contrive and construct arrangements for stage shows which very well served their purpose. Those concerned will particularly remember the ingenuity and enterprise of Tony Coombs in the fifties, while Jon Hyland's switch-board still operates with reasonable efficiency in 1973. The platform was never big enough as a stage, and for early shows an extension was somewhat precariously balanced on beer crates borrowed from Cameron's brewery! Later an ingenious 'slide-out' extension was devised and is in fact in regular use as a permanent extension still.

We attempt to give below a complete list of the 23 shows given between 1952 and 1965. (In the last eight years of the School's life this type of activity unfortunately 'dried up' completely!)

Dec.	1952	Pantomime: Alec in Strangefield
Dec.	1953	Pantomime: The Mutiny at Strangefield
Mar.	1954	G & S: Ruddigore
Dec.	1954	Pantomime: The Strangefield Worm
Feb.	1955	Everyman
Mar.	1955	G & S: Princess Ida
Dec.	1955	Shakespeare: Julius Caesar
May	1956	Edward German: Merrie Engalnd
Dec.	1956	Shakespeare: Macbeth
Mar.	1957	Gay: The Beggar's Opera
Mar.	1958	Pantomime: The Strangefield Sputnik
Dec.	1958	Everyman
Mar.	1959	Two one-act plays
Dec.	1959	Shakespeare: Macebth
Mar.	1960	Shaw: The Devil's Disciple
Dec.	1960	Pantomime Alec in Strangefield (Mark II)
May	1961	G & S: The Pirates of Penzance
Apr.	1962	G & S: The Mikado
Dec.	1962	Pantomime The (Second) Mutiny at Strangefield
Mar.	1963	G & S: Iolanthe
Mar.	1964	G & S: The Yeomen of the Guard
May	1964	Shakespeare: Henry IV Part I
Dec.	1965	Pantomime: The Strangefield Worm (no. 2)

It is probable that none of these reached the ranks of the 'Ten best productions of the year'. We think it likely however that few shows were more greatly enjoyed by the casts and helpers involved, and that a good deal of this enjoyment rubbed off on to the audiences.

Norman Winn was a pupil at the Higher Grade School and the Secondary School from 1904-1911. He was at the inaugural meeting of the Old Stocktonians' Association in 1913, and was a member of the first committee. He was President of the Association in 1921-22 and 1926-27, and has been a Trustee of the Benevolent Fund since its inception. We asked him for some notes on the 'Early Days'. Here they are:

THE OLD STOCKTONIANS' ASSOCIATION

Now that the old school has ceased to exist, this seems an appropriate time to recall something of the birth and early days of the Old Stocktonians' Association. The number of those who can recall the inaugural meeting in 1913, called at the instigation of Evan Baldwin, must be rapidly diminishing. The idea was taken up with great enthusiasm. A strong committee was elected, and many sections formed. These included Rambling, Photography, Debating, Football and others. Lectures and Smoking Concerts were well attended at first, but faded out later, especially after the First World War. Public lectures by well-known people were always well attended.

The year 1921 saw two very important occasions. The first was of presentations to five who had been members of the original staff, twenty-five years earlier. These were the Headmaster, Mr. J. J. Prest, Messrs. Taylor, Ball and Upton, and Miss Miller. These names must evoke many memories! A week or two later, a quite different occasion was the unveiling of the War Memorial in the School Gymnasium.

A Christmas Party was held every year, when 100 poor children were lavishly entertained, but improvement in social conditions did away with the need.

One feature of which the Association can feel justly proud is the work of the Benevolent Fund. Scores of Old Boys have been helped over temporary difficulties, and practically all have repaid the loans, often with an additional payment. But here again the necessity has largely disappeared.

Old Boys all over the world look forward every year to receiving the Year Book. This, the Annual Dinner and Old Boys' matches have latterly been the main means of holding the Association together.

Any reference to the Association's early days would be incomplete without a testimony to the work of the late Evan Baldwin as Founder, first Secretary, and Convenor of the Benevolent Fund.

A SURVEY OF THE OLD STOCKTONIANS' BENEVOLENT FUND

At this time of change in the affairs of the Association it may be of interest to look at the 'constitution' of the Benevolent Fund. The Fund came into being on the 8th Feb. 1926 and its constitution, like the British Constitution, 'just grew'. Everybody seems to understand it, yet nowhere is it written down. This does not mean to say that the Fund has not been effective, for in the period since 1926 loans totalling £1140.47 have been made, and so far, only £10 of this has been accountable as a bad debt.

Grants and prizes have amounted to £330.32, and sundries £2.93. Over the period 1926-1972 the total receipts from all sources have amounted to £2166.52, the cash now remaining in the bank being £692.80.

At no time during its long history have any expenses been charged against the Fund by the Trustees in the course of their duty. Our Honorary Auditor was responsible, many years ago, for going through the accounts with a fine tooth comb, and finally drawing them up in the present easily manageable form.

There is no Trust Deed whatever for the Fund, and as from time to time Old Pupils express surprise, and almost disbelief at this, I thought it better to ask one of our Old Boy solicitors (our Honorary Lawman) to go through past Minutes, and express an opinion thereon. This he cheerfully agreed to do, and the thanks of this Association are due to him for all his efforts, but I regret to say that he is now a much changed man. There is a haunted look about him and he has been heard to mutter "ignotum per ignotius", followed by other phrases which could be considered to be rude.

The findings of this broken man are set out here, with my own comments when required, in parentheses.

Such is the Old Stocktonian's Benevolent Fund.

Solicitor's Report to the Convenor of the Benevolent Fund (dated 28th August 1973).

1. Position of Headmaster as Trustee.

Originally the Headmaster, in the shape of Dr. Crockett, was a Trustee but this seems to have been merely co-incidental and not a requirement of the rules as such. (The Trustees were three in number.)

When Dr. Crockett left the school he was not automatically replaced by a new Headmaster, Mr. Baldwin taking over, and it was one year or so later before Dr. Kinnes joined the committee. (The number was raised to four—as at present)

The original rules which appear at the beginning of the Book (i.e. the Minute Book), indicate that changes in the personnel of the Trustees should be ratified at an A.G.M. of the Old Boys' Association. However, later this appears to have been disregarded in any event, and I note that Mr. Munday and yourself (i.e. Tom Sowler) were nominated by a Committee of the Old Boys. The rules, however do go on to state quite categorically that the Trustees can alter the procedure at their absolute discretion. (These two appointments were ratified at the following A.G.M. This was not apparent from the Minutes of the Benevolent Fund.)

It was only with the arrival of Mr. Hall that it seems to have become recognised that the Headmaster in his position as such should be a Trustee of the Fund.

As a matter of general law the power of appointing new or additional Trustees always lies with the old Trustees. I would not like to be categorical but I would certainly be of the opinion that it is not strictly necessary that the present Headmaster should be a Trustee but that it has become a custom and no more he should be invited to be so.

2. Position of the Fund.

It is interesting to note that the original rules already mentioned never actually stated the purposes of the Fund although this is clearly implied.

The discretion which the Trustees were given over the procedure to be adopted does not of itself give a discretion over the use of the Fund but it might well be that the intention was that there should be a discretion.

There is a legal principle that if a fund's original use is no longer appropriate, that fund can be diverted for other similar purposes within the discretion of the trustees.

It is interesting to note that the use of the Fund was altered previously when it was agreed that the interest from the Fund should be set aside and used to give school prizes. It should be noted that this was ratified by an A.G.M. of the Old Boys' Association. (It was later withdrawn there.)

In my view, if the Old Boys' Association continues in another guise it would be quite proper for the Trustees to transfer the Fund to be used for similar or indeed other purposes in the new context.

It would, however, probably be better to obtain the approval of the A.G.M. but I do not consider this to be strictly necessary as the Fund as such is independent of the Old Boys' Association.

A difficulty may arise if the Old Boys' Association ends altogether. In this case there would be the question of returning the funds so far as could be to the original donors or their families and obviously this would raise problems. However, from recent discussions it would appear that the Association will continue in some form or another.

When he was Mr. Speaker, Horace King showed his continued interest in his old School by writing to us, by visiting the school and talking to the Sixth Formers, by coming as Guest Speaker to an Old Boys' Dinner, and by planting a tree on the lawn in front of the Dining Hall.

Now Lord Maybray-King, he has sent us these notes on his school-days, which will recall those times to his contemporaries and near contemporaries.

STOCKTON SECONDARY SCHOOL

The publication of Mr. Sowler's excellent history of Stockton-on-Tees tempts me to recall the Old School in Nelson Terrace, a few yards from the Hippodrome.

I went there for five years after one day in September 1912, walking from Norton whatever the weather. Other boys and girls came from even farther, coming by train from villages in the area, leaving home at about 7.30 and getting back somewhere about 6 p.m.—a long day, with homework still to be done unless they could manage it on the train.

In charge of the building was a stout old gentleman whom we called 'Daddy Bowrie'. He could be bribed with sweets ('bullets') and then he would allow us near the radiators in cold mornings before school began.

The headmaster was Mr. J. J. Prest—to us an awesome figure. Tall, dignified, he wore moustaches with waxed ends. We saw and heard him at School Assembly, which was held in the Gymnasium. The only other time when we encountered him was when we were sent to his study to be caned. The 'cane' was a butter-pat. Perhaps it stung less than the cane which had been savagely wielded at elementary school—but the pain covered a much larger area! For most of us such punishment was only the beginning, for parents at home had to be told, or they found out from other boys, and the second ordeal could be as bad as the first.

Our first form-mistress was a stern Miss Miller. We called her 'Katty Miller', and one innocent newcomer put his foot in it by so addressing her. French was taught by a chic little French lady, Mlle. Legay who taught us to sing simple French songs.

For its time it was a great modern school—teaching French, German, Physics, Chemistry and Metalwork, in addition to the ordinary subjects. There was however no Latin or Greek. Almost every master or mistress was a graduate, and each was a character.

Chemistry was taught by Mr. Taylor, who spent most of his time sitting at the high desk which was a feature of every classroom in the country in those days. He was a gentle creature, and an excellent teacher of a world easy and compact to grasp. The smallest particle of matter was the molecule. But it consists of smaller, indivisible bits called atoms. Neither he nor any of us could guess—nobody could at that time—that the atom itself was a fantastically complicated structure and that some of the mysteries of the lab were later to be explained as chemists dug further and further into the atom and even split it, releasing colossal forces as they did so.

Physics was taught by 'Billy Baker' somewhat irascible on the surface, with a warm heart underneath—just as the gentle Mr. Taylor could suddenly become fierce and stern.

C. W. King taught English. He was a bachelor and a brilliant amateur musician—one of the most loved masters in the School. Gentle as he was, he liked to pull the hair of boys who misbehaved. His hobby was Gilbert and Sullivan, and he gave each year a lecture on these, illustrated by vocal items from talented local singers. Here started for many an SSS boy a love for this great English pair. C. W. King also would often invite a couple of boys to tea and after tea would play the piano to them.

Upper School French was in the hands of J. W. Eden—we called him 'Froggy Eden'. He was also Sixth Form master. It was his task to cope with the challenge of youth, questioning youth. He was stern and forbidding. He was a fine French scholar, but taught the language in the old-fashioned way. We had to learn each week (as indeed our contemporaries in French schools had to learn then) a number of irregular verbs. He was a marvellous teacher of French prose. And he introduced us to our first French literature . . . especially to Alphonse Daudet.

He was a strange, lonely figure. During the War he spoke at meetings on the need for 'Peace by Negotiation' with the Germans. This was a highly unpopular attitude to take in an ultra-patriotic Stockton, but he was brave enough to stick to his guns—if so unhappy a metaphor can be used. I think that he was a very fine man indeed.

For Mathematics we had Mr. Ball . . . 'Billy Ball'. Mr. Ball was the gentlest of creatures—too gentle for the ruffians that some of us were. Occasionally he would burst out in an attempt to impose discipline on rebels, and usually, as is the case with one who is not good at discipline, would punish the wrong boys.

English was in the hands of Mr. Craig—'Jimmy Dick' we called him. He had a mannerism which we enjoyed. He would fiercely rub his nose from time to time. It was in his lessons that we boys noted, with complete lack of understanding, what appeared to be the double standard of discipline which a male teacher used for the girls and the boys in his class. For them gentle words of reproof: for us much harsher treatment. We did not realise that the two sexes needed different treatment. To us it seemed that the girls got away with murder!

With women teachers it was just the same—except that women handling girls had even greater skill than the men in what seemed to us gentle, but to the girls heavy, reproof.

When the War came all the men of military age went to fight the Germans. Occasionally they came back to see us, and I have vivid memories of the return of Mr. Nicholson, in uniform and a hero.

Geography was taught by Mr. Crofts . . . 'Gussy Crofts' we called him. When we were misbehaving teachers who were sports would give us warning that they were coming. Not so Gussy. It was his delight to creep along the corridors in the hope of catching us in the act—and he usually did!

The Art Master was the gentle Mr. Allan, white-haired and white moustached. Woodwork and Metalwork were taken by Mr. Upton, who emulated the Headmaster in the length of his waxed moustachios.

As the war went on, we had an ever increasing number of women teachers. Some of them had a terrible time. Once a teacher is found incapable of controlling a class, that class knows how to exploit the situation—and I remember a mistress bursting into tears.

Not so Miss Florence M. Brown, Science Mistress. No master controlled us more firmly and, apparently, without effort. Alas, we learnt that towards the end of 1972 Miss Brown passed away after long years of retirement in North Wales.

So too for discipline was Miss Nelson, who became the first Headmistress of the Girls' School when the two sexes separated. So too Miss Katty Miller, and the gentle Mlle. Legay.

The Gym Master was Mr. Dumble, dapper, agile, athletic until he was called up for military service. Mr. Dumble lived to be the last of the old school teachers who had served the School before the First War, except for Miss Brown.

I have said that we never saw the Head except for punishment. However the VI Form saw him, for he was a great teacher of history and always did some senior lessons in that subject.

Last . . . and certainly not the least, was one of the few masters without a degree. Evan Baldwin had passed his Inter-Arts examination but had got no further. He taught the youngest children in the School, but would help some promising seniors with private lessons in Latin, as Mr. Eden did in Greek.

Mr. Baldwin devoted himself to the Old Boys' Association, which he indeed created and which under his guidance flourished for a half a century. Old Stocktonians will never forget his many great works, not the least being an annual Christmas Concert to raise funds for poor children.

It was a great and devoted team of men and women, which sent into the stream of Stockton life several generations of worthy men and women.

(The butter-pat referred to by Lord Maybray-King went on to a long and distinguished career. It finally met its death on Active Service, while attacking the enemy from the rear. We think it better not to publish the names of the participants in this engagement, as 30 years have not yet elapsed since the event referred to—Ed.)

THE GOODCHILD FAMILY

There may be several cases of Father, Son and Grandson having attended the School in its various names between 1896 and 1973. We are only aware of one, consisting of Mr. E. Goodchild who attended S.S.S. from 1912-19, his son Mr. J. S. Goodchild who attended S.S.G.S. from 1945-49, and his son Master S. J. Goodchild who entered G.G.S. in 1970 and having 'done' three years hard, is now continuing his sentence in the Grange School.

We therefore asked these representatives of three generations of Goodchilds to contribute their comments and reminiscences, each on his own schooldays. Here they are, under the general title:

PAS A PAS ON VA TOUJOURS
Stockton Secondary School 1912-19
(E. Goodchild, B.A.)

Like my son after me, I attended Stockton Secondary School in the building in Nelson Terrace, and this covered the period of the First World War. In those days lighting on dark winter afternoons was provided by gas, and, although a somewhat gloomy atmosphere resulted, our spirits were far from being subdued. I can remember clearly, that in spite of limited facilities, owing to austere war conditions, the academic results at school were of a high standard. This was achieved in spite of a dedicated interest in sport by the pupils, and the usual schoolboy escapades, that occur in all generations. For example I recall a group of boys including myself playing truant one afternoon with the intention of visiting Hartlepool to see a crashed Zeppelin. Unfortunately this entailed transport by 'Shank's Pony', (no alternative) and we ran out of steam at Seaton Carew and suffered the consequences without achieving our objective. In my schooldays the ultimate qualifications were the Junior and Senior Oxford examinations and towards this goal we were ably led, coaxed or pushed by the following pillars of wisdom I remember: Mr. Prest, Mr. Ball, Mr. Baker, Mr. Eden, Mr. Dumble and others. This list is only a sample of the various teachers who had a great influence on my life and career, and must be responsible for the several generations of schoolboys who currently enjoy membership of the Old Stocktonians' Association.

Our sports grounds were always hired from other organisations and I recall walking to the Stockton Cricket ground in summer and a field in Oxbridge for soccer in the winter. (No oval ball for Spherical only).

My Grandson's success in the old 11+ examinations made me immensely proud of achieving a family continuity from 1912 to 1973 and it is with great regret I view the end of an era, and would like to express the hope that the new system will maintain the same high standards in academics and good citizenship.

Stockton Secondary Grammar School 1945-49
(J. S. Goodchild, London University Matriculation)

The Nelson Terrace building, that still stands today with a grim outside appearance reminiscent perhaps of Colditz, holds within its walls many happy personal memories of my schooldays.

The well worn concrete spiral staircase that never seemed to end, surrounded by the tiled walls, could conjure up thoughts of mediaeval castles and torture chambers but such visions in my case are far from the truth.

The society that flourished during my years at school was enriched with an abundance of interesting and, to say the least, eccentric personalities. The hierarchy of this establishment with their many odd personal characteristics made the chore of being taught mundane subjects extremely fascinating.

With great respect and a sincere admiration I will name a few who I believe have influenced my own personality and, no doubt, countless others, in a way which has benefited our working lives.

'Tot' Munday (hic, haec, hoc etc.), 'Tibby' Brooke (himself a Dickensian Character), 'Bull' Wright (the then junior English Master who introduced me to the Y.H.A. and sowed the seeds of my present love for the Lake District), 'Tashy' Lee (Stockton's answer to a 100% defection of Britain's nuclear physicists to Russia), 'Rats' Rattenbury (who could reduce a class to near hysteria with a well timed joke and regain control in a flash with one withering glance), 'Syd' Dumble ("Don't soccer it boy, pick it up and run") (Strange! He was sportsmaster in my Father's day and the school played soccer then.) 'Nobby' Morris (his cricket 1st XI post mortems on Monday mornings were an education in themselves).

It is not possible to mention everybody by name in a short article and, to be fair, among the pupils including myself, we had more than our share of shall we say, peculiarities.

I remember with nostalgia the treks to the playing fields in Fairfield on games afternoons which in those days seemed to be miles out of town but which today are gradually being swallowed up by spreading suburbia.

My one regret is that I never managed to attend school in the new premises. We were constantly told that the move would take place next year. My son currently attends and through him I have had the opportunity of visiting Grangefield and savouring the many facilities that are available for his use.

I am sad to see the closing of the school in its present form, but time marches on, and if the new comprehensive school can match the record of the old, nothing will be lost. After all, memories never die—Pas a Pas on va Bien Loin.

* * *

Grangefield Grammar School 1970-73

(S. J. Goodchild, 'O' levels hopeful)

Not for me the 'gloom' of The Nelson Terrace building, as it was for my father and grandfather. I arranged matters more efficiently, I was born at the right time! What better facilities could any schoolboy desire?

My graduation from an ancient village school to Grangefield and all it consists of was, to say the least, a happening.

The sports field, being adjacent to the school buildings, illustrates the progress that has been made over the three generations since the REAL 'Old Boys' were here. The present out of school activities, holidays etc., are much appreciated opportunities of which I am able to take advantage.

Unfortunately with the change in the education system and the re-naming of the school it will not be possible to follow father and grandfather as an Old Stocktonian. However, the coming of co-education provides compensations.

Vive la différence!

TOM SOWLER REMEMBERS . . .

Nineteen twenty-five was the year of the Railway Centenary and I had just joined the School at Nelson Terrace when that event occurred. The town was ablaze with decoration and bunting, trestle tables set up in the streets groaned with food, and the Centenary Cup was competed for for the first time. By November 11th of that year it was no longer possible to escape from reality, and as the Armistice Day Service was held in the Gymnasium, masters and boys sobbed openly, for so many there assembled had lost brothers and fathers in the Great War. This was the only day in the year when it was not considered unmanly for a boy to cry.

Things brightened up again for the School Speech Day held on a Friday evening in the Jubilee Hall. Parents packed the building and schoolboys were exhorted by Dr. Crockett not to come with 'dirrrrrty knees'. At that first Speech Day I remember so well the Headmaster announcing that the first load of bricks to build the new school had been tipped on the Grange Field. I went to look for them but they were not there. I attempted to tell the Head the bad news on the Monday morning as he came out from his study. He was leaning for support on Mercator's projection of the world after a sharp attack of lumbago. I was terrified for months afterwards at the enormity of his reaction.

I remember so well the thrill of the first realisation that there were girls on the other side of that wooden door in Room 14, thought I regret to say in those early days the door never opened to reveal the forbidden land.

In 1928, if my memory is correct, was the total eclipse of the sun, when the school arose about five in the morning to tramp into the countryside to observe that total eclipse. That afternoon was probably the only time ever that boys slept openly and undisturbed whilst others attempted to intone "Sum, es, est . . ." etc.

I came to know Mr. Baldwin well in this period, a respect and friendship which existed between us right until his death. . . I journeyed to local shops for boxes of apples and oranges, balloons and other goodies, and spent hours, with other willing schoolboy helpers filling bags for the Poor Children's Treats. Saturday morning was set aside for the blowing up of balloons. In the afternoon the Gym doors opened and the horde descended, the tables being cleared in ten minutes flat. Boys left with pockets lined with cakes to take to their sisters left behind at home.

Mr. Major was active in those days with one of his pet hobbies, the starting up of the Youth Hostels in the district. I worked the epidiascope for him on his many lectures, and boys from the school stuffed the paliasses with straw on the opening of the barn at Castleton as a hostel.

In many ways, we, the boys, were a deprived community for many of our fathers were out of work. Many a contemporary has reason to be thankful to the Mayor's Boot Fund for the fact that he arrived at the School dry shod. I do not wish to convey the impression, however, that we were unhappy, we were not, for G. G. Armstrong ran his Literary and Historical Society, the 'Lit & Hist' on Friday evenings, and kept many of us off the streets, happily arguing and declaring 'That this House . . .' We owe thanks to the same G.G. for his trips to the Roman Wall, and later to G.G. and Mr. Munday for a wonderful and unforgettable visit to the Rhineland. Who can ever forget that night in Cologne when the police turned out to quell a Nazi rally, in the days before Adolph Hitler became infamous?

In 1931 there arrived at the School a young man, a master who was prepared to turn out in strip with the Sixth Form to do battle on the Rugby field—an unheard of proceeding in those far off days. Oh the delight to bring down a master in the mud, and the humiliation when the process was reversed. Gordon Rattenbury would not dare to do that to me now, forty years on, for be it known my grandson is one month older than his and so I have the edge.

I can never in a few short paragraphs, do justice to the years 1925-1932. I can say, though, in all sincerity, on behalf of all my contemporaries, "Thanks for the memories."

TRANSITION

'Come, see where golden-hearted Spring' stirred the paper petals of the daffodils which economically decorated the Co-operative Hall. On the stage where Saturday night dance bands played, was assembled that grey afternoon as backcloth for guests of honour, the entire School staff, no longer crow-black, but presenting to the delight and amazement of junior boys the bright hues of divers degrees from distant Universities . . .

The day had begun like all school days; Assembly under the watchful eyes of prefects; "the first two and last two verses" of some familiar hymn; the ascent of many flights of stairs under that same watchful gaze; the lessons in rooms that could only have been classrooms (locks on desks to guard against the attentions of night school students—vain hope! Where did all those locksmiths find employment?) Recreation next, when the fleetest of foot stood a fair chance of not being incarcerated in toilets, ten to a cell, by the ogres of the fourth form—duration vile indeed! But a worse fate awaited those condemned to the Greasy Pole in the cycle shed! Here some puny wretch might pass his break time, impaled, as it were, on that green iron post whose glass-like patina, rendered slipper still by great gobs of spittle, afforded little purchase to the victim's hands. How glad was the sound of the bell announcing more lessons to many an ear! Then, when the last bell of the morning rang, that daily avalanche of boys rushed helter-skelter to meet whatever the fates and DCEC's containers had in store. This Gadarene rush was prompted by an overwhelming desire to join First Sitting. Food was gulped down in the gloomy confines of a chapel crypt; for those in Second Sitting, the penalties were severe; the sight of the dread Remains, cold Gravy traps for the elbows of the unwary; the containers, which somehow were now smothered in custard, to be lugged up Alpine back stairs; tables and benches to be folded and stacked away. Meanwhile the First Sitters visited the streets and shops of Stockton—a much bigger and more interesting place in those days.

But this was Speech Day, and the ritual announcement of the impending change to the New School was being made to a disbelieving audience. Already older than most of the pupils, this Promised Land was pointed out to new boys on their weekly double-decked journey to 'Ropner Playing Fieds'—sunlight reflecting from the odd unbroken pane, set amidst green fields—most un-school-like to an inmate of the Nelson Terrace establishment, and soon forgotten, as soccer-minded boys tried to learn that Nobler Code, playing rigger on the Grammar School football pitches; while those who were longer of beard and leg struggled up, or swooped down, the declivities of the rugby pitches over the hedge. Saturday morning matches amply demonstrated the British love of sport and (perhaps) cleanliness, as water heated in dustbins on Primus Stoves was decanted into a tin bath for the use of All; First Sitting being the privilege of visitors, far too often cheered by Victory; although once (as I remember) the 1st XV drew their match; a notable achievement.

Yet this great transfer did take place, not without regret for old freedoms lost. Our perambulations were now horizontal instead of vertical; feet shod in gym shoes squeaked down long polished corridors; bright paint smote the unaccustomed eye and assailed the nostril; all was new; old pupils were new boys again. But the early discomfort soon wore off (except in gym and games lessons, which now seemed much more frequent and energy consuming) all was ameliorated by improved environment; school uniform blossomed; lunch, cooked on the premises, now became a comparatively civilised affair; the 1st XV flourished amain. 'Bliss was it that day to be alive', as an underprivileged junior might have put it.

REMINISCENCES OF A SUPERANNUATED FROG

I have never, to my knowledge, actually had the traditional French teacher's nick-name applied to me—I presume because there was a more obvious one handy!

When I joined the Staff of Stockton Secondary School in September 1931 at the age of 21, I was ten years younger than the next youngest member of the Staff. The Senior Master was W. R. Ball, who had been on the Staff since 1896 when the school opened, and retired in 1935. So W. R. Ball, 1896-1935, and J. G. Rattenbury, 1931-73, span the whole existence of the School between them.

I find, by research into the Staff Registers, that I was not the longest serving member of the Staff. Three of us, Henry Nicholson, 1905-47, Sidney Dumble, 1911-53, and myself served 42 years. But Sid Dumble actually joined the Staff in January 1911, which gives him a few months more than the other two.

The Staff, from 1931-1945, was extremely stable. Besides Ball, it consisted of W. Baker, who retired in 1942, H. Nicholson (retired 1947), C. W. King (died 1946), S. Dumble (retired 1953), A. Bremner (retired 1948), L. W. Rhys (retired 1953), G. Kay (retired 1951), G. G. Armstrong (died 1948), F. Manners (retired 1949), T. B. Brooke (retired 1952), R. F. Laverick (retired 1952), W. H. Munday (retired 1961), K. L. G. Hart (left 1948), H. Watson (retired 1939), S. V. Morris (retired 1958). Mr. Morris came a term after me, in January 1932, but except for Evan Baldwin who left in December 1931, and 'Billy' Ball, the only members to leave between 1931 and 1939 were on the Maths Staff. J. W. Major left in 1932; R. S. Nicholls succeeded him and left in 1937; A. Barraclough was with us 1935-38. Then 'Ted' Stone (1937-50) and 'Harry' Mann (1938-46) stayed till after the War. Dr. Kinnes also retired in 1953, so that the years 1946-53 saw the departure of 14 of the 19 members of the 1939 Staff, the exceptions being Messrs. Watson and Baker who retired earlier, and the three survivors—or fossils as we were sometimes cruelly called—Messrs. Munday, Morris and Rattenbury.

We survived indeed into a new age, for these seven years included that of our removal from Nelson Terrace to Oxbridge Avenue.

I spent 20 years at Nelson Terrace, 22 at Oxbridge Avenue. 1931-51 were the years of Depression, War and Austerity, 1951-73 the years of growing Affluence and Inflation. These generalities affected the life of the School as it changed.

The unemployment of the thirties affected even the 'select' of the Secondary School. Some, the poorer, and they were a larger proportion of the school in those days, showed it in their clothing, and standards of food and health were lower than now. The building with its steep stairs, its rattling partitions and windows, its surroundings of smoky chimneys, the traffic clattering past on the cobbles of Nelson Terrace, its dark low-ceilinged little staffroom, seems to me now in memory like a slum, though it counted as being very up-to-date in 1896, I was told. I hope to be there to see it demolished in due course, for it must be stronger than the Cleveland Flour Mill by Victoria Bridge, and it will provide the demolition men with a bigger problem than the Great Pyramid of Egypt!

The biggest contrast with the new building is the still rural surroundings at Grangefield. From Nelson Terrace it was a two mile bus ride to the playing fields, and buses were available only once a week for most individuals. For Saturday matches, you had to go there by bike, or walk from the bus terminus and back to it after the match. Grangefield was and is surrounded by fields—the playing field is on the spot and available to all every day, and there is decent changing and washing accommodation. The surrounding fields are now all school or college playing fields whereas in the fifties it was truly rural and a hare was occasionally seen racing across our field.

The new building too was more pleasant, and its facilities much better. So that the 'non-academic' side of the school's life expanded and flourished, with great variety and changes of fashion. Valiant efforts had been made at Nelson Terrace—with Music, with the 'Lit and Hist' as the Debating Society was then called, and with some less long-lived clubs and societies. But 'Night-classes' occupied the building so that evening activities were in any case always impossible.

Reminiscences of a long period of time always go back to the earlier parts, for it is of no use describing present conditions which everyone can see. Thus it is no use remarking that Masters nowadays expect to have cars. For most of the thirties there was, I believe, only one member of Staff who possessed a car.

One could go on indefinitely, but the bell has gone—I'll stop!

I feel I have been very lucky in my colleagues both at the Old and the New School. Likewise the Boys of all generations, 1931-73, you were of course 'selected'. which puts me among the Lucky Ones! Thank you all.

STAFF NOTES

Of the thirty-seven members of Staff in September 1972, three have retired, eleven have gone to the Sixth Form College, seven have joined the Staff of the Grange School, five have been appointed to other Secondary Schools in Stockton, two to other Secondary Schools and one to a Technical College in Teesside. Six have left the district for teaching appointments in other parts of the country, one has returned to University for a training course, and one has left teaching altogether for an industrial post. Details are given below.

Our two Secretaries Mrs. Judith Black and Mrs. Jean Graham have been appointed to the Sixth Form College. Our excellent caretaker Mr. Alf Perry is still to be in charge of the same building now renamed The Grange School.

Wedding bells have rung in 1973 for four members of Staff. The Staff have already given expression to their good wishes, which we here repeat in print. Ray Brearley, Val Covell, Doug Agar and Andy Dillon, may you have long and happy marriages, and only little troubles.

We look back on the final year at Grangefield with mixed feelings. The Autumn Term was one of mounting frustration, partly arising from the long delays in making any appointments at all for the new set-up, partly from the mis-called 'industrial' dispute in Teesside which threatened further delays. The New Year brought at least a temporary solution to the dispute, and rapid progress with appointments. This produced of course some severe disappointments, but in most cases those concerned showed sufficient strength of character to buckle down to their new jobs regardless. For several months the majority of members of staff were indeed doing two jobs. To their regular teaching, preparation, marking etc., was added a considerable load of preparing for the new schools, involving requisitioning, staff meetings, meetings for parents and boys, and closing down and splitting up the stock of the Grangefield School.

It is a very great tribute to the Boys and Staff of the School that the School continued to function and behave creditably to the end. We are told by those who have been through similar experiences in other places that a kind of disintegration was evident months before the end that did not appear here. We would like to record however, that in the last few days of the school there were one or two good humoured and high-spirited episodes which reflected well on the continuing ingenuity of the species 'Homo Adolescens Grangefieldensis'.

A farewell Staff Dinner was held at the Swallow Hotel on Thursday 12th July. Besides members of the present staff, we were delighted to welcome several ex-members, Messrs. W. H. Munday, G. G. Lee, E. V. Cable, T. H. Dennis, D. Hughes, C. Bell, B. P. Brand, J. Green, J. R. Walton.

Towards the end of the summer term we were very glad to have a visit from Mr. R. Boyd (1953-66), and on the very last day of term from Mr. J. E. (Ted) Stone (1937-50).

Of those retiring special mention should be made here of Mr. R. A. (Bob) Taylor. Handicraft teachers are an independent breed even if they don't rule over a separate building with its separate problems; and then Bob comes from the West Riding. So if you wanted an independent standpoint and original comment, you could never do better than to go to him. He was always a most conscientious and hard working teacher who instilled in many pupils his own high standards of thoroughness and skill. A real character and a most likeable character. We wish him all the best in his retirement.

OPEN AWARD

We are pleased to record that in January 1973, Alan Turner was awarded an Open Exhibition in Chemistry at the Queen's College, Oxford, thus exactly matching his brother Brian's achievement in 1966.

We would in particular like to congratulate Mr. J. J. Durrant on this achievement. As under the new system members of Staff have to do all their teaching either with Sixth Formers or with those aged 11 to 16, and as Mr. Durrant is now appointed to the Grange School, he will no longer have the opportunity to use his great skill and experience in Sixth Form teaching at all.

SPECIAL PRIZES

The C. W. King, G. G. Armstrong and J. D. Smith Memorial Prizes are to be awarded annually to pupils of the Grange School.

The Evan Baldwin Memorial Award for Cricket is to go each year to a Student of the Sixth Form College.

In the final year of Grangefield G.S., awards were made as follows:

OLD BOYS RUGBY

It was with some nostalgia but great pleasure, to all who were present, that the 1973 Easter gathering was arranged for what could have been possibly the last occasion. Thursday the 12th April then will go down as the most successful Old Boys Rugby match and re-union for many years, sheer weight of numbers amply supports this. We were very pleased to welcome thirty, or was it thirty one, active old boys to play matches against both the school senior sides. This turn out, most creditable in many ways as fifteen has often been a struggle, was to be bettered later in the evening by ninety plus revellers who in spirit and song toasted 'The Last Supper' at the Oxbridge Hotel. The attendance alone was sufficient to guarantee a very successful evening's entertainment, the calibre of the 'entertainers' only adding to it. We hope this is a sign of things to come.

The rugby proved a fine aperitif and excuse to 'work up a thirst' for many on a very warm afternoon. Pride of place must go to the Older Boys, who with an uncanny blend of team work and individual brilliance proved to be by far the best organised team on view. It is with great regret that their fixture list was already drawn up for the '73/74 season as I'm sure we would very much like to have accepted both the Japanese and Fijian offers of fixtures on their tours this season.

The 'senior squad' probably the strongest a school 1st XV have had to face for the last decade proved too powerful and came out winners by 36 pts to 12, over a school team containing six county players.

It is often said but never more sincerely that the school teams performed admirably especially the 2nd XV to whom this was a completely new venture. Mention must also be made of David Lee, a fourth former, who made his 1st XV debut against John Moore and co. David survived but I'm afraid John didn't!

THE TEAMS

School 1st XV: Reed, Murray, Buckle, Fawcett, Andrews, Kreczak, Armstrong, Willetts, Miller, Edmondson, Hood, Lee, Marley, Wild, Wilkinson.

School 2nd XV: Owen, Knott, Appleton, Bister, Ross, Brooks, Beadle, Stubbs, Bulmer, Thorburn, King, Horner, Kirkwood, Evans, Kitching.

Old Boys: Chesser, Makin, Douglas, Roberts, Gibbons, Crossley, Dodgson, Wilson, Waller, Thompson, Porter, Robson, Winter Moore, Muirhead.

Older Boys: Jackson, Brownlee, Atkinson, Rayner, Fox, Brand, Phillips, Rayner, Outhwaite, Barker and Oliver, Greenhalgh, Kennedy, Kiddle, Green, Agar.

RESULTS: Old Boys 36: T. Gibbons 2, Porter, Robson, Douglas, Dodgson, Chesser, Waller + 2C. First XV 12. H.T. 14-3.

Older Boys 28: T. Rayner, Kiddle, Green, Atkinson, Agar, C. Rayner, Brand, Greenhalgh, Atkinson. Second XV 4. H.T. 22-0.

Many thanks to two very capable referees Robin Pledger and Selwyn Morgan.

THE 1974 SCENE

As you will have gathered from other pages in this Year Book moves are afoot to link the Old Stocktonians' Association with the new Stockton Sixth Form College. We therefore intend to seek sporting fixtures against the College this season (1973-74).

A new fixture will be an annual soccer match. This game is played with a round ball which can be kicked or headed but not handled.

Selecting Old Boys' Teams is never an easy task, and I should be very grateful if players wishing to be considered for the Rugby (only one team) or Soccer Teams would write to me, stating their availability and preferred position—this includes local players!

A social will again be arranged following the games, both on the same day at Easter. Verbal and written requests for tickets would greatly assist in its organisation.

The name address and telephone number are:

Graham Rayner, 8 Ingleby Grove, Hartburn, Stockton-on-Tees, Teesside. Tel. Stockton 580772.

RUGBY, 1st XV, 1972-73

With 13 wins, 7 defeats and 1 draw in its record, this, the last Grange-field Grammar School First Team cannot claim to be the most successful team in the School's history. Yet we have very happy memories of the season—a period of unbeatable form over Christmas, and a final highly successful visit to Doncaster in which although defeated in a high-scoring match the team won high praise for its brilliant and aggressive play.

The First Team regulars were: Kreczak (capt.), Armstrong, Murray, Buckle, Ross, Willetts, Edmondson, Wilkinson, Reed, Gardner, Hood, Wild, Marley, Miller, Andrews, Summersgill. Top points scorer was Buckle who combined kicking with centre threequarter skills; while Murray emerged as top try scorer with 100 points.

Eight of our team played for the County: Kreczak, Armstrong, Murray, Miller, Edmondson, Wild, Willetts and Hood.

The team thanks Mr. Hudson for making this last year at Grange-field so enjoyable. Some members will be going with him to the Sixth Form College and all wish him success there next year.

UNDER 14 RUGBY, 1972-73

The Under 14 rugby team had a very disappointing season winning only four times. This was mainly because of large opposition and the fact that our team is not very large. We hope to improve on our performance next year. Our thanks to Mr. Russell for training us over the past two years.

SCHOOL 1st TEAM CRICKET

This season was not notable for victories but was a success as it gave a lot of pleasure to all the players concerned. For all the matches a great proportion of the players came from the lower forms which in no way reflected on their ability. Although it would be easy to single out individual players for their fine performances, no one player can be greater than the team.

The first match of the season was against the old rivals Stockton Grammar. Stockton batted first and could only make 23 all out, being 9 wickets down for only 6 runs at one point. The school had no difficulty in exceeding this total for the loss of no wickets. Evans making 18.

By far the closest match of the year was against Hatfield College. Hatfield batted well and reached the formidable total of 146. Brookes took 4 wickets for 56. In reply the school could only make 143 losing the last 2 wickets for the addition of no runs in a final attempt in the last over. Richards made 47, P. Thomas made 33 and Rennolds made 21 not out.

Regular players were: Armstrong, Evans (M), Brookes, Richards, Thomas (P), Thomas (C), Rennolds, Whinham, Thorburn, Knott, Wilkins, and Owen.

The team thanks Mr. Hudson for the organisation, and Mr. Thurl for giving up his time to umpire on many occasions.

SCHOOL v. STAFF CRICKET MATCH

On July 18th a much weakened school team took on the power, skill and finesse of the staffroom eleven.

The school got off to a slow start mainly owing to the pace bowling of Mr. Watton and the accuracy of Mr. Whelpton. What the staff fielders lacked in speed and agility they made up for in sheer numbers. The first two wickets fell with only six runs on the board but then Armstrong and Thomas pushed the score along to 62. The final score was 65, Armstrong falling to the staff's star bowler Mr. Fox.

In reply the staff were soon struggling, losing the amazed Mr. Watton with no runs on the board whatsoever. The school continued to bowl well with all the wickets hotly disputed and the staff slumped to 5 for 5. It was now that Messrs. Gaunt and Junemann came together at the wicket but unfortunately Mr. Gaunt was caught by Evans off the bowling of Rennolds. Mr. Junemann continued to show his skill, though before long he fell to the tantalising spin of Armstrong. Unfortunately, time ran out and the result was yet another draw, but without doubt a moral victory to the school. The staff final total was 28 for 7.

BASKETBALL 1972-73

The school 1st team had another outstanding season playing fast and skilful basketball. They were unlucky to lose in the semi-final of the Hylton Red House tournament and were unbeaten playing friendlies against other schools in the area. The squad consisted of Hood, who captained the side, Kreczak, Simpson, W., Wild, Beadle, Routledge, Knott and Scott.

In the Teesside League the Old Boys 1st team started very badly but quickly picked up to finish second in the league and would have been promoted but the club is disbanding this year. The squad consisted of Rayner, Routledge, Turnbull, Makin, Beadle, P. Jackson.

The second team had a poor season but picked up towards the end of the season. This squad consisted of Knott (capt.), Still, Green, Scott, M. Simpson, Wild.

The top scorers for the first team were: Rayner 259 pts, Turnbull 96, Routledge 78.

The top scorers for the second team were: Knott 70 pts. Scott 53, M. Simpson 34.

The results of the 1st team were:

Played: 12; Won: 7; Lost: 5.

The results of the 2nd team were:

Played: 15; Won: 3; Lost: 12.

UNDER 15 BASKETBALL

This year's U15 team had a good season winning 7 out of 8 games. In most of the games the basketball was good but in some games the basketball wasn't up to the standard that it should have been. This is shown by the results.

THE LITERARY AND DEBATING SOCIETY

The Literary and Debating Society had a successful year, on both domestic and public fronts, under the chairmanship of Mr. Bingham. The topics submitted for the House's scrutiny included the political ('This house believes that dictatorship is better than democracy'), some 'hardy annuals' ('This house would abolish bloodsports') and some of a less serious nature ('This house would not eat meat'). All these motions were debated with enthusiasm, and often with an expertise, which shows that the art of oratory is alive, well and living in Teesside!

Once again the Society entered a team in the John Spark Debating Competition and its efforts were crowned with success in Stockton Town Hall when Acklam High School were defeated in a closely argued debate on the subject of nuclear disarmament. Thanks are due to all who were in any way involved, those who burned the midnight oil writing speeches, Mr. Bingham for help and encouragement, and Mrs. Rattenbury and the United Nations Association for making the contest possible.

The interest shown in the Society by the younger forms, noted in these pages last year, has been continued this session. With the passing of Grangefield Grammar it is to be hoped that they will carry the torch to the Sixth Form College.

CHESS

This year has been a mixture of success and disappointment for school teams. In the Teesside League, the senior trophy was retained with 4 wins and 2 draws in 6 matches. The junior team won 7 of its 8 matches, losing only to Prior Pursglove College, who thus deprived them of the trophy won last year.

In the Sunday Times National Competition the junior team did very well to reach the final of their zone by defeating four other schools before going down 2-4 to Royal Grammar School, Newcastle, a much older and more experienced team. The senior team went out in Round 3 to Scarborough High School, losing 1½-4½.

Dunelm were inter-house champions for the third successive year. Oxbridge just pipped Cleveland for second place, with Tees last.

Congratulations to M. Evans senior school champions for the third year running, and to D. Richmond, junior school champion.

M. Evans and B. Howard have achieved great success both for the school and Stockton town teams this season. On the junior side S. Lambert and W. Grant have made rapid improvement at Middlesbrough Chess Club, while junior champion D. Richmond shows much promise. All five are capable of achieving County representative honours in the next few years, and I wish them well in their chess careers.

William Thurl

We would add to the above our warmest congratulations to David Richmond on his success in the Teesside Tournament, held at Thornaby Pavilion in July. In this he won the junior section of the National Chess Championship, coming undefeated through the competition.

YOUTH HOSTELLING

In the winter term, a walk in a brisk breeze along the cliffs from Whitby to Boggle Hole provided some magnificent cliff scenery. At high tide it is not usually possible to reach the hostel by the shore, but it was comfortably managed by us from Robin Hood's Bay.

Sunday provided a rather undistinguished walk inland back to Whitby.

In March, on possibly the finest weekend of the winter, we walked the 16 miles from Richmond to Aysgarth Falls. Unfortunately, red flags on the moors confined us to the lesser roads. However, we were fortunate to see a family engaged in sheep-dipping. The last four miles from Redmire along the river was full of contrast, falls, deep pools and running water. The variety of wild life was indicated by the corpses of a large pike and a heron on the bank.

Sunday provided a more suitable ramble over tracks along the opposite side of the valley to Wensley and Leyburn, with fine views from the high track.

A hot humid day, on the Friday of half-term last, tired most of us in a relatively short walk up Swaledale from Richmond to Grinton Lodge. It was paths and tracks most of the way; the later part along the river provided a welcome cooling paddle.

A cautionary episode was provided by a farmer's wife, who, on hearing a whistle, rushed out mistakenly thinking we were going through the nearby field housing a bull of unknown temperament.

We returned in time for an hour or two in Richmond on Saturday inspecting an active fair—but it was apparently too early in the day!

The last trip was to Westerdale, as was our very first. And it was even more wet! It provided a good exercise in path(?) finding over moors. The last stage was through bracken five feet or more high. Perhaps there had to be one soaking in three years! Adverse weather again on the Saturday meant an early return.

THE JUNIOR FILM SOCIETY

The Junior Film Society was a lunchtime venture run by Mr. Junemann and Mr. Whelpton and met every fortnight during the Spring and Summer terms. Many good documentary films are available on free loan from various industrial companies and other organisations and a wide and interesting selection was shown to regular audiences of up to one hundred boys. Films shown included Louisiana Story by the pioneer American documentary film-maker, Robert Flaherty, and also the award-winning Giuseppina and After the Arrow. At the Society's final meeting a selection of entertainment films, including Eric Sykes' The Plank, was seen and enjoyed by a large audience of boys and staff.

STOCKTON JOINT SCHOOLS CHRISTIAN EDUCATION MOVEMENT

The C.E.M. has existed for a number of years. During this last year the support for the society has increased tremendously. More people have been coming to the meetings and those who have come have been more inclined to join in the discussion and questioning sessions. Meetings have varied from 'The N.S.P.C.C.' to 'Yoga' and from 'Immigration' to 'Abortions'.

At Christmas the C.E.M. organised a party for forty children from the Tilery Junior School. It is hard to say who enjoyed the party more—the children or the helpers. This was an expensive event to organise but the expense was felt to be worthwhile when it could be seen how happy the party had made the children.

The management committee of the C.E.M. was chaired by Mr. Watton, its secretary was Mr. Smith and its treasurer was Mr. Mannings. The other participating schools (all of whom were represented on the committee) were Richard Hind Secondary School, Stockton Grammar School and Grangefield Grammar School for Girls.

GRANGEFIELD CHARITIES COMMITTEE

The activities of the Grangefield Charities Committee, run by its founder members, had to be concluded in April because of impending 'A' level examinations. During this final year we have raised money for the Save the Children Fund by carol singing and organising two coffee evenings.

At Christmas everybody was once again in fine voice, and given a great deal of good weather we raised £53 by carol singing. The first of the coffee evenings was held in October. Its main objective was to sell Save the Children Fund Christmas cards. Over £120 was taken. The second coffee evening was of the more usual type. There were many stalls, a Tins and Bottles Stall, a Tombola Stall, a Cake Stall, a White Elephant Stall, a games stall and a Save the Children Stall. Over £100 was raised.

Coffee evenings had never been held in the school until the Committee was formed. It has been found that they were welcomed by all, providing enjoyment for both those who came and those who helped, whilst helping to raise large sums of money for charity.

During the last three years £2,090-03½ has passed through the bank account of the Committee. Many Charities have been helped, including the Save the Children Fund, the Samaritans, Shelter, Oxfam and Joe Homan's Boys' Town. The Committee introduced the school to charity walks, coffee evenings and harvest festivals, all of which had never been held in the school before.

The Committee would like to thank everyone who made this possible. The boys in the school who have suffered with blisters whilst joining in on charity walks or in carol singing, and who have always been willing to volunteer to help. The people who delved into their pockets to make the donations (usually the parents). The members of staff who would always volunteer. Special thanks must go to Mr. Brearley who printed so many tickets free of charge. The school secretaries must also be thanked for the marvellous work they have done in helping the Committee.

The pupil part of the Committee would like to extend their sincerest thanks to Mr. Watton for his guidance as Chairman of the Committee. The remainder of the Committee consisted of Mr. Smith as Secretary and Messrs. Booth, Mannings and Storr.

The Committee wishes the best of luck to all those who in future organise charitable events either at the Grangefield Comprehensive or at the Sixth Form College.

MUSIC NOTES

The year has seen a further satisfactory development in the scope and level of musicmaking in the school. It is pleasant to reflect on the current situation before the wind of change blows down the corridors of power.

There are over eighty boys engaged in various kinds of musical activity. It is becoming quite common for boys to show quite a high level of attainment in several instruments.

A new feature has been the willingness to help in the training of beginners by the more experienced players. Mention too must be made of the work of Brian Evans as accompanist both for the choir and the Associated Board examinations.

Mr. Tiesing has again performed yeoman service in training the broken voices of the choir and continues to teach the cello. His many services to the music of the school are hard to estimate, not least his willingness to grasp the baton in times of emergency.

The various visiting teachers continue to exercise an influence out of all proportion with their small weekly stay with us. It is with regret that one records the death of our brass teacher Mr. J. Patterson, after a long and painful illness. During the six years he visited us, his rugged enthusiasm infected many boys and he in turn gained great satisfaction from a job well done.

The most prominent activity continues to be the orchestra which distinguished itself by winning the Stockton Music Festival. With re-organisation we are losing members rather more heavily than is usual at this time but hope to have sufficient fuel in the tank to continue adequately. Of those departing perhaps special mention should be made of Alex Harper who more than made up for a late start in music and whose stately (though reduced) presence will be missed.

Our usual run of events included the carol service, held in the Parish Church. The choir performed with grace and precision and we were fortunate again to press Mr. Pratt (music organiser of Darlington) as our organist. The subsequent carol party was its usual success.

Our Easter concert took place on two nights and performed to packed houses. Many felt that this was our finest hour and certainly, the collection realised £61, our finest collection. For the first time we thought it worthwhile to have a record cut of the better performances.

The choir continues to function with a zest which culminated in an enthusiastic performance of the Sanctus from Bach's B minor Mass, the most complex work tackled so far.

The choral group has performed twice in assembly and on the concert. Mr. Bell is responsible for its existence and continues to be responsible for the bulk of the woodwind tuition in the school. Mr. Henderson, who teaches the flute, is another enthusiast. His attention to ensemble work and never ending repair service are alike invaluable.

Mr. Stirling is our new brass instructor who has already shown his metal. We have also been fortunate in acquiring the services of Miss M. Eglington for violin tuition.

These notes mark the end of one tradition and the beginning of a new. We are to join the ladies and one awaits the display of their many talents with eager anticipation.

ASSOCIATED BOARD EXAMINATIONS

Since Associated Board examinations were taken as a regular feature of music making, 491 candidates were entered in a wide variety of instrumental examinations and in the theory of music. Of these 470 were successful. We have been fortunate in having the services of skilled and experienced musicians who have generally expressed high satisfaction at the standard shown. The most recent results show a pleasing trend:
