Ladies and Gentlemen,

A really good North Country comedy is the selection for the week of October 9th. Just the sort of laughter-maker that you love.

Charles Schofield, widower for 12 months, finds relief from the tyranny of married life. There is only one "fly in the ointment"—the daily help.

His friend advises him to get a housekeeper, he does so, but finds himself out of the frying pan into the fire. The new housekeeper has him thoroughly cowed.

The friend, once more to his rescue, suggests that if he were to marry again, his new wife could then get rid of the dominating housekeeper.

Although once bitten—Schofield falls—or does he? With the arrival of his sister Lucy Jane the situation is uproariously funny. You really must see "ONCE BITTEN TWICE SHY".

The author is Armitage Owen, whose "Sarah Ann Holds Fast" proved such a huge success when my company played it at Stockton two years ago.

With compliments,
Yours sincerely,
